

THE INCREDIBLE HOAX

STEALING YOU BLIND

It's in the book THE INCREDIBLE HOAX

THE NATURE OF THE BEAST

"666" AND ALL THAT MADNESS, MAN AND MONEY

By

FRED KIRKMAN

A Fascinating Alternate Look at History

CREATIVE FRAUD I

Crown or Credit?

CREATIVE FRAUD I is written as revisionist history of monetary economics. It destroys many myths and sacred cows, and it reveals the missing dimensions that should be known about the anti-Constitutional and unconstitutional nature of contemporary practices including the deliberate causing of debt, inflation and taxes. It lets you discover the secret connections and manipulations by governments and banks, which, if you tried to get away with, would land you in jail for CONSPIRACY, USURY, COUNTERFEITING AND FRAUD.

CREATIVE FRAUD reveals what Congressmen in the U.S.A. and Members of Parliament in Canada will not nor dare tell about the incredible hoax they indulge that steals us blind.

CREATIVE FRAUD is the history of money that is not taught in schools or university. It deals with the destabilization of world affairs from the "Illuminati" of yore to the 'Corporate world federalists' of today.

The banking system is legalized crime. It encompasses the creation of money out of thin air and the abuse of credit by the private Federal Reserve Corporation Banks; THE 'EURO' AND VARIOUS NATIONAL OR CHARTERED BANKS. The fractional reserve system is the art or faculty of Creative Fraud.

CREATIVE FRAUD II

"THE INCREDIBLE HOAX"

CREATIVE FRAUD II is a lighthearted, lucid, cynical and sardonic evaluation of our monetary system, economic order and civilization in relation to the nature of man.

It is written, with tongue in cheek, and presented in conversational, first-person prose, by me, Horus, the Master Conniver of the private ownership system of political monetary economics.

CREATIVE FRAUD II drives home the lesson that the public is exploited, manipulated, and controlled for and by a handful of people, who have assumed command and put in place regulatory structures that are designed to perpetuate serfdom and poverty as suppressive measures.

CREATIVE FRAUD III

THE MARCH OF CRIMES

"OUR CRIMINAL CIVILIZATION"

IS AN INSIDE LOOK, AND OVERVIEW EXAMINATION OF OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM AND CIVILIZATION, AS EPITOMIZED BY THE STRUCTURE IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AS THE DIE AND CAST OF WORLDWIDE DESTABILIZATION AND DEMOCRATIC CONSTITUTIONAL DESTRUCTION.

CREATIVE FRAUD III draws attention to the difference between money being used as it is now - as a commodity of debt, and as it should be used - as a medium of distribution. It also previews how it can be achieved in the new Millennium.

Contents of Creative Fraud I

Crown or Credit

PREAMBLE

ANNOUNCEMENT

FOREWORD

INTRODUCTION

DEFINITIONS

Chapter 1	EARLY HISTORY OF THE MONEY LENDERS
Chapter 2	HOLES IN THE SYSTEM ARE ESCAPE HATCHES
Chapter 3	NAME OF THE GAME "ILLUMINATI" IMF STYLE
Chapter 4	THE DIE IS CAST
Chapter 5	THE TRIAL BALLOON
Chapter 6	THE CUNNING PLAN FOR THE MERCHANT'S BANKS
Chapter 7	THE BEGINNING OF CREATIVE FRAUD
Chapter 8	REPUDIATION
Chapter 9	MOTHER SHIPTON'S POEM
Chapter 10	THE MOLD IS Poured
Chapter 11	A NEW WORLD TO STEAL (PART 1)
Chapter 12	A NEW WORLD TO STEAL (PART 2)
Chapter 13	A NEW WORLD TO STEAL (PART 3)
Chapter 14	PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (PART 1)
Chapter 15	PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (PART 2)
Chapter 16	PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (PART 3)
Chapter 17	THE CHASE CONNECTION (PART 1)
Chapter 18	THE CHASE CONNECTION (PART 2)
Chapter 19	THE CHASE CONNECTION (PART 3)
Chapter 20	CRIME DOES PAY (PART 1)
Chapter 21	CRIME DOES PAY (PART 2)
Chapter 22	BACKGROUND INFORMATION
Chapter 23	INCEST
Chapter 24	CRISIS CANADA
Chapter 25	THE BANKERS' CREED
Chapter 26	RANDOM THOUGHTS
Chapter 27	MORE THOUGHTS
Chapter 28	SOLUTION
Chapter 29	WATCH OUT!
Chapter 30	NEED MORE BE SAID?

PREAMBLE

THERE IS CONFUSION IN THE GENERAL POPULATION WHEN IT COMES TO THE •MEANING" AND ROLE OF THE "CROWN".

THERE ARE, IN FACT, TWO "CROWNS" EACH IS DIFFERENT

1. THE HEREDITARY, MONARCHIAL CROWN OF REPRESENTATIVE, SOVEREIGN SUPREMACY.
2. THE USURPED, CORPORATE CROWN OF "LAW," and "CREDIT AND DEBT" MONETARY ECONOMICS

Also, there is a chasm and schism between Constitutional Sovereign Monetary Economics and Statutory Political Monetary Economics.

"Nationalomics" and "Prospemomics" versus "Bankonomics" and "Debtonomics"

The MONARCHIAL CROWN is the symbol of Common Law, Constitutional, Peoples' democratic power, Guarantee of freedom, liberty and "Justice before the Law:" Control over monetary economics assuring debt-free sufficiency, fair trade, fair value and sovereign integrity.

The CORPORATE CROWN is the usurped badge of purloined authority by private, corporate domination, purporting to represent control by government substituting for, and setting aside but not displacing, the Constitutional supremacy of the Monarchial Crown. The Corporate Crown is used to impose "legalized," ultra-licitum debt, fraud and hoax; admit foreign, private, corporate commercial "Law," to take precedence and profits, over Common Law and "Justice;" and by-pass sovereign integrity in matters of political monetary economics and trade.

The Corporate Crown prevails, but only the Monarchial Crown (The People) preserves Canada from conquest and sell-out.

The Pretender Corporate Crown cannot prevail at law against the Constitutional Monarchial Crown.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

ANNOUNCEMENT

Because the few other writers who had approached the same subject matter of this book had done so on an intellectual basis, without impact upon the general public, or had zeroed in on specific topics in the form of subjective magazine and newspaper articles, the author of Creative Fraud (1978) made no excuse or apology for the "soap box" style and the tenor of presentation.

The purpose of this publication is to drive home, to all levels of people, the fact that events simply do not happen by chance. They are the product of planning by a small group of elite and apathy on the part of the masses who are entrapped.

The intensity, with which the subject is presented, is a rare example of the findings and conclusions reached as the result of investigative reporting. If the research materials were to be put forward in support of each statement and conclusion as they appear, this volume would be twenty-times greater and be top-heavy with stodgy references, quotations, extracts, names, dates and documentation. As it is, the essence is given in digest form allowing the reader to get the feeling and excitement of the race without the tedium, training and stable work that precedes and supports horse and jockey.

CREATIVE FRAUD is the most dramatic "How To" book ever issued because it exposes the formula and mechanics of the greatest 'legalized' con game in the world - how a handful of private financiers and bankers, for their own gain, defraud the peoples of the world - and get away with it.

The alternate title "Crown or Credit?" is just as significant, though less sensational, as the struggle is between the supremacy of constitutional, national real worth versus private, corporate counterfeit currency and fictitious credit as the basis for money, political economics and international trade. Represented as "Crown or Credit" respectively.

When written (1978) CREATIVE FRAUD was declined for mainstream publication on the explanation, it was not 'politically correct.' In addition, publishing houses feared for their operating line of credit from their bank. It was self-printed. Almost 10,000 have been circulated. Political 'thinking' has been stimulated. It has become a model for subsequent authors to follow: Yet, it continues to suffer the "silent treatment" at the hands of the Establishment press, media and political puppets.

FOREWORD (1978)

Contemporary political monetary economics and corporate concomitance are an incestuous, co-copulating Establishment. The motives of persons in sensitive positions and high places are apostate in dutiful subservience to the Corporate Baron(s) of Wall Street.

Every deliberation, every action, every technique in use is one of sell-out, submission or compliance to the desires and dictates of the cabal that is the Stock Market, the I.M.M., the I.M.F. and the World Bank.

Destabilizing Energy, Fuel, Transportation, Livestock, Produce and Commodity pricing policies, Bank interest rates, Industrial and Commercial practices, Labor agitation, Unemployment, Economic performance and Cultural confrontations are all subtly implanted as the objects of purchased, manipulated statecraft. Malignancy is in the very core of leadership and spreads perdition outward to the edges of society.

Priorities are inverted, Integrity is perverted and beneficence towards the people is discounted upon the altar of Corporate Command and profits. Each consideration is based upon the improper precept of Canada last, the U.S.A. first, with the I.M.F. above all as the dogma and Deity. An ignominious course prescribed by the Trilateral Commission (more latterly the W.T.O. operated via the Federal Reserve) predestined to set up Canada into material bankruptcy via debauchery of currency and demoralization.

Turpitude in national political monetary economic husbandry is the doctrine to which National Management is indentured, fully realizing that the lessons of history are being ignored and the provisions and safeguards in the constitution set aside and trashed.

The future of Canada should be up to Canadians ... Not dictated by envious outsiders.

The decision must be made to restore constitutional integrity, because the choices are:

Democratic Sovereignty	Or	Corporate Enthronement?
National Currency	Or	Corporate Counterfeit?
Prosperous Solvency	Or	Perpetual Debt?
Free Trade	Or	Mega monopolies?
Stability	Or	Inflation?
Crown	Or	Credit

"There is no subtler, no surer means of overturning the basis of society than debauch the currency" - John Maynard Keynes.

While written from the point of view of a Canadian, this book is cogent to any national...

INTRODUCTION "CROWN OR CREDIT?"

MONEY is man-created. Initially, it was a tangible means whereby to unitize the value of labor when barter in goods was the basis of economics and trade. With the coming of the Industrial Revolution, it covered both labor and goods as a convenient means of recording exchange because goods were too big, too heavy and static to haul to market. It was not intended to be a commodity in itself- nor should it be!

As money is not a commodity; nor should it be contrived to be made so, profit should not be made from money nor should it be interloped as a private, corporate commodity of debt. The services of those who expend their labor attending the recording of money have to be equated but gain made over and above that service value is amoral and morally improper.

The use of private, corporate money as a commodity is the prime improper action that starts the cycle and generates the impetus of debt, devaluation, inflation and taxes.

The cost of gains made from the using of private, corporate counterfeit money as a commodity, plus the higher the rate of devaluation and inflation because of debt and taxes, additionally depletes the residual amount of money in circulation, which then has to be made up either by extra labor or the creation of the paper or ciphers that conjure as counterfeit currency but which, in fact, have no value behind them to make them of worth.

The sectors of man responsible for such offensive conditions include private financier money creators, Corporate Bankers and all who thrive off them. These parasites are solely liable for the poor conditions of world trade, the imbalance of world exchange rates, their usurious money system and the interest rates they contrive and yoke upon the countries that submit to their system. They manipulate one sector against another, deprive people so that many subscribe to the wealth of a few; and use their counterfeit as a commodity to commit creative fraud. The "corporate" profit system is promoted as opposed to the "society" cooperative system: The monolithic system as opposed to the principles of parliamentary democracy.

A typical political ploy, using corporate money as a commodity, is to imply that a devalued, inflated national currency, exchanged at a low rate, makes goods cheaper and more available to the wealthier buyer country, thus helping the producer country export more goods and keep people employed. This way, they induce puppet politicians and others under them, to think employment is more important than the value of currency. But it is a false, mischievous dichotomy. All gains and profits derived go to the corporate financier! The proper way to have both a strong currency and high employment is to increase productivity to keep costs and prices low, which, in turn, increases domestic consumption, export sales and employment. The benefits are high employment, high exports, abundant home supply and a stable, high value, strong currency. Advantages that come with the retention, creation and distribution of constitutional, national money supply.

FUNDAMENTALLY, land is there, energy is there and man's labor is there. None of these things has to be made. All exist as cost-free natural assets. Like the Richter scale, which records the impact level of earthquakes, each 1% added to the cost of money compounds adversely to devastate the value of currency, the balance of exchange or trade and destabilization of the economy. Private, corporate counterfeit currency yields gain and profit for the creator, from the application of Interest Rates charged for borrowing, when needed to meet debt obligations, and/or when paid as a premium to acquire funds for capital purposes. Private, corporate money is never available unless paid for plus interest and/or a discount. Another meaning of - "User Pay.!" National currency carries no such charges or costs!

Prosperity comes from the application of labor to natural elements and resources that are fundamentally available. The value of labor or design put into machines produced to process and adapts these fundamentals, has to be equated as part of the cost process. On the premise that man is not providing his labor for nothing, but on a fair barter basis, with a little over to compensate for 'effort' as well as labor, profit becomes a moral consideration.

Profit finds its own natural level sector-to-sector, service-to-service. If the profit demanded by one is out of equation with others, it causes imbalance, discontent and disruption. Immoral and improper gains weighted onto to this balance, or imbalance, by parasites, accelerates and escalates defrauding of the system to the gain of the parasites. On national currency, it is correctable: On private, corporate currency, it is compounded double jeopardy- not correctable.

EXPOSURE OF THE EXISTING PARASITICAL, PRIVATE CORPORATE COUNTERFEIT SYSTEM AND THE AVAILABLE, IMMEDIATE, SIMPLE REMEDIES THAT CAN BE ADOPTED TO CORRECT THE SITUATION AND RESTORE NATIONAL CURRENCY IS THE OBJECT AND SUBJECT OF THIS PUBLICATION.

DEFINITIONS

There are two classes of currency. HARD CURRENCY and SOFT CURRENCY:

HARD CURRENCY is durable, backed by precious metals such as gold, silver or even platinum. It 'promises to pay' par value, in metal, based upon a fixed standard of weights and measures: It is supposedly stable and cannot be devalued, inflated nor can it be undermined by attack from external influence. Hoax occurs when it supposedly has backing behind it to sustain its quality but the backing is 'short' or pretense.

SOFT CURRENCY is not durable. It is based upon paper or some other non-tangible standard. It is a means only of providing 'legal tender' for recording transactions of credit, exchange and trade. It varies in value with change of economic conditions such as when resources and stability are manipulated, borrowed, or purchased from a Hard Currency source. It can be devalued, inflated, revalued or undermined by attack from external influence. Hoax is infinite.

There are two kinds of money - BACKED MONEY and COUNTERFEIT MONEY:

BACKED MONEY is Constitutional, Crown, Debt-free, hard currency, national coin of full worth calculated against Gross National Assets on the Balance Sheet of the country. COUNTERFEIT MONEY is private and/or corporate-created, credit-based, debt-created paper or cipher, not of parallel worth calculated against Gross National Assets on the Balance Sheet. Any resemblance between constitutional and counterfeit money should not be inferred!

There are four classes of political identification pertaining to money:

1. Constitutional, Crown, colonial, democratic, free enterprise sovereign integrity
2. Unconstitutional, Corporate, Private Capitalism, control and profit orientation
3. State Capitalism, control, socialism, public service
4. State Ownership, Communism. State omnipotence and public servitude.

These four function tacitly as follows:

1. Despotism. Nepotism. Ancestral descent. Patronage. Marriage
2. Nepotism. Apostasy. Indenture. Acquired wealth. Supplication. Marriage
3. Election. Public performance. Adherence. Indenture. Patronage
4. Appointment. Survival as the art of endurance against competition in 3

Related Banking systems by general classification:

1. Constitutional. National. Royal Household
2. Private, Corporate. Merchant. Commodity. Exchange. Factor and Trade.
3. Chartered operating Crown-granted licenses to be agents and trustees.
4. Membership. Credit Union. Savings & Loan. Building Society
5. Broker. Mortgage. Finance. Factor. Leverage. Intermediate covenant
6. Money lender. Pawn broker. Thriving on default and tort.

Bankers in Class 1 operate on the premise of backed, debt-free money.

Bankers in all other Classes operate on whatever currency, dogma or system is convenient just so long as they can turn a profit or annex assets through default- foreclosure They care nothing for national integrity.

Chapter 1

EARLY HISTORY OF THE MONEY LENDERS PHILOSOPHY AND SYSTEM

The "Illuminati" was a Central-Europe secret society of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries, that reached its zenith in 1776 and it's Waterloo in 1785: although its presence has been felt ever since. It was initially Semitic in origin and membership as an association of independently wealthy merchants and moneychangers. It was conceived in competition to Freemasonry as a counter-group to the growing wealth, independence and influence of Western Europe as evidenced in the burgeoning Empires of the times.

Under these pressures, the society changed its image and broadened its horizons to admit as many as could be induced to join: Noticeably their confreres in the Armenian area on the other side of the Black Sea. Certain modifications were made to accommodate outsiders, but effective control never passed out of the hands of the few families that steered and manipulated it.

In later years, the "Illuminati" took on a quasi-Christian image due to the presence of the Armenian influence and, from 1625 to 1750, great effort was made to try and penetrate into (then later take over) Freemasonry, the Courts of the day and national governments by way of ingratiating, dual membership or indenture via money-lending; but it was watched with suspicion. Out of the amalgam, grew the "Whig" or Liberal faction in opposition to the Tories of Western Monarchy and Colonization, but their ascendancy did not really come about until the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

The "Illuminati" reached a point of notorious prominence in 1776 when it was used to promote the bizarre doctrines and money creation-control concepts of its then ruling executive - ambitious young men Adam Weishaupt, a Bavarian professor of Canon Law at Ingolstadt: Meyer Amschel Rothschild, a Financier and influential money-changer: Rabbi Mordecai, the son of an almost equally powerful family of moneylenders: Johann von Goethe (Faust), a German philosopher, and his contemporary friend Johann von Schiller, both of whom were prevailed upon by the others to create credence for their doctrines by way of a mantle of social ideals and provide an aura of respectability.

Weishaupt, Rothschild and Mordercai used the Society to further their teachings of debt-money creation, supply and circulation as first evidenced in the Bank of England Charter, 1694, touted by them as the solution which would solve world trade and money problems by uniting them under a single system of administration and regulated exchange. But, this doctrine was presaged by the fact that such controls would be in the hands of private individuals who would charge a levy for such service. They so enraged the Roman Catholic Church that the Bavarian Government was compelled to enforce dissolution in 1785. However, such dissolution did not come before the Order had implanted its ideas, fertilized the seed and recruited puppets in Austria, Hungary, Italy, France, Germany, England and the American Colonies. The seeds grew to become the "Reserve" type western, corporate money system, Bank of England, 1694; Federal Reserve, 1913: IMF/World Bank, 1965; W.T.O. and Euro of present times, 2002.

The "Illuminati" concept of 1776 envisaged the potential of secret world government by Private Interests in perpetuity via descendants, through the control of National Treasuries using, if possible, subsidiary chartered or corporate banks, operating through a central administration by a select committee of executive control and management. In other words,

The "Corporate" principle applied to world markets and world exchange by a small, close-knit, profit-taking group of Private Families

Such an organization would have a core of "owners" as the 'voting' shareholders, with any other members admitted being profit-participating but "non-voting" shareholders. In this way, the dominant Private Executive Committee would always be at the command of the voting shareholders who would be guaranteed nepotistic succession. Thus was built-in the ability to hand-pick Directors and Officers, establish Indentures, dictate policies and any conditions that would be applied, as well as keep command of the money supply: Thereby inducing countries to subscribe their national wealth and output but which would course into the coffers of the Private and corporate banks and the Private persons behind them. The consequence being, of course, that the Indentures or Bonds taken in exchange for money-supply, debt-created paper or credit, could then be used as a cudgel to keep the country and insubordinates in line through the threats of money supply constriction, bankruptcy, foreclosure or other sanctions if they rebelled against the system, having been drawn or forced into debt.

"LET US ISSUE AND CONTROL THE MONEY OF A NATION AND WE CARE NOT WHO MAKES THE LAWS." The "Illuminati" 1776

"LET US CONTRIVE WARS, IN THE NAME OF PEACE, AND WE CAN ENSLAVE THE WORLD THROUGH THEIR FINANCING AND THE CREATION OF CREDIT" The "Illuminati" 1778

"LET US ADMINISTER AND REGULATE THE TRADE AND EXCHANGE OF THE WORLD THROUGH A CENTRAL SYSTEM AND WE WILL ESTABLISH A SELF-REGULATING AUTHORITY." The "Illuminati" 1778

"LET US ESTABLISH BANKS IN ALL NATIONS SIMILAR TO THE CHARTER OF THE BANK OF ENGLAND, IN WHATEVER FORM SATISFIES THE GULLIBILITY OF THE PEOPLE, AND WE WILL COME TO OWN THE WORLD ARISING OUT OF ITS OWN DEFAULT IN BANKRUPTCY." The "Illuminati" 1780

Chapter 2

HOLES IN THE SYSTEM ARE ESCAPE HATCHES

Gaps in the "Illuminati" system are:

- (a) Unexpected national bankruptcies, such as those not engineered by the system to break a particular country, so that its economy can be taken over on the pretext of default, or obliged to face the alternate of even deeper debt through enforced re-financing, and
- (b) The breakaway of a nation as a deliberate act of escape back to independence. Action that is used as pretext for a war in attempt to re-enslave it; or regard it as the "one that got away." The stature and market place strength of the dissenting nation, by way of economic necessity, to the well-being of the Illuminati's other holdings being the deciding factor.

The pattern of entrapment to control a nation is infiltration, patronage, pillage, debauchery, encumber with debt, foreclosure and annexation. A formula that has been used with devastating effect against nations, industries, businesses and citizens, at their respective levels, by the Private banking system, time upon time. Political monetary economic policies are infiltrated and implanted by political leaders, using the money of the bankers who demand repayment by way of subservience and practices that enable them to perpetrate creative fraud for profit.

"All the perplexities, confusion, distress, strife, economic depressions, instabilities, inflation and devaluation experiences of the world arise, not from defects in Constitutions; not from want of honor or virtue in the common people; not from a desire to be selfish or see others suffer, but from downright ignorance of the nature of money, the nature of credit, and the nature of the Private Interests who control and manipulate them."

"Until the privileges and powers of Private Bankers are taken (back) from them, and nations and their people recover that which has been (mis)appropriated by them, great fortunes, indentured servants, exalted elite, demagogues and autocrats in government will remain."

Extract from a speech given at University of Texas, 1920, by Sir Josiah Stamp, Director of the Bank of England.

Reform, not revolution, must take us away from Private Mega-monopoly, Corporate Republicanism and Corporate Enthronement to permit return to Constitutional Free Enterprise in Solvent Sovereignty and a debt-free economy.

Chapter 3

THE NAME OF THE GAME - "ILLUMINATI" IMF STYLE 1978

The operations of the I.M.F., International Monetary Fund, and the internal banking systems of countries, which are members of the I.M.F., have, as their precept, the doctrine of the "Illuminati." They are fronted and operated by private interests and corporate entities, controlled by the elite family owners who are direct descendents of the original "Illuminati" and their recruited elite - inheritance, nepotism, marriage, indenture a go-go

The I.M.F. is close-held and controlled by the five major nations: The United States of America, the United Kingdom, Germany, France and Japan - the only "voting" countries. All other countries are non-effectives, yet entrapped because they are in debt, beholden or indentured to the system one way or another, having surrendered their sovereign resources -in exchange for hologram "promises, promises" of paternal protection.

On the face of it, is it not strange that the five nations in control were, up to one year before the formation of the I.M.F., in 1946, at war with each other, financed simultaneously by the same owners of the Illuminati system? Another war fought in the name of "Peace" racking up debt to buy war materials from their corporate manufacturers?

The five voting nations are dominated by the United States. Each has its banking system operating on the 'reserve' system. Each banking system is operated by private enterprise, as private businesses, with the controlling portion of votes in those private corporations in the possession of the controlling, elite private families via a maze of corporate and "In Trust" holdings fronted by nominees. All other nation members of the I.M.F. are non-voting participants but, as in the major nations, their money systems are operated and controlled by special interests in the same fashion. These private interests are awarded Charters to be Fiduciary Agents in the country through political manipulation subversively usurping constitutional money supply over to private, counterfeit money supply as legal tender, National Banks or the Central Banks are inverted to become "advised" by the privateers, instead of Central Banks directing the usurper how to behave. Ultra-licitum and ultra-vires collusions set in place conditions whereby the Central Bank is directed by a Committee, drawn from the Boards of Directors of the private Chartered Banks thus placing Private Financiers in control of National Banks and Treasury, bypassing and totally trashing the intent and safeguard provisions in The Constitution.

The Executive Committee of the I.M.F. -The Gnomes of Zurich - is drawn from the Central Banks of each voting country under scrutiny by The Trilateral Commission. The majority vote in the hands of the U.S.A. and U.K. as the controllers of the gold standard and sterling bloc respectively. They are inter-related through a network of associate or subsidiary affiliations, Branch or Agent Banks in each other's country, and via the stock exchanges that ring the world in all time zones. An interwoven cabal more vulnerable than it likes to think it is!

Chapter 4

THE DIE IS CAST (Written 1978)

Prior to 1628, the history of money is such that countries and principalities were financed by the Ruler, be it a large kingdom or a small tribe. Revenues were raised by levy or taxation on the production or accumulations of the people within the command of the Ruler and used to support the upkeep of the jurisdiction, the needs of the people to whatever level kept them in line, and to sustain the Ruler in whatever manner he wished to enjoy. Within these territories, traders and merchants flourished and prospered independently, some amassing great wealth as the result of their enterprise and cunning and who increased their wealth by lending money to others, frequently including the Ruler.

Down the ages, some of these merchants, Lombards and families of great wealth have ventured not only to lend their money but also to influence and manipulate policies and politics to better-serve their personal preferences and objectives. A few of these merchants can link back to ancient Biblical times having their roots in antiquity, and can trace back through the scourging of the Temple, Exodus, the Babylonian Empire and the Tribe of Ephraim. It is this connection, which appears to recycle its doctrines from time to time but with subtle changes, that is so apropos of current times and the admonition of the Bible, if it is to be believed, as either an historic record or tome on human nature.

As time went by, and as nations and states warred against each other and wars were costly, the victorious nation plundered the vanquished people to try to recover their expenses but, as always, this is negative logic. In increasing their territory, they also increased the cost of services and control measures as the inevitable corollary. All this time, the merchants grew wealthier and stronger as it was they who financed or manufactured and supplied - (usually to both sides at the same time) - the artifacts of war and peace and money when the Ruler needed some to create or sustain an economic or social standard

Eventually the point was reached in England, as the most powerful country in the world at the time in the mid seventeenth century; when a small group of supremely wealthy and powerful merchants in Europe were fairly well able to call the shots and arrange things their own way. This they did by bribe and patronization; or impress, because they held it as debt over the individual they wished to subjugate. In this way, they built up indentured servants who would do their bidding constantly under the threats of coercion or impoverishment. The history of England reflects this only too clearly. Down the middle ages Europe, but England in particular, has become impoverished and in debt to the merchants. Yet there were still some wealthy enclaves of debt-free monarchy just as there were countries of power constitutionally intact but in debt. The merchants engineered many of the wars so they could finance them and prosper from them. In this way, they siphoned off what monies there were in national treasuries and put the country under obligation to them, a method that has been used, and continues to be used, even to this day, with catastrophic effects.

In or about 1628, a certain handful of powerful merchants of London, Germany and Bavaria consorted together and devised a plan to take over economic control of the Treasury of England. They hoped to do it in about ten years but it eventually took a little longer. They planned to control all banking and money supply in the country and its empire, to become theirs by direct consent or default They set their minds and their indentured underlings to usurping control of parliament from the King and from the people to become a private function at their direction. As a side benefit, they would administer and manipulate the National Treasury. Lamentably, they succeeded. It took sixty years, but they did it. Out of their plan was later contrived the concept of "secret world government" about a hundred years later, operated with vitriolic affect.

To accomplish their objective, the merchants had to impoverish the Common Law Constitution of England and confuse the people, so that when they made their move to become savior and deliverer from the mess they had created, they would be welcomed with open arms, on their own terms. The only way this could be achieved was to instigate a series of wars, including civil war, which they would be called upon to finance. This would get the country into so much debt to them that repayment would be impossible and they would then call their own terms when the country failed to pay them in default.

That precept and concept has since been used in the past three centuries with repeated and salutary success on each occasion. Such nations as Germany, France, Italy, the United States of America, Japan and numerous smaller nations have all, with calamitous result, fallen victim to the conspiracies, deceptions, infiltrations and wars that have been yoked upon them. Canada is the next designated victim because the merchants covet the unfolding potential of the country, its wealth of energy, minerals, natural resources and water.

Perhaps the most significant factor, and one of surprise and concern, is that these merchant-financiers, now called International Bankers via their corporate dominance and stock market manipulations, have been allowed, unchallenged, to become almost enthroned in Canada. Or is it that the representatives of the people have been "reached," induced or indentured so that they fear to do anything other than prepare the way, or defend the status quo for their paymaster, and go along with the sedition that occurs? Greasing palms is a well-proven method of business and statecraft.

It is interesting to note the timing and pronouncements issued by the Bankers and stock market via their press releases. Always shortly before they want something, or are about to shaft it to the country or the people, they issue statements that are both negative and positive approaches to the same subject. This causes confusion, obfuscation or a deceptive impression is created. They like, of course, to create the image that the Banks' and I.M.F. is one of benign friendliness and philanthropy. The tenor is always, "Come in, come in the water's fine, our terms for a loan are easy and comfortable." It has been successful and worked wonders for years with the borrower, as a citizen or as a nation, being most unsuspecting that the Banker and stock market manipulators can adjust and control events. At their whim and discretion, they can let the borrower off the hook; keep him on a treadmill of debt or box him into default and bankruptcy as may suit their avarice. The only certainties are that "The Bank is not a buddy!" In addition, the banks love "cutting off at the pass" to force foreclosure.

The new or future revised role of the merchant-financiers is affectively no different. Subtle changes here and there; up-dated and more sophisticated techniques to hide behind; a fresh exterior under new incarnations "Trilateral" "World Federalism" or "New World Order", but no deviation from the preset object of world ownership, through world government via world materialistic direction, domination and control.

Chapter 5

THE TRIAL BALLOON How it was worked in England.

1629 - Charles I began personal rule. This provided merchants with excuse and opportunity to cry foul against the royal prerogative constitution of parliament; consort and devise a plan to infiltrate, influence, bribe and patronize those members of the ruling class and court as could be "had" or bought. This started and proved the practice of wining, dining and subsidizing the ambitious or vain, yet it was relatively easy because the merchants were dealing with direct debtors, or impoverished nobles who had let their family fortunes fall into decline.

1630 - The plan takes shape, and toll, starting always at the House of Lords, coursing down family connections via the aristocracy, squires, gentry and Commons representatives.

1649 - Charles I executed. A long-drawn-out intrigue and triumph for the merchants. The country became a "Protectorate" under puppet Oliver Cromwell, who was an easy mark for the merchants and their sympathizers.

During the period 1630 - 1649, a series of wars were fostered by the merchants, financed by them - usually both sides at the same time - leading to the establishment of what would later become "National Debt." in 1694.

1631 - France and Sweden - v - Germany

1639 - Bishops' War in Scotland

1640 - Second Bishops' War. Long Parliament begins. Abolition of Royal prerogatives.

1641 - Catholics inflamed using malicious agitation. Massacre blind-sided Protestants.

1642 - Charles I attempts to arrest the "Five Members" - Pym, Hampden, Holies, Strode and Hesilridge - all of whom are renegades having been found out as having indentured themselves to the merchants.

1642 - Outbreak of Civil War in England.

1643 - France - v - Spain (England involved on the side)

1648 - Second Civil War. New model army financed by merchants. Defeat of Royalists and Scots. Parliament re-fashioned. First emergence of "Whig politicians.

1649 - England governed as a "Protectorate Commonwealth" under the direction of merchants and an "appointed" House of Commons. Charles I executed.

1651 - Cromwell victory absolute. Charles II invades from Scotland to try to recapture England for elected, semi-democratic rule but failed: Flees to France.

1652 - England - v - Holland. A war fostered by merchants. Lasts two years. Basically, an attempt to impoverish the Dutch, but it did not.

1653 - Cromwell made Lord Protector. Dissolves Rump Parliament. Becomes more involved with merchants as money needed to administer affairs of state because Monarchy Money and connections no longer available.

1655 - Major-Generals appointed to supervise "Districts" in England. Required to report on economic status of their command to Cromwell and to a Committee of Merchants. Cromwell dissolves Parliament; turns to merchants for more money. Operates as a dictator but is directed from behind and accountable to merchants.

1656 - England - v - Spain. Merchant mischief!

1657 - Cromwell covets Crown but backs off on orders from merchants.

1658 - Oliver Cromwell dies. Richard Cromwell named as new Protector. People of England start to query things and suspect methods and motives of merchants.

1659 - Richard Cromwell resigns. Charles II called upon to return and restore Monarchical Rule.

1660 - Restoration of Monarchy. Charles II appalled at amount of debt raised by Cromwell.

1661 - Bodies of Cromwell, Ireton and Bradshaw exhumed and hung in chains as examples. Whig faction infuriated and expose their relationship with merchants. Charles II offers all the opportunity to repudiate merchants and atone. Merchants threaten mayhem. Eventual Royalist persecution of non-conformists.

1664 - England - v - Holland again. Deliberate merchant mischief purely for profits.

1666 - England - v - France. War declared by France, instigated by merchants who, by now, had Louis XIV in their palm having commenced their take-over intrigues in France.

1667 - Princess Mary of England marries William of Orange. Merchant mischief having been reconciled. Charles II hoped to get Dutch Alliance to sweep merchant debt out of England but failed. William in no mood to pay merchants anything!

1678 - Habeas Corpus Act passed. Shaftsbury and Whigs bring pressures to bear on Charles II concerning mounting debt and persecution.

1681 - Charles II begins rule with Parliament in attempt to speed up processes: Takes executive action to deal with debt. Superb effort but not enough. William Penn given the grant of land now known as Pennsylvania to accommodate migrants.

1683 - Rye House Plot by merchants to topple Charles II. Merchants escape personally but representatives suffer.

1685 - Death of Charles II. Succession of James II. James succumbs to merchants.

1688 - William of Orange lands in England. James II abdicates and flees to France.

1689 - William and Mary proclaimed King and Queen of England as joint crown. Bill of Rights passed.

1690 - Company of Merchants fear repudiation. Petition for all monies due to them. England cannot pay cash and refuses to give up Empire holdings. William urges repudiation. Merchants and Whigs start campaign that there should not be two apparent banking and money systems. This causes confusion, furor and excuse for merchants to try for their objective of a bank and national debt due to them. Public very alarmed, agitated and bewildered, fearsome of bank and money collapse and beguiled into suspecting a "foreign king" as the alternate to distrusting their own countrymen. The ruse worked. It provided merchants and Whigs the opportunity to prevail in debate and put over the reasoning that the easiest way is to give the merchants their bank, and record in it the amount of debt due to them so it can be paid off over a period, in the future, instead of heavy taxation now! This was plausible and just what the merchants wanted. But it was not what the King wanted as he could see past the present and into the future it would create. Nevertheless, the gullibility of the people gave in to what could have become another civil uprising.

1691 - The plan for the merchants' bank

Chapter 6

THE CUNNING PLAN FOR THE MERCHANT'S BANK

Whig politicians, instructed by the Illuminati and merchants, submitted the following proposal to Parliament, 1691.

1. That the names of those who loaned money to the governments of the past seventy years shall remain secret. (To this day, these names are still an official secret but it is common belief that one was from the House of Rothschild, one from the house of Mordecai, one from the Weishaupt family and the names of Montague plus a few other "Lords" are thought to be involved.)
2. That the Charter members of the Bank, which shall be called THE BANK OF ENGLAND, be granted the right, for all time, to appoint the Directors. A right that will inure to the Charter Members, their successors, assigns and nominees.
3. That the Charter Members, their successors, assigns and nominees be designated and known as the BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE BANK OF ENGLAND.
4. That the Directors be granted the right to establish gold as the standard for currency.
5. That the Bank can make loans to the value of Ten Pounds by way of paper currency for every One Pound it has on deposit in gold, paper currency or secured credit.
6. That the Bank be permitted to consolidate the national debt and secure payments of amounts due as to principal and interest by way of direct taxation or levy upon the people until the national debt is fully discharged.
7. That no Bank, other than the Bank of England, shall be an Agent for the Treasury of England.
8. That no Bank, other than those currently existing, shall be incorporated or chartered except with the approval or participation of the Bank of England.

1693 -The "National Debt" of England was calculated and established.

1694 -The Bank of England was incorporated, Chartered and put into operation with the National Debt due to it as a recorded credit.

Chapter 7

THE BEGINNING OF CREATIVE FRAUD

1694 - The BANK OF ENGLAND gets its license to practice creative fraud.

1698 - Merchants and ship owners co-operate in a system of "Guarantees," paid for by the levy of a premium deposited in the Bank of England to collectively subscribe and underwrite shipping losses among themselves. This later gave way to becoming a separate institution called "Lloyds of London" 1774, as the forerunner of the insurance industry that, to this day, is inter-connected to the banking industry.

1710 - First economic depression in England. First exposure to diminishing purchasing power of debased money. First exposure to structured unemployment.

1733 - Second economic depression. First use of debt financing to sustain the economy. Wider unemployment. Commencement of industrial and labor unrest.

1734 - Monetary system of England tacitly bankrupt. Introduction of "Futures" as an allowable basis for credit as an excuse for substantial further issue of debt-created currency.

1755 - First runaway inflation. Interest rates high: 4% to 8%!

1759 - First structural and economic collapse. First industrial collapse. Interest usurious -12%

1762 - Advent of Meyer Amschel Rothschild.

1766 - Second Pitt administration re-constitutes money. Re-value of State and marketplace. Resets English Pound at new par: But makes the mistake of leaving the accrued National Debt as a liability of the nation still due, compounding interest to the private owners of the private Bank of England. He later admitted enough new money should have been created to pay it out, thereby releasing assets from indenture and the people from taxation.

From 1694, it can be observed those periods of about 16, 23, 24 totaling 63 years lapse. The significance is that this pattern of recession, depression, devaluation (see diagram page), inflation, re-structuring and re-financing occurs and re-occurs in every nation that adheres to the private monetary system that does not pay off the debt when it re-monetarizes. If they did the cycles would not re-occur, "Shortage" would not occur and stable "Abundance" for all would abound.

1766 to 1925 is covered and reviewed in other parts of this publication.

The fact that "National Debt" has been assigned, "sold" or otherwise transferred, does not remove the ability of a nation to fall back on its Constitution and use the next re-monetizing to include pay out as a mandatory action.

1925 until 1931, the gold standard was briefly shifted back to Britain, which had also been on the gold standard up to 1914. It then went on the silver standard as a means of them being in control and able to manipulate both bullion standards, thus able to play a profound part in the performance of commodity, war materials, stock and bond markets. Critical elements to the changes planned for the period 1920 to 1940.

1944 - Britain and the U.S.A. were forming the post-war "Bretton Woods Agreement" and the International Monetary Fund.

1946 - "Bretton Woods" was established with Britain, U.S.A., France, Germany and Japan as the founders. Previously in war with each other, financed on all sides by the private monetarists! The I.M.F. - nothing more than a council of Pharisees, also known as The Gnomes of Zurich - is an appointed, handpicked committee doing the bidding of the private powers behind the Bank of England, Federal Reserve and Bank of Germany who retain personal veto over anything that is decided!

1946 - The Bank of England was "officially" "Nationalized" as was the "Federal Reserve Board" in the U.S.A. But it is all a sham. For all practical purposes, corporate and private interests continue to direct, staff, and operate them.

Watch must now be kept for the I.M.F. attempting to do at world level what has been done at national level over the past three centuries. No doubt attempt will be made to revise Bretton Woods, Introduce a one World, one government, one Bank, one monetary unit, one currency and one elite, using a range of names designed to assuage public apathy.

Chapter 8

REPUDIATION

The proper method of money creation is due process through the supreme authority and provisions in The Constitution: National money, National Credit and National Distribution through the National Treasury thus ensuring it all to be cost-free, debt-free and tax-free.

One of the "Constitutional" powers is "TO COIN MONEY, REGULATE THE VALUE THEREOF, AND OF FOREIGN COIN, AND FIX THE STANDARDS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES."

These Constitutional Powers were, (a) Abrogated by the Government of England as an undermining of the Crown and awarded (ultra-licitum) to the Governors of the Bank of England, 1694, as part of the wider powers of the Charter, thus leading them to be adopted in Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution of the United States of America, as one of the fundamentals that had caused separation and independence in the first place and, (b) Abrogated by the Government of the United States (ultra-licitum) into the powers of the "FEDERAL RESERVE ACT," 1913.

In both instances, the power to create money and credit was removed from the people and placed in the hands of private financiers. The consequences have been diabolical. Creative fraud and hoax have flourished. Nevertheless, the Constitution is still intact and can be invoked to bring about repudiation back to National monetary integrity.

The only way nations can alleviate themselves from the presence of an everlasting, perpetually increasing, debilitating "National Debt" and debauchery is to perform the ultimate act that the merchants and private financiers fear, which is repudiate them, their Charters and patriate all that has been appropriated and misappropriated by them over the centuries. They can only slink off because they cannot ultimately sue and win against the Crown or the Constitution. They hold on to power because they always threaten to take their patrons with them!

The nice way to do it is (a) Issue a new currency (b) buy off all stockholders (c) nationalize or restore the proper relationship between Banks, Government and people whereby Banks are Agents for the People - not the Government being Agent, Tax-collector-enforcer for the Banks!

What it takes to restore the intent and safeguards in the Constitution is an uncorrupted Congress, Parliament, Supreme Court, and Chief Justice.

The alternates are (1) continue as we are, saddled with debt, devaluation, fraud, hoax, inflation, poverty and victimization

(2) REPUDIATE private monetarism, corporate caprice, bank bunko, and ultra-licitum, ultra-vires "legalizations."

Chapter 9

MOTHER SHIPTON'S POEM

Over three hundred years ago, in 1640, Mother Shipton who lived in England and reputed to be a witch, proclaimed for herself the gift of predication. She reputedly wrote a poem descriptive of events that were to take place in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The poem has been published many times. In view of happenings that have taken place, it merits interest.

A carriage without a horse shall go. Disasters fill the world with woe:

In London, Primrose Hill will be: its centre hold a Bishops' See.

Around the world, men's thoughts shall fly: Quick as the twinkling of an eye.

And water shall great wonders do: How strange, and yet it shall come true.

Thro' towering hills proud men shall ride: No horse nor ass move by his side.

Beneath the water men shall walk, shall ride, shall sleep, shall even talk.

And in the air men shall make fast passage: In marvelous and safe carriage.

A great man then shall come and go: For prophecy declares it so.

In water, iron and stone shall float: As easy as a wooden boat.

Gold shall be found in stream or stone: In land that is as yet, unknown.

Water and fire wonders do: And England will admit the Jew:

Who will put future "States" in bondage, too.

The Jew that once was held in scorn; shall of Christians then be born.

A hall of glass shall come to pass in England but, alas, alas!

A war will follow in Fifty Three: Where Turks and Pagans live and be.

The "States" shall lock in civil strife: And seek to take each others life.

Where north shall overcome the south: The eagle build in the lions mouth.

Then tax and blood and cruel war; shall come to every humble door.

Three times shall lovely, sunny France be led to play a bloody dance.

Before her people shall be free: Three tyrant rulers shall she see.

Three rulers in succession be. Each sprung from different dynasty.

Then when the fiercest fight is done: England and France will link as one.

The English olive shall entwine, in marriage with the German vine.

Men walk beneath and over streams - fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.

All England's sons shall plow the land, shall oft be seen with book in hand.

The poor shall now most wisdom know: And waters wind where corn doth grow.

Great houses stand in far flung vales; all covered over with snow and hail.

And now a word, in uncouth rhyme, of what shall be in later time,

For, in those wondrous far off days, women shall adopt a craze,

To dress like men and trousers wear: And shorten all their locks of hair.

They'll ride astride with brazen brow, as witches do on broomsticks now.

Then love shall flaunt and marriage cease: And nations wane as babes decrease.

And wives will fondle cats and dogs: And men be looked on much as hogs.

In nineteen hundred and thirty six, build houses light with straw and sticks.

For then shall mighty war be planned, and fire and sword sweep many lands. •

Those who live the century through: In fear and trembling this shall do.

Quakes and tides and new lands be. And famine many nations see.

Flee to the mountains and the glens: For storms shall rage and oceans roar.

When Gabriel stands on sea and shore and put a halt to holy war.

And as he blows his wondrous horn: Old worlds shall die and new be born

- Other notables are: Daniel, Ezekiel, John, Nostradamus, and Cayce.

Chapter 10

THE MOLD IS POURED

In England, at the beginning of the nineteenth century, Meyer Amschel Rothschild used David Ricardo, a noted stockbroker and political analyst, to produce a thesis on the "Principles of Political Economy" knowing that it would be accepted because of his status in London. This thesis was designed to supplement the philosophical precept that had been prepared by Goethe and Schiller. Later, Thomas Robert Malthus, an English clergyman and economist, wrote an anti-thesis entitled "The Principles of Population" which espoused that population increase would (a) outstrip the availability of natural resources, (b) profligate the production of non-essential goods through industrial development and (c) create markets whereby non-essential items took precedence over essential items. Malthus' contention was that only disasters such as famine, disease, or the waging of war, as per the doctrine of the "Illuminati," could be looked upon a regulating factor; such as wars fought in the name of peace!

Under careful re-editing Rothschild, with the help of a young philosopher named Herbert Spencer of "Survival of the Fittest" fame, was able to correlate all the works of himself, Goethe, Schiller, Adam Smith, Ricardo, Malthus and others who had contributed, pro or con, to the econo-political dogma of the "Illuminati." They turned these into a composite science, plausible enough to be implanted into Universities to become the education mold. Indoctrination throughout the broad spectrum of the economy, marketplace, lawmakers and the social strata at every level, was thus made possible in the following years through the interventions of Meyer Amschel's five sons, particularly Nathan in London, and grandson Lionel who became the first Jewish member of the House of Commons. The long-range plans were being entrenched - unchallenged.

The Rothschilds exported their doctrines and science into the Confederate States of America via Jacob Schiff, who is reviewed later on, and who recruited such personages as Herbert War Beecher and William Graham Sumner, and the influence of "Delmonico's," where prestige of membership counted much more than conscience, it was the ploy of infiltration leading up to Civil War. Thus was brought about the presence of the so-called "Capitalist" bloc, so named in order to deflect the truth, in fact, a "Corporate" bloc as the prelude to a megamonopoly era had been created.

The "Corporate" system is manipulated as a captive market. The "Free Trade" system is a competitive, open market. The difference is quite plain. The word "capitalist" is a catchall term used to cause deception.

The entrapment of free enterprise to be degraded and displaced by corporate arrogance and opulence, were pay-offs the ruthless in the United States marketplace could not resist. Some became tycoons, some settled for Pharisee status, but all were either willingly or unwittingly trapped into the syndrome of a few rich, many poor: with the rich preferring to keep it that way! In the end, conscience overtook many. They became so-called "philanthropists" but if you look closely, what they gave, or still make a show of giving, is miniscule in comparison to what they hold on to under tax-free Trust and Foundation constitutions.

Notwithstanding the historical distortions induced by writers in the pay of the bankers and the corporate establishments, which pervade the education fields, the so-called grievances of the American Colonies in the eighteenth century were not warranted against King George III or the people of England. They were antipathies, drummed up as a convenient decoy to cover the bankers' conspiracy: but useable as emotional justification to sustain the philosophies and doctrines that the merchants and their political minions wanted to invoke and retain in support of their system.

"Let us do it, and then shift the blame on to others either by way of opportunity or by framing them." has always been the creed of the Bankers and their lobby.

George III, as The Crown, and the people of England, had undeservedly been made out to be the villains and scapegoats in the minds of Americans. The essence of the matter was, and still is, that the Sovereign (and people of England,) had a deep empathy and sympathy for the plight of the Colonialists but were powerless to intervene at the constitutional level. The common law constitution was in the control of Parliament and Parliament was, and still is, in the hands of Bankers and Merchants! The King was only a figurehead as is the Queen now! In the U.S.A the Peoples' Congress, and the President as their figurehead, are also in the control of Bankers and Merchants who protect and defend their turf with bunker mentality. War is profit for the bankers and corporatists. Lives lost are incidental.

The bankers had their caps set on discrediting the Sovereign, toppling the Crown and usurping constitutional control of Parliament, as they wanted to take possession of all Constitutional and Crown assets to tuck away in their own private vaults. They also wanted to enslave the people. These are things they cannot accomplish while the Crown Constitution remains as the right and strength of the people - the big, big difference between Canada and the United States. The US is constantly looking in Canada for politicians who will bend to the will of the Bankers, by bypassing or trashing the provisions and safeguards in the Constitution that keeps Canada from being taken over by default under implanted debt. The Crown saves Canada being taken over, ravaged and subjugated - bondage style 1984!

England, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Holland, France, Italy, Spain, in fact anywhere where there is a present or suppressed vestige of 'Crown Constitution,' are places that are embattled by the Bankers, I.M.F. and the private financiers behind them: They are constantly under attack and destabilized by way of marketplace manipulation and debasement of their money systems.

Bankers and private financiers are tyrannical taskmasters and manipulators. One day, the victim nations of their greed and avarice will wake up, smarten up, repudiate and give them the old heave ho!

Be they the "Illuminati" the Club of Rome, Trilateralists, World Federalists, or the I.M.F. they all represent the philosophy of world domination, whereby the influence and power of self-created money aggregates as wealth in the hands of a few, and the peoples of the world are their thralls.

The real objective of all free and free-thinking men and women, is to have Parliament return to being representative power in the hands of the people, in the right of the people, as a Council of probity and integrity as per The Constitution: And, to see it discontinue acting and drifting, as it does now, in the sole interests of bankers, merchants and their "corporate" lobby as a dictatorial autocracy.

When acting as an independent, sovereign nation, that country must create and use its own national currency and credit for exchange and trade. This will ensure multi-nationalism in trade; national multiplicity in finance; enable fair exchange; and, be free from private control or levy.

Chapter 11

A NEW WORLD TO STEAL PART 1

How it worked in the United States of America.

In the period 1660 -1694, the political moves and intrigues in England had been observed from a distance by the Colonialists. The range of wars and the financing of them had not escaped the notice of the leaders of the American colonies, but it was decided to await conclusions before making any moves.

With the formation of the Bank of England in 1694, the Colonialists decided to use their own form of debt-free scrip. This would enable them to keep a record of production and growth in the colonies both as an independent record and to stay away from the debt-created money of England, which was worth only two shillings in the Pound (10%) because of the 10:1 loan creation power that had been built into the Charter of the Bank of England.

1699 - American Colonies start to use scrip.

1740 - Benjamin Franklin visits England and boasts that Colonial Scrip is worth 100 cents on the dollar and that it is not like the English Pound, which was only worth 10% of face value.

1741 - The Government of England, on direct orders from the Bank of England, instructs the Colonies to cease using scrip and use the Pound.

1742 - Immediate depression sets in causing, for the first time, unemployment, inflation, devaluation and hardships in the American Colonies.

This sparked grumblings of discontent and the events, which built up over the next thirty years to the Declaration of Independence, after having given due warning to the government of England and the Bank of England, both of whom ignored the pleas and over-ruled the King who sympathized with the Colonialists.

1776 - Declaration of Independence - Victory for Colonialists - Canada established as a separate territory, at the same time, by the United Empire Loyalists.

1812 - United States War for Independence - English Government confronted and defeated.

As the United Empire Loyalists were in effect, true monarchists in opposition to the U.S. Republicans, who are separatists, friction grew between them even though both wanted to be free of the debt-money doctrine. By mutual agreement and tolerance the prior arrangement of 1776, when Canada was formed, became the demarcation line. The Loyalists established Canada to be their own separate country, loyal to the Crown of England but not loyal to the Bank of England.

1815 - War of Independence won by separatists. This allowed them to establish a debt-free State and operate with debt-free, full-worth money again. It established a sound nation with Confederate, debt-free currency, but set in motion the festering of the Civil War, 1851, that the merchants' won and moved in to impose their debasing money system.

1816 - Canada operated on an ad hoc mix of Trade, Confederate money and English Pounds, but kept tight control of exchange values.

Commencing from the moment of the loss of the American Colonies, the merchants and bankers of England put into operation much the same kind of conspiracy that they had put to use between 1629 and 1691. However, instead of fostering an immediate war, they used the marketplace as the battleground and cajoled acceptance of the English Pounds, on the promise that these same Pounds could be used for exchange at 10:1 for the Confederate Dollar. What they did not disclose was that export prices to the States were increased to defraud the American buyer.

At the same time, the bankers commenced a program of infiltration and patronage from the President down through Secretaries of State, and the providing of money and knowledge to the growing pride of industrialists, who were cropping up all over the country as the covered wagons rolled westward. Eventually, they had enough of them in their pocket and were able to promise them power - if they could oust the Separatist Establishment that had taken the title "Confederates."

For the roughnecks and ambitious of those days, the challenge and prizes were too much to resist, so the ingredients leading up to the U.S. Civil War were irrevocably implanted. Presidents such as Harrison, Taylor, Philmore and Pearce were all easy marks, having to answer to their conscience if not the patriot people of the Confederate States.

AND SO IT WENT ON

It was the winning of the Civil War by Republican forces that decided the fate of the "States" and the downward path into the maw of the Rothschild family: The same fate that had befallen England in 1694, then Austria, France, Germany and Italy in the first half of the nineteenth century. It would destroy Constitutional America, Christmas 1913, with the foisting of the "Federal Reserve Act."

1788 - Christmas Day to be exact, December 25, President George Washington issued a statement to the Salem Gazette, in which he warned the people of the new nation of the United States that there was an organization known as the "Illuminati" which was dedicated to secret world government. He was, of course, referring to the unholy trio of Adam Weishaupt, Rabbi Mordecai and Meyer Amschel Rothschild who, in the 1770's, became suspect as being the secret descendents of the secret founders of the Charter of the Bank of England - a fact they would never deny, nor have their descents ever since.

As previously noted, Weishaupt was the descendent of a prominent wealthy family of merchants, and was a Canon Law in the University of Ingolstadt, Bavaria. Rabbi Mordecai was a descendent of a well-known family of Lombards. The most significant thing coming out from him is that its was his grandson who later changed his name to Karl Marx, the man who wrote the book on Communism and was dedicated to bringing about the downfall of the Czars, toppling a Constitutional Crown and replacing them with Communist rule, counterfeit money and credit.

Amschel Rothschild (1743 -1812) was the direct descendent of a long line of Rothschilds, who can trace back to old Biblical times. Meyer Amschel sired five sons who were later to set up in Banks, patterned much on the Charter of the Bank of England, in Vienna, Naples, Paris and London. All Crowns to tilt at! The House of Rothschild was seated in Frankfurt, Germany: Significant even to this day. It was Nathan who was set up in London, and it was Nathan's son, Lionel (1808 -1879) who became the first Jewish member of the House of Commons.

The five sons spread their wings and progeny into banks across the world and finance houses of every description: Banks, Merchant Banks, Insurance, Stock Markets, Investment Brokers, money lending, and Chartered Banks throughout the British Empire. They are set up in a maze of corporations and business activities: and holding companies to screen the extent and inter-connections of the assets. They have become an intricate web of intrigue and conspiracy entwining all the members of the United Nations through organizations known as the International Monetary Fund (I.M.F.), and it's sisters the International Monetary Exchange (I.M.E.), International Money Market (I.M.M.), Council of Foreign Relations (C.F.R), Trilateral, Club of Rome, Federal Reserve, World Bank, World Federalists, New World Order etc., and, more recently, the EURO and common market with all that it entails. The doctrines of the "Illuminati", 1778, are still the basis of approach with supreme headquarters in London, Secondary Commands in Frankfurt and New York, and puppet patrons everywhere.

MORE FROM GEORGE WASHINGTON

In 1789, Washington said of the Illuminati: "If their art can be applied to set aside the ordinary maxims of society and introduce policies of undermining government and the Constitution, while keeping its true aims secret or disguised, it must be obvious that such science and society may be perverted to all the ill-purposes which have been suspected." From this, it must be assumed that the evil forces were initiated, identified and at work even in those early days of modern times: But what a sad commentary that the warnings were not heeded AND ARE STILL IGNORED -except by a few with perception.

Chapter 12

A NEW WORLD TO STEAL PART 2

How it worked in the United States of America

President Lincoln was a great man in so many ways, but one of the least talked about and least understood of his achievements was when he refused to bow to the Bankers. Lincoln had more courage and determination than any other President did, since he stood against the Bankers, and he gave his very life for it. President Lincoln, faced with a war and a depleted Treasury, refused to pay the 26%; yes, twenty-six percent, interest the Bankers demanded to supply the nation with the needed money to fight a useless war. A civil war that had been engineered by the Bankers, in the hope of impoverishing the Confederates by bleeding their wealth from them to pay for their side in the war: And in expectation that the Republican government would go into debt to them, thus having to repay the capital, pay interest and take direction.

Instead of borrowing from the Bankers, Lincoln went to the Secretary of The Treasury, Salmon P. Chase, and ordered the Treasury to issue $450 million dollars of United States Notes. He paid the war cost with debt-free money. Lincoln's action angered the Bankers. His assassination followed shortly thereafter.

It is known that Lincoln's Vice President, Andrew Johnson, and his Secretary of War, Edwin Stanton, were in the pay of the Bankers and deeply concerned in the assassination of Lincoln at the hands of John Wilkes Booth.

Lincoln by-passed the Bankers who expected the government to print $ 450 million United States Bonds and give them to the Bankers as Promissory Notes for $ 450 million credit in a Rothschild bank. If Lincoln had done that, even at 4% interest and the Bonds, the people of the United States would have paid the Bankers, by 1975, over $ 27 billion interest and still be owing the $450 million capital debt. At 26% interest, the total is unimaginable!

Since 1913, the birth of the Federal Reserve, the people of the United States have in fact paid nothing but interest on all the "legal tender" that is in circulation. None of the "money" issued and circulated by the Federal Reserve is "Constitutional American Money." It is unconstitutional, private, counterfeit scrip. All the paper money and electronic credit in circulation is tacitly worthless: the actual value of the United States is still only $450 million plus coin, which is of constitutional worth. The trillions that the country likes to think it is worth are nothing but paper, bookkeeping credits and inflationary devaluation. The real worth is in the Treasuries and Vaults of the Bankers who have used creative fraud, conversion and an incredible hoax to finesse paper for labor, resources and production. The government of the United States still owes the Bankers and it is scammed even more every day.

The Bankers of the Federal Reserve, which is a corporation, are conjuring money, lending the conjured money to the government and charging interest on the loans. Not only that, they are allowed to issue credit loans for up to 30 times the amount of money that they have on deposit as either paid-in capital or back-deposited conjured money, at their own decision. The Banks of the United States, in the form of the private banks of the Federal Reserve, are robbing every borrower blind, stealing assets from the nation, other nations and their peoples, in exchange for worthless paper. The same goes for Canada and the Chartered Banks, who lever much of their cash flow from the Federal Reserve in exchange for Government of Canada Bonds. It is all a fraud.

Before he died, Lincoln said, "As the result of the Civil War, corporations have been enthroned in lieu of representative government, and an era of corruption in high places will follow. The new money powers of the nation will prolong their reign by working on the unenlightenment and prejudices of the people, until the wealth is aggregated into the hands of a few and which few are connected to the forces of world domination. When they achieve control, within one hundred years, the Republic as we revere it will come to be destroyed. I feel, at this time, more anxiety for the country than ever before, even in the midst of war."

The foundations of the Federal Reserve, and the present I.M.F., were laid in the years immediately following the Civil War when the way was made clear through the victory of the Bankers' republican/liberal forces.

It is known that Judah Benjamin, Chief Advisor to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederated States of America, was a Rothschild Agent. It is also known that there were mole agents in other Presidents' Cabinets. The only difference was that Lincoln knew who they were in his Cabinet and bluntly rejected them.

Shortly after the Civil War and the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, a young immigrant named Jacob Schiff arrived in New York. Schiff was the son of a Rabbi from Frankfurt, Germany and is believed to be of the House of Mordecai. At an early age, Schiff entered the House of Warburg, a banking house in Hamburg, which is a lower-order House in the Rothschild hierarchy. The Warburgs sent him to London for a short while to work in the firm of Samuel Montagu and Company, gold merchants, where the House of Montagu was another close affiliate of the House of Rothschild. After a short training period, where he learned the ropes and rubbed shoulders with Lionel Rothschild to set up an inside line of communication with London economic politics, Schiff was promoted to the House of Rothschild. It was then when he was ordered to the United States of America.

Jacob Schiff left England with instructions to buy into a banking house, which, with support and infusion of as much money as needed, could be used to penetrate into the money system of the United States. After looking around Schiff bought a partnership in a firm called Kuhn & Loeb. Kuhn & Loeb were earlier immigrants from Germany who had started in Lafayette, Indiana, by servicing the "covered wagon" trade, settlers, and in later years, followed up by setting up similar stores in other cities. They expanded and prospered, added pawn broking to their activities and finally "Money Lending." When Schiff bought-in, they were known by the respectable title of being a "Banking Firm."

Shortly before becoming a partner in Kuhn & Loeb, Schiff married Loeb's daughter, then bought out Kuhn. The firm then moved to New York and later set up a branch in San Francisco. Thus, we find Jacob H. Schiff, Agent for the House of Rothschild, the absolute owner of Kuhn & Loeb with endless money to back his play.

At this time, Wall Street was the accepted heart of the American Money Mart. J.P. Morgan was its dictator; next in line of power were the Drexel's of Philadelphia.

Schiff played it close. He started to throw a little Rothschild business in the way of Morgan and Drexel in the form of European stocks and bonds. The bait was in the trap.

It was about this time that U.S. industry began to grow - railroads, mines, oil, steel and textiles. All these needed vast amounts of money to finance them: much of which had to be sought from abroad because the Constitutional Treasury would not issue credit against futures. This paved the way for Schiff to have a 'hey day.' Schiff (Kuhn & Loeb) retained the then-emerging Rockefeller Oil and Harriman Railroad for himself, but did not play it greedy. He opened the doors of the House of Rothschild (Kuhn & Loeb) to Morgan, Biddle, Drexel and others but only on terms of Indenture.

Thus, at the turn of the century, Schiff is to be found having tight control of the entire banking fraternity of Wall Street on behalf of the same Houses that controlled and manipulated all the money of the "Western" world, except Russia, and much of the remainder via trade routes and the British Empire.

The situation had a profound affect on the later ability for Paul M. Warburg to hoax the American people in 1913, by swindling them out of their rightful heritage under the Constitution to manage and control their own money via Congress. Constitutional monetary controls were usurped and supplanted by the private owners of the Federal Reserve.

The same tactics are occurring now in Canada in the late 1970's via the Canadian "Bank Act" through the Canadian Bankers' Association. The C.B.A is endeavoring to have the Chartered Banks implant a similar system over Canadians in order to displace the Crown Constitutional Central Bank of Canada. It would enable Federal Reserve counterfeit to be flooded into Canada by the Chartered Banks via hypothecating Government of Canada Bonds, for money supply that then becomes an ever-growing, never-ending debt, repayable with resources and taxes, all of which can devalue the Canadian dollar. Take over of Canada by war is unproductive. Embattlement via the marketplace and debauching the money is preferable. The trick is to bypass the Crown, and find termites within who will do it and avoid being found out or repudiated!

Chapter 13

A NEW WORLD TO STEAL PART 3

How it worked in the United States of America.

There was, in America, a long tradition of resistance against inflicting a private, central banking system on the finances of the country and there had been, up to 1896, a continuous struggle against authoritarian domination of the nation's finances and resources. It had begun with Jefferson in his fight against Alexander Hamilton's scheme for the First Bank of the United States. It has continued with Andrew Jackson's successful struggle against Nicolas Biddle's Second Bank of the United States. Biddle had been backed by James Rothschild of Paris, one of the international bankers. This struggle ended up in the setting up of the independent sub-treasury system that supposedly kept the United States out of the hands of the great bankers, but it all collapsed with the defeat of William Jennings Bryan's silver crusade.

Because the United States' funds were in the sub-treasury system, the bankers deliberately engineered and precipitated the money panics of 1873, 1893 and 1907 causing widespread suffering throughout the country, and arousing the public to demand that Congress enact legislation to prevent the recurrence of artificially inspired money panics. However, it opened an opportunity for Warburg to weave a web.

In 1907, the National Monetary Commission was appointed by Congress in response to public feeling against big bankers after the artificial panic of that year. Senator Nelson Aldrich was its head. He was a millionaire several times over, and was tied up with the Rubber Trust and the Tobacco Trust. This was a fine man to have as the head of a Congressional Committee that had been set up to offer legislation to get the power of money out of the hands of the few, and return it to the people.

Senator Nelson Aldrich and his Commission spent nearly two years jaunting around Europe at the expense of the people. They spent more than $ 300,000 of public money. They met all the so-called "important" European Financiers of the day but, in fact, met only a closely-knit few. They came back to solve all the problems: having been "advised" by the Rothschilds!

On November 22 1910, a group of men met together at Hoboken, New Jersey railway station. First to arrive was Senator Aldrich together with A. Piatt Andrew, a professional economist and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Reporters from most New York daily newspapers were present, but they failed to get a story. Aldrich entered his private car at the end of the train and the shades were immediately drawn down over the windows.

Next to enter the private car was Frank Vanderlip, President of the National Bank of New York, the most powerful bank in the country, representing the Rockefeller oil interests and the railroad systems owned by the banking house of Kuhn & Loeb.

Kuhn & Loeb was the same bank charged, in 1898, with urging the United States to go to war with Spain. Whether the charge was right or not, the National City Bank came out of the Spanish-American war as the proprietor of Cuba's sugar industry.

With Vanderlip was Henry P. Davidson, senior partner of J.P. Morgan Co., and shortly to arrive was Charles D. Norton, President of Morgan's First National Bank of New York. Mr.

Vanderlip declared to reporters that they were only going away for a quiet weekend in the country.

These men controlled banking, oil, railroads, communications, heavy industry, mining, steel, and labor, and tobacco, pharmaceutical and illicit drugs in the United States of America. They embodied Lincoln's premonition of Corporate Enthronement plus more wars, corporate greed, private power and international-multinational capitalism.

The next figure to appear was not well known. He was Paul Moritz Warburg, a German immigrant who had been in the U.S.A. less than eight years but was already a partner in the banking house of Kuhn & Loeb and who, in less than twenty years, was to achieve unchallenged domination over the entire country. Paul Warburg, upon entering the country, spent much of his time writing and lecturing on the doctrine he stood for, on the subject of political monetary economics. With Warburg was Benjamin Strong, an able lieutenant of J.P. Morgan. J.P. Morgan and Kuhn & Loeb had formed an alliance in 1901 known as Northern Securities Company. The company consolidated the Rothschild Empire in America to which had been added, and could be added, anything and everything it could come by. The idiom paralleled Cie du Nord in France, which served the same function there.

J.P. Morgan was the banker who swindled the United States Government during the Civil War by selling to the Union Army, from a federal arsenal, carbines that the army had already condemned. The whole affair, as with the backgrounds of the other tycoons, is thoroughly documented in Gustavus Myer's "History of the Great American Fortunes." The group on the train went to Jekyll Island, Georgia, to hide in the Jekyll Hunt Club, owned by J.P. Morgan and, small elite of New York bankers.

Why all the secrecy? Why this thousand mile trip in a closed railway car? No prize for guessing. This group cooked-up the banking and currency legislation the National Monetary Commission had been entrusted to prepare.

Paul Warburg was charged with doing most of the drafting and planning. Senator Nelson Aldrich was there to see that it came in a form to deceive, and could be sidled through Congress. The other Bankers were there to offer suggestions but mostly out of polite patronage. Out of the meeting, which lasted almost two weeks, came the FEDERAL RESERVE ACT of 1913 that was signed by President Woodrow Wilson, and foisted on the American people when they were not looking, as a terrible Christmas present.

"LET US ISSUE AND CONTROL THE MONEY OF A NATION AND WE CARE NOT WHO MAKES THE LAWS." A quote "Illuminates"

What a postscript - What a conspiracy! But the melody lingers on.

Chapter 14

PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (1978)

Federal Reserve Corporation Part 1

CREATION OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE

Please remember: "Any similarity between Constitutional, National Money and Federal Reserve 'Funny Money' is a figment of imagination."

We now review the manifestation of the "Illuminati" system as patent in the United States Federal Reserve system of handling money. Remember, that at the back of it is the epitome of the admonition that, since time began, men can be bribed or blackmailed into carrying out the wishes of a few.

In 1913, the Private Bankers had the people of the United States completely confused on matters of money. The nation was on the edge of tremendous industrial growth with people everywhere willing to work to build a great country. The international bankers, up to 1913, had pretty well controlled the economy since 1901, but had never tried to take over completely because they knew the country had too many patriots who would rise up and block them.

So began the program of brainwashing and engineered confusion in 1910 to lead the people into believing that the only way to have a stable economy, without recessions, depressions and runs on money, was to turn over the absolute control of money to an all-powerful organization. Arising from this, the international bankers were able to beguile Congress into passing the FEDERAL RESERVE ACT. Neither the United States government nor the people own one red cent of the Federal Reserve or the twelve Federal Reserve Banks. Sometime, no doubt, in the future when the timing is right, there will be, like the Bank of England, a sham to "Officialize" it as a government agency. However, rest assured, administration, control, direction and nepotistic domination will never pass out of the hands of the elite establishment already behind the scenes. In addition, it will remain so until the intent and provision in The Constitution are re-asserted and restored.

Although it is a private corporation, it is quite easy to see how it managed to get the "official" sounding name "Federal Reserve." It was misrepresented to be a function of government. What was not disclosed was that the Federal Reserve is a private corporation with private owners but that the peoples' taxes were to be paid to the corporation and not to the Treasury of the United States. This was an incredible hoax. Adroit manipulation and hidden controls exist to retain ultimate command in private hands. The Federal Reserve is still commanded. It is used for the private gain of the private families who are behind the scenes, via a network of remote controls, devices and, of course, control of the stock exchanges, bond markets and money exchange rates, in the areas of the world under their influence: Command Headquarters, Frankfurt, Germany, and Tactical Field-Command Operations Rooms - London, England, and New York, U.S.A.: With well-drilled armies of front and second line apostate, indentured and supplicant nominees, industrialists, statesmen, politicians, and commercial bankers, kept well-greased and elite to form the "Establishments" that protects and serve the "House" behind the scenes. R and R does not stand for Rest and Recreation!

The Federal Reserve System was organized in 1914. As constituted in 1960 the system comprised of 1: Board of Governors 2: Twelve Federal Reserve Banks 3: Federal Open Market Committee, 4: Federal Advisory Council 5: Member Banks.

The Board of Governors is composed of seven members. Their appointments are made by the President of the United States and confirmed by the Senate after approval from Frankfurt and London. They are recommended and selected from the twelve Federal Reserve Banks and appointed for a period of fourteen years. This Board orders the operations of the entire Federal Reserve organization, and has its offices in Washington, D.C.

Although unofficial, the appointments are carefully screened before any nominations are put forward. The influential moneymen of the nation are consulted, along with the Cabinet, Luminaries of Wall Street, and the Gnomes of Zurich who front for the "House." It is tacitly conceded that only men with credentials of indenture to the system who can be ruined if the system collapses, will be appointed. It is also a defense against possible repudiation.

Each of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks serves a district comprising several States or parts of States. Each is a private corporation. The stockholders are the member banks within the district, but the members are non-voting participants who have no say as to decisions and proceedings. They do as they are told. They are subject to eviction if they dissent or do not go along with the dictates handed down to them from above. Naturally, as they hold their power and personal wealth courtesy of the higher power, they obey and perform as instructed, and are rewarded accordingly.

The Federal Open Market Committee comprises the seven members of the Federal Reserve Board plus five representatives from the twelve Federal Reserve Banks. In this way, majority-voting control is retained. The Committee directs the open market operations of the twelve-Federal Reserve Banks. It monopolizes and purchases the sale of U.S. Government Securities and other Instruments of Obligation that are supposedly offered on the open market, such as Stocks, Bonds, Debentures, State and Municipal Bonds etc., all involved as a closed shop of collusion by The Federal Reserve with their minions in Congress. However, the main purpose of operation is to adjust the basis of bank credit so that there is always ample money to meet the needs of the country. The twelve can call for the creation of money or credit if there is a shortage to meet demand. This ensures the marketplace always appears to be in good shape, and inflation be damned.

The Federal Reserve Council consists of twelve members, one from each of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, selected annually. The appointee is usually drawn from the slate of directors of a Bank, and carefully vetted. The Council meets in Washington D.C. at least four times per annum. It confers (reports) with the Board of Governors on general business conditions and makes suggestions and recommendations regarding the affairs of the Federal Reserve System, but its proposals are purely advisory, perfunctory and carry no weight.

Concisely, the organizational structure of the Federal Reserve is that of a closed corporation.

Chapter 15

PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (1978)

Federal Reserve Corporation Part 2

FORMULA FOR FRAUD

Concisely, the organizational structure of the Federal Reserve is that of a closed corporation. A corporation in which the owners of the voting shares are the be-all-end-all of all that goes on and the major profit-takers, using creative fraud and pipelines of plunder.

The visible masters of the system are the seven Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve. Behind them, the real masters of the United States are the families of the "Illuminati" who are also in control of the Bank of England, I.M.F., Stock Markets and every organization related to them in the world of political monetary economics.

The bonded indebtedness of the United States in 1913, at the time the Federal Reserve Act was foisted, was less than $ 10 billion. This amount was entered onto the books of the Federal Reserve as debt due to it by the country. Today, total indebtedness to the Federal Reserve (1975) is in excess of $ 700,000,000,000 - or approximately $ 2,400 per person -as "National Debt" and in excess of $ 2,000,000,000,000 in private debts from citizens and business. By the end of the century, at the same rate of exponential growth, the amount could easily exceed $ 700,000,000,000,000, most of it having gone unconstitutionally, via conversion, into the coffers of the "Fed" and its hierarchy: Remember England 1694!

The amount of debt-free money in circulation (1975) is about $ 5 billion and the amount of paper currency in circulation about $ 65 billion. The balances of debts are mere bookkeeping entries. The Bankers are collecting interest and profits from what initially was counterfeit "Scotch mist."

When a government requires money for capital purposes to create a public asset, it is constitutionally able to have it created and issued by the National Mint through the National Treasury. It is cost free, debt-free and tax-free, but by quirk of legalizing the incredible hoax of the Federal Reserve, every government bond or instrument of indenture is handed as a mark of obligation for a line of credit in a Federal Reserve Bank by which to borrow or buy money supply. It has the cost-stigma of having to be redeemed as debt, be loaded with Interest as added liability, and requires the levy of taxes to make the repayments. From this, you will see that the Federal Reserve, a Private Corporation, creates money out of thin air, lends it to governments, or people, collects interest on the promissory note and, because it has the power to create 30:1 on the amount that gets re-deposited with them, is able to snowball the fraud and hoax with impunity.

It is a staggering realization, yet this same formula is re-enactment of the system that brought England to its knees, France to its knees, and countless other countries the world over. Canada is the next victim marked for siphoning through the Federal Reserve pipeline of plunder at the hands of the I.M.F., C.B.A., political insider termites and weasels indoctrinated into the Federal Reserve Dogma of Debt.

Chapter 16

PIPELINE OF PLUNDER (1978)

Federal Reserve Corporation and I.M.F. Part 3

NICE GOING WHEN THEY GET IT

The International Monetary Fund and World Bank operate the same system as the Federal Reserve but at international level. Countries are targets in place of internal domestic product.

Because of the Federal Reserve System, the entire output and wealth of the country and its people are delivered as an outright gift of great worth in exchange for "Funny Money" worth nothing. A privately owned, private corporation steals the country and the people blind because they, the country and the peoples' elected representatives, are too greased, too lazy, too mesmerized and too stupid to do anything about it!

While there are political parties forming governments, financed and elected with private financier's money, nothing will ever be done because the political group and politicians owe their existence and fortune to the financiers in the Federal Reserve and in sustaining the system. They would sooner borrow, be in debt and pay taxes rather than use the Constitution to create currency and credit, cost-free, debt-free and tax-free! The difference is a bigger struggle, just as poignant today as in the days before the Civil War: Crown or Credit, English style; Debit or Credit financing, U.S. style; Peaceful production or Warmonger industry, private corporate style.

The only way any country can relieve itself from the presence of everlasting, perpetually increasing inflation and "National Debt" is to decide that 'enough is enough,' perform the long-overdue deed of repealing the Federal Reserve Act, and return the Mint and Treasury to the Constitutional control of Congress as a whole. This, or outright Nationalization by buying up the Banks, settling with shareholders, and take over all assets as additions to the balance sheet of Gross National Assets. The half-ass ploy of "Officializing" but leaving a "National Debt" still due is, as previously stated, a scam leaving taxpayers and citizens impaled on a hook, paying hidden hands and elite! The same goes for every country under the I.M.F. In addition, remember the ruse in 1913 that started it all, by claiming it would be the system that solved everything.

If all loans in the western world were called for repayment to the private bankers, no one and no nation would have a red cent of savings, no bank deposits, no assets left and no future income to look forward to because it would all be foreclosed under existing "Law." There would be no money in circulation, no funds for trade and exchange, and no towers of gold -just a hovel in a hole full of clay. It is a staggering thought. The British, the Europeans, the Australians, the Canadians, the Japanese and many others in the world would be without money and still owe the "system" more than ever could be repaid, even if they pawned everything they had. All because the money system we live by is ethereal and an incredible hoax. Yet it has become convention.

Stop and think. It is the result of giving up Constitutional control of money creation, the Mint, Treasury and awarding money creation rights to private financiers. On top of this, the system is operated absolutely without viable and trustworthy substance because it has nothing to back it. When the enormity and tragic absurdity of it is digested, it is dumbfounding to realize we have let ourselves be hoaxed, hoodwinked and taken to the cleaners as private, corporate profit.

The Banking Camarilla is the most important subject intelligent persons can investigate and reflect upon. It is so important that our present culture and civilization will collapse unless something is done to effect escape from it. The time is to hand when the private I.M.F. must be repudiated and all international debts cancelled. A new system of National Banks, and an International Bank initiated, owned by the contributing nations, operated on a non-profit, trustee basis; and all nations should re-start their economies from a par calculated upon an agreed standard of valuation, weights and measures. Critically, a return to free-enterprise, free trade and a marketplace devoid of private money-creation bankers must be developed: And all nations issue new, debt-free currencies for internal commerce, having the same value but different identity to a joint currency circulated by the joint international bank for international commerce and exchange. This will keep better records of national, private, domestic and international economics.

Chapter 17

THE CHASE CONNECTION PART 1

SCHIFFTY BUSINESS

Contrary to popular belief, and a misconception adroitly never corrected by the moneychangers, the Chase Manhattan Bank is not named after Salmon P. Chase, the Secretary of the Treasury in Lincoln's Cabinet.

The Chase Manhattan Bank is named after SEAN CHASE, a ribald immigrant from Ireland in 1848. On arrival in New York, Chase quickly sized up the licentiousness of the times, and deftly set about using the ways and situations to cash in on the rush to head west. He was befriended by a wealthy Madame at one of his regular places of visitation who, when she died, left him owning three bawdy houses, a distillery and enough money to finance him into money lending. Sean Chase was an aspirant social climber but could never make the grade because of his background and activities. He was shunned by uptown society.

Perhaps his biggest impact, and consequence upon the destiny of the United States, was his joining of Tammany Hall. Here, he quickly became a Boss to organize his fellow immigrants and others. He found them jobs, lent them money at usurious rates, and indentured them on terms that called for a cut from their wages or a piece of the action if they were self-employed. He got into the press-gang racket as an additional source for making money.

The Chase Bank, like Kuhn & Loeb before it, mushroomed from being a usury house on the seamy side of town, to becoming a 'respectable' banking house under the emergence of his son, Charles, in later years. Sean Chase was determined to find a route into the upper crust, even at the expense of him and his son appearing to disown each other until the right moment. Sean paid Charles' way through college, University and memberships in the right clubs, and marriage into the Rockefeller family, keeping it, all the while, in the nether background. Charles, for his part, put it out that he was sponsored by a distant relative, hinting of Salmon P., and often denied his connection and relationship to Sean if ever the subject was mooted or suspected.

Charley Chase the First attracted the attention of Jacob Schiff. Schiff could see a smart Harvard graduate, and a coldly efficient legal brain that could be put to use for the purposes of grasp and empire building for the House of Rothschild, for which he was the domo Agent. Schiff took Charles under his wing, installed him in the prestigious law firm that was the legal center for Schiff's activities. When the association had evolved sufficiently for Schiff not to be able to unload him, and because he was by now entrenched in marriage to the Rockefellers, the connection between Charley and Sean was made known. This rocked Schiff a little, but as it brought a ready-made banking house into the fold that reached into the rackets and Labor strongholds, he decided he might not have gotten a bad bargain after all, so he grinned to himself and promptly set to work to make use of the gain.

From this moment on it was the Chase Bank acceptance of Kuhn & Loeb money, as brother bankers, which snaffued them into the orbit of the House of Rothschild - next in line after the Morgan/Rockefeller First National that was already in the Schiff portfolio. The marriage between Miss Rockefeller and Chase consolidated the holdings of the two subcultures, also under the auspices of Schiff. Thus was brought about the establishment of the second largest banking house of Wall Street, at the time. As Charley Chase 1 was a lawyer, in the firm that catered to Schiff, Kuhn & Loeb and the other Rothschild holdings, it was an easy matter to set up a concomitant relationship for the Chase Connection.

Within five years both Sean and Charles lost their autonomy and independence. Both were subservient collaborators under Schiff and were obliged, though not at all reluctant, to do much of the money-market dirty work that brought about the artificial money panics of 1873, 1893 and 1907. Charles set and stoked the fires of distrust and confusion that created the tenor for acceptance of the National Monetary Commission (1907-1913). It was Charles who contributed much of the vice-like grip clamped on Wall Street between 1908 and 1913, when the Federal Reserve was hatched and slipped in on the American people, December 23rd, 1913 whilst they prepared for Christmas, unaware of the treachery being knifed to them. Chase also contributed to the imposition of the "Volstead Act" which became law, finally in 1920 but a fait-accompli in 1917. Chase, of course, was well rewarded for his efforts, and earned rank in the hierarchy. But it must never be forgotten that it was the Chase connection that delivered organized labor, body and soul, the rackets and stock market into the hands of Rockefeller and Schiff, and was a major contributor to the creation of the Federal Reserve Corporation cabal.

As stated, the Chase Bank was founded on graft, booze, sin, impress and crime. It accomplished its meteoric climb as the result of following those policies, marriage, and Rothschild money by way of indenture, patronage and encouragement. To have all these classes of action within one shell, as an apparent arms-length vehicle, suited Schiff very well. It was a bonus on a platter. To this day, the Chase Manhattan Bank is still the freewheeling bank link, funnel, tunnel, basket and laundry and the mix-master between Labor, the Federal Reserve Board, the Underworld, the Government, Congress, Wall Street and the I.M.F. for money creamed off from the U.S. Marketplace and the American people.

Following the advent of Jacob Schiff, the indenturing of Morgan, Drexel, Biddle, Rockefeller and Chase et al, Kuhn & Loeb set about structuring the Rothschild Empire in the U.S.A. It was Schiff's prime duty as the Official Agent for the House of Rothschild. The Master Company, or holding company, was to be not less than 51% owned and controlled by direct holdings or indirect nominees, and the remainder could go to the "100 Club" being the top 100 families of prestige, power, influence and wealth in finance, government, industry and trade. Although 51% was the minimum, 66% was the target: and in subsidiary holdings too. The Master entity formed was named Northern Securities Company, following the idiom of Cie du Nord in France.

Chapter 18

THE CHASE CONNECTION PART 2

THE HIGH COMMAND

The High Command of the House of Rothschild, as personified in Jacob Schiff, Kuhn & Loeb, Rockefeller, Morgan, Drexel, Biddle, Roosevelt, Vanderbilt, Vanderlip, Chase and all the others that comprised the "Unholy 100 Club" has been the cattle prod of control in the U.S.A. ever since its inception in 1901. It epitomized the principles of "Corporate Control" as predicted by Lincoln, and took, as its precept, the philosophies and doctrines of the earlier "Illuminati." Ruthless preparation for the future entrapment and plunder of U.S. production, wealth and power, as planned for so long, could now begin. The Chase Bank and Chase Connections provided the convenient vehicle and organization that could be used to two-time America, and flim-flam the peoples' representatives. Charles Chase 1 sired a son, also named Charles, whom we will refer to as Charley Chase II. Grandson Chase (Charley II) was later assigned a critical role in the early 1920's but we will come to it in due course.

In the latter part of the nineteenth century, the Chase family was ordered to become allied with the cause of Carry Nation and her prohibition bandwagon. It was a worthy idea, but like so many good causes was quickly to become exploited and seized upon to turn a political and marketplace trick or two. Shortly after gathering steam, it was turned into a contrived campaign. The women got lots of money and wholeheartedly went for the altruistic and emotional ideals, but they never suspected or knew of the backroom gamesmanship. The whole affair was hyped up by Jacob Schiff, Rockefeller and Chase as a ruse to force the many wealthy, independent brewery and distillery owners into enjoining them in the "Unholy 100 Club." Otherwise, they would be compelled to sell out cheap at a later date if they were stubborn; or be put out of business and into bankruptcy if they placed integrity and pride ahead of the Rothschild demands. Chase put his tongue in his cheek, and to hell with hypocrisy! Even if it took thirty years, the prize was well worth seeking.

Similar reviews and game plans were made for Farming, Fuel, Transportation, Communications, Pharmaceutical, Resources and Manufacturing, not to mention the independent, wealthy family banks. The formula worked again: and will be worked repeatedly, at national and international levels until tumbled to and rejected by the exploited victims.

With the passing of Carry Nation in 1911, it took almost another seven years to get the prohibition game wrapped up. But it was not until it was a sinecure, from 1917 onward, that the plans to perpetrate the total conspiracy could be unleashed. The "Volstead Act" was the signal. If you recall, the farmers, the private bankers, the energy producers, transport systems, and thriving industrialists were forced into financial mortal combat between 1920 and 1923, and the remnants mopped up in 1929 when the market crash was contrived. The Independents had to enjoin the cartels being set up and receive their non-voting, profit bearing shares; sell out cheap; or go under. This is variously what they did.

The "100 Club" swelled to become the "FORTUNE 500 CLUB" and the rest went into subservience or oblivion.

Chapter 19

THE CHASE CONNECTION PART 3

AND PAUL WARBURG TOO!

In 1904, as Jacob Schiff was becoming an older man, the House of Rothschild sent over Paul Moritz Warburg to become their replacement Agent. He was to learn the ropes, wriggle himself into place and await his succession. It came in 1920 with the death of Schiff, though he, Warburg, was the effective controller from the time of his arrival. His initial triumph was the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 but his later exploits were just as seditious.

As the outcome of the "Volstead Act" 1920, rum running became a profitable business. However, it had to be bankrolled. The money came in suitcases produced by Warburg and Rockefeller but the bank used was the Chase Bank. The front man was Charley Chase II who became the public's bogeyman. The money was churned out on the printing presses of the Federal Reserve with gay abandon without any reference back to, or approval from Government. The Federal Reserve Board had, by now, settled in since 1914, and had no opposition from government, or the independent bankers. The only thing the people of America saw was more and more money in circulation, which was just great and gave them blase prestige abroad. The dollar was almighty - valuable or valueless!

The poor minions caught in the act of rum running were simply disowned, thrown into prison or killed as expendable soldiers in an army. If they were high ranking 'Officers' they were extricated from 'due process of law,' pensioned off, and told to stay out of the way and keep quiet.

But there was a problem. The small-time hoods, who had entered into the rackets ahead of 1920, were a cause for alarm. Too many were in the games. Too many were insolent, or insubordinate to orders passed down to them; and some were taking off with too much of the profit that was to be made. Something had to be done.

With the administration of Wilson effectively secured, but his usefulness wearing a bit thin, he had to be removed and another more pliant, subservient puppet installed as President. Warren Harding was the right man, in the right circumstances, and a right dimwit, past whom they could get anything that Warburg and Rockefeller wanted. Beginning in 1919, elected in 1920 and inaugurated in 1921, Harding took heat for two years then died in Office under the strain of too much Warburg and too many wenches. He had a penchant for Broadway actresses and nymphomaniac chorus girls, readily supplied to his suite in The Waldorf Astoria in exchange for his signature on Bills and Orders. Hanky-panky politics. Hanky-panky pay!

Taft delivered the U.S. Treasury and the banking system to the Rothschild's Federal Reserve. Wilson played the double game for the Warburgs and Duponts. Harding surrendered the marketplace and independent wealth of the nation, and later F.D.R., Eisenhower and Nixon all paid for their election in dubious ways. The next one may be Carter who, like F.D.R., is a Democrat financed into Office with Republican money. Carter and his Vice-President Mondale are both members of the Rothschild-Rockefeller Trilateral Commission formed in 1972 as the modern-day incarnation of the former "Illuminati." The future will be no different until restored "Constitutional America" takes money matters back from Wall Street.

The Trilateral Commission is meat for another chapter but it is fitting to insert a few words here. It was sponsored by Baron Edmund de Rothschild in 1972, and is controlled by him. It is fronted in the United States by Rockefeller. It is composed of heads of corporate clout, media control, labor bosses, industrial princes, and apostate politicians chosen from around the world to be a "Yes-man" chorus. The emerging "Rapprochement" approach is a cover to hide the objective whereby the Rothschild family and "Illuminati" will check their inventories and re-establish their influence on political monetary economics: and know when, where and what to do to bring on recessions via which to foreclose on equity assets.

The relations of the Trilateral are: World Federalists who are aiming for One World Government, Club of Rome, Gnomes of Zurich, European Common Market proponents, the Gold Market, Silver Market, International Money Market. International Monetary Fund, World Bank, Bank of England as the Sterling Standard comptroller, and the U.S. Federal Reserve as the Gold Standard comptroller: and, the little-known Council of Foreign Relations. Under these top stones of the pyramid are Swiss and other tax-haven Banks, The Underworld, Central National Banks, Chartered Banks, financial institutions, Investment Houses, Stock markets and subsidiaries too numerous to list. The I.M.F., I.M.M., I.M.Exchange and Stock markets are the daily operating storefronts used to make, break, manipulate, up-value or devalue national currencies and securities against each other, with impunity, without accountability, and at their whim for profit-taking. It is all done on direction and instructions, twenty-four hours per day, from Supreme Headquarters in London, England... And phone calls from Frankfurt.

With Labor, Banks, Resources, Produce, Energy, Fuel, Raw Materials, Communications, Transport, Big industry, Arts and Entertainment in the bag by the early 1920's, the only un-harnessed monopoly was crime. Somehow, it had to be annexed, but how? Hand had to be kept on the mechanisms of control - and the till, but without if being seen by the people. Prying had to be prevented if anyone got suspicious and started looking under stones.

It was decided that the Vote and control must remain with Warburg and Chase/Rockefeller as the Agent and Nominees respectively for the House of Rothschild and sidekicks. It was also recognized that some pay-off mechanism would have to be provided for the others, such as the Federal Reserve Board, Congressmen, Government and the Fortune 500 who were in on the action. As usual, the "Corporate Principle" would be used, the core of "owners" holding all the voting shares as common shares, with the remainder having nonvoting shares to represent their proportions. This way, dividend payout could be as voted upon. The whole thing would be screened in a "Trust." As usual, R&R Inc would grab off 66%, the rest sharing the remaining 34%. Again, as usual, the rest would be the facade, put up the front and expense money, and R&R Inc would get a free ride.

Chapter 20

CRIME DOES PAY PART 1

THE UNDERWORLD

Up to 1923, the Mafiosi were not in the U.S.A. To this day, it is still not in the U.S.A. as a direct arm of the Mafiosi, per se. The American underworld was permitted to borrow the name as part of the deal to camouflage what was really to take place. The U.S. underworld is an independent, separate regime having nothing to do with the real Mafiosi. The name Mafiosi was commuted to "Mafia" and the additional name "Cosa Nostra" added to increase the confusion. It was decided, as part of the system, to own and prosper from the underworld in a manner that evaded taxes. Furthermore, it would have to appear it was a regime imported as a clandestine invasion along with the influx of Italian immigrants in the mid 1920's. It was a plausible, well-timed ruse and a way to disown, divert or shuck-off blame.

Thus, Charley Chase II was treated to a holiday in Italy in 1923. While there, he made an innocuous trip on the side, where he had been assigned a meeting with the Grand Don of the Mafiosi in Sicily. On this trip, the deal was made. But Charley II never knew that his visit had been pre-cut and dried before he arrived. Via the Warburg/Rothschild connections, advance arrangements had been made with the Grand Don. However, Chase came back to collect the accolades and approbation of his peers feeling he had made a glorious contribution to the great conspiracy. He was never disillusioned.

In the deal, the Grand Don was to assign an able Lieutenant to be set up in the U.S.A. as the Head Don to develop North America including Canada, Cuba and Mexico. In return, the Grand Don would receive a cut from all moneys creamed off by the underworld that reached the pockets of the R&R Cabal. His cut would be delivered via a secret numbered bank account in Switzerland or Lichtenstein. The Swiss Branch of the Chase Bank would be the funnel and repository, for a commission, of course! The U.S. Head Don was guaranteed immunity from harassment, prosecution, accounting and taxation, indemnified by the Federal Reserve Board, which controlled the Treasury: the Government, which controlled Federal and State Attorneys-General; and, any action by State Legislative Bodies that were in the palm of the Federal Reserve Bankers. Any action against senior persons would be, at the most, superficial to assuage public concern and scrutiny, but always procrastinated into being dropped or pigeon-holed before any expose, hurt or incarceration could be experienced. The protection racket was installed at the very top levels, defended by high-priced lawyers in on the take, and segments of the Supreme Court.

In 1924, the "Underworld" was officially instituted as an "Establishment" regime. Haste was made to open up the network of activities right across the country, with sidelines into Canada, Cuba and Mexico as future plums to be picked when ripe but as the network spread, those who were in ahead of time got rather uppity and made a stand. Underworld war broke out. Those who held out were gunned down, or immobilized by the F.B.I., which had been created to track down the dissidents as well as protect the "Establishment" in every phase of its operations. However, there was yet another snag: As the network spread, and the rake-off became visible to the hired hands, the elements of cross and double-cross, and the interloping of free spirit, enterprising, independent, homegrown hoods and renegades, crept into the picture to challenge the Establishment regime. This had not been bargained for at all.

The moneychangers had not reckoned on having opened a Pandora's Box. But they had: So they had to move accordingly. These Para-culture underworlds had to be contended with, combated and destroyed. As always, the first try was to buy them off, the second move was to try to force them into cheap submission and the last move was elimination - bullets or cement boots optional!

Thus came about the F.B.I. under J. Edgar Hoover to be supplemented in later years by the I.R.S., C.I.A. and other secret police agencies, to spy on each other as they became embroiled in the plays and double-crosses that went on in all levels. Gang warfare was the flip side of the coin whereby the Establishment Regime had its own methods of operating alongside the visible forces of the law used by the "Feds."

By and large, the Federal Reservists opened up a can of worms, many of which got away, and they have been trying to round them up ever since.

Basically, the Mafia, with the aid and succor of the Federal Reserve Banks, paid puppets in government and Administration, keep things pretty well under their thumb but still experience naive upstarts, who have no conception of the background, history and fate of dissidents, interlopers, and headstrong subordinates who feel they can make off with a piece of the action on the side. Thus, the situation is down to being a series of running skirmishes, annoying but manageable.

The faceless, clandestine route set up via the Chase Manhattan Bank and the numbered Swiss Bank accounts enable money to be spirited out of the U.S.A. in a dubious manner but it is protected by the self-same people who make and administer the law. The production of the people, as channeled into the rackets, is siphoned off through underworld suction pumps, many of which become 'legitimized' businesses. They have been set up with laundered money. The skimmed money is sent to numbered Swiss bank accounts, where it is divided up according to the proportion due to each participant. The Grand Don receives his royalty; the Rothschild's grab their chunk; Rockefeller gets his kickback, and the remaining 34% reaches the rest of the cronies in the game. In this game, there is definitely honor among thieves!

All this money is outside the orbit of the U.S. Treasury, the U.S. Tax Collector and the jurisdiction of Congress, because Congress gave up its rights and the rights of the people to control money and taxes with the Federal Reserve Act, 1913. Yet these monies come back into the U.S.A. as "lawful" foreign investment, approved by the Federal Reserve and the I.M.F. and a blind eye in Congress.

The U.S. Underworld is owned by the same private people, corporations and nominees who own the I.M.F, I.M.E. I.M.M., the Federal Reserve Board and the twelve Federal Reserve Banks and Euro. They have also 'usurped' the rights to the U.S. Treasury, U.S. Mint and the U.S. Tax Department. They regulate the creation, supply and distribution of money by, to, and for themselves, and control lawmakers, labor unions, and all other key functions of the nation.

Chapter 21

CRIME DOES PAY (Circa 1978) PART 2

THEFT BY STEALTH

The "PRIVATE CAPITAL, FREE-TRADE, CORPORATE SYSTEM," is different to the "INDEPENDENT OPEN, FREE-MARKET SYSTEM," is different to the "SOCIAL STATE MONOPOLISTIC SYSTEM," in the same ways Bella Donna is different to a Rose is different to a Lemon.

By their control of the Private, corporate system, the Rothschilds and Rockefellers have implanted a regime whereby they can forever prevent the government, or the people, from having enough money in circulation or be able to service interest payments, let alone pay down capital off the "National Debt." The consequences are that accelerating debt and compounding interest have to be endured. Interest payments are extorted by way of taxation, purloin of output and production income, or foreclosure on national assets inflation. Devaluation and taxes becomes an ever-rising perpetual auger of debt and plunder. Shortage is imposed. Abundance is withheld. To add insult to injury, the 'debt' created is not even real. It is based upon anti-constitution, unconstitutional "funny money" created out of the blue, printed on paper, or mere bookkeeping entries defined as "credit or debit." It is theft by stealth converting nothing into something, as an incredible hoax.

The only constitutional, debt-free and cost-free system that permits independent, open free market exchange and trade, is the one whereby the people authorize, create and distribute currency that is based upon and represents tangible worth backed, by assets that have an approved, universal value for commerce, exchange and trade. It is currency free from private manipulation that is not a commodity of trade in itself.

Social State Monopoly is a closed system subject to government decree. It is devoid of free trade, open market prices and values, as an unnatural system at risk of corruption.

If the people of the United States but realized it, they are victims of a cruel conspiracy and incredible hoax. The very same fraud they are inflicting upon Canada and other nations. In time, if not repudiated and given the old heave-ho, the private financiers will come to own the U.S.A by way of its default in bankruptcy and foreclosure: a circumstance the people will find hard to escape because they have allowed the corporate system to become enthroned, and are too timid to take back and restore rule according to the provisions in The Constitution. In England, Canada and the Commonwealth, the right is still in the hands of the people under the Crown, and the Crown cannot be foreclosed. In the U.S.A., the right is stolen by the Federal Reserve, which will resist destroying itself until forced, or the system bursts, or collapses in on itself as unsustainable mischief.

Up to 55% of U.S. Gross National Product, and 60% of money printed or ciphered, goes into the hands of the underworld, then in to secret bank accounts. The remainder stays in the economy to be spread around legitimate activity. Even so, the bulk of that ends upon in the hands of the privateers because they own and control all consumer goods, supply and services, either through legitimate or "legalized" fronts. The small amount left in the possession of individuals is miniscule pickings but, surprisingly, this 1% in the hands of the public is somehow sufficient to keep a lid on things. How this 1% can be expected to repay for the 100% raised as borrowed national capital and currency is a mystery!

Legal or illegal, the people of the U.S.A are being stripped naked and skinned. Canada is predestined for the same fate within but a few short years, at the hands of the U.S.A and Federal Reserve.

The cabal is forcing nations to execute each other in rotation without them realizing that as each becomes the executioner, it also becomes the next one to be executed: a macabre policy that has been successful for over three hundred years as a proven formula. The latest golden boy is no safer in the end than the first hapless victim is. The only differences are technique and finesse.

If you have ever wondered why Switzerland and Lichtenstein are allowed to remain neutral, unharmed and unscathed, now you know. It is the protected melting pot for the moneychangers. They are the places where the devil takes care of his own.

Chapter 22

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

One of the main selling points that the bankers used to get the Federal Reserve Act passed (THE SAME ARGUMENT IS BEING TOUTED TODAY BY THE I.M.F. AT WORLD LEVEL AND IN CANADA AT LOCAL LEVEL) was if they had control of money we would have no more depressions. Yet after the great depression of 1929-1934 Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President of America said, "We, the men here assembled, knew the depression was coming, but we did nothing about it." We have seen a repeat of this in Canada in the past decade, and nothing being done about it except leadership into the abyss.

Within four years of the passing of the Federal Reserve Act in 1913, the U.S. had been involved in the First World War and was in the grip of an absolute troika dictatorship. Heavy industry was under the dictatorship of Wall Street gambler Bernard Baruch: food and agriculture was under the dictatorship of a London Exchange gold manipulator -Herbert Hoover (J. Edgar Hoover was the F.B.I.,) who had not been a resident of the country for twenty years prior to his appointment by Woodrow Wilson: and Finance was under the dictatorship of Paul Moritz Warburg, who was none other than the Chairman of the private Federal Reserve Board of Governors. His allegiance was to the family House of Warburg (M.M. Warburg & Co.) Hamburg, Germany, and the domo House of Rothschild. Daddy Warbucks was THE AGENT and the others were sub-agents. This ought to make you think! M.M Warburg & Co. was, between 1914 and 1919, financing the Germans against Britain and the United States, and Paul Warburg's firm of Kuhn & Loeb had five representatives in the Treasury Department of the U.S.A in charge of Liberty Loans, thus financing the war against the Germans!

In a preface written for a group of Warburg's essays calling for a central banking system, Professor E.R.A. Seligman, of the Department of Economics at Columbia University said, "The Federal Reserve Act is the work of Mr. Warburg more than of any other man in the country." What does that tell you?

The Federal Reserve was ballyhooed as the peoples' plan. It promised the people everything. It promised to liberate the farmer from his yearly need for credit to get his crops seeded, harvested and sent to market. According to the "Act," he could get plenty of credit at the Reserve Bank. The National Granges refused to endorse it, pointing out that its control mechanisms were not likely to benefit anybody but the bankers, and this was proven when the Federal Reserve caused the Agricultural Depression of 1920-1921.

Another benefit of the F.R.A., it was claimed, was that it would stabilize the monetary system, monetary unit and give the dollar a consistent and balanced purchasing power. The Federal Reserve Act, as signed by Woodrow Wilson, contained no such stabilization mechanisms, but it did contain plenty of factors, which would make stabilization impossible. Its manipulation of the discount rate to vary the amount of money in circulation and its open market operations, dumping quantities of Government Securities on the Stock Exchanges, or withholding them to create expansion or contraction, were the conditions directly responsible for the great crash of 1929-31; and the formula for use later by the I.M.F the I.M.M and the Trilateral Commission, 1946-1977.

Whilst some effort has been made since to introduce regulating mechanisms, the measures introduced still leave loopholes through which the Federal Reserve can retreat or pop out from, according to whether it wants a bull or bear market, and from behind which it can manipulate if retrenchment or defensive measures are necessary. It is a self-regulating, self-governing autocracy.

In the past few years, especially since 1973, the Federal Reserve, its masters the I.M.F., and the countries which it affects, have been forced into piecemeal measures and actions to try and re-enforce the fabric of their crumbling economies, as they know that if bankruptcy occurs, they lose all that they have plundered over the years.

As said before, Bankers get rich from wars - the First World War was started in 1914. The Federal Reserve started in 1914. The American taxpayers, in the guise of the Federal Reserve, lent the Allies $25 billion that has not been repaid, except as interest to the New York Bankers. The U.S. was forced into war against the Germans. The Dupont's doubled the price of gunpowder to the government the day war was declared.

By sending shiploads of munitions to Europe, the Germans had an excuse to sink the Lusitania, which is exactly what the Warburgs had planned. This enabled Kuhn & Loeb to cash in on the American side, and the Warburgs to cash in on the German side. The pay-offs to industrialists such as Dodge, Remington, Winchester, Krupp, Messerschmidt etc., were the real reason for the war. The lives lost were incidental.

The same kind of tack took place in World War II, Korea and Vietnam, but let us review a spicy little footnote. The following United States Naval Secret Service Report of December 12, 1918 on Mr. Paul M. Warburg stated: Warburg, Paul, New York City, German, naturalized American citizen 1911, was decorated by Kaiser 1912, was vice chairman of Federal Reserve Board, handled large sums furnished by Germany for Lenin and Trotsky. Has brother who is leader of the espionage system in Germany. Family member of M.M. Warburg Co., Financiers, Hamburg, Germany.

The Federal Reserve System began purchasing Russian gold in 1920, and Russian currency was accepted on Exchanges. According to Ely Garrison, in his autobiography, and according to U.S. Naval Intelligence on Paul Warburg, the Russian Revolution was financed by Rothschild via the Marxists, with a member of the Warburg family carrying the funds, which had to be used to buy back the revolution from Trotsky in Stockholm in 1917-1918. In other words, they had financed both sides, the winner, and the winner's winner in the usual fashion of playing all ends to the middle.

During the First World War years, a great deal of money had reached the hands of the farmers, private bankers and industrialists in the central U.S. Most of these independent banks refused to join the Federal Reserve System. This money then was outside the hands of Wall Street cabal, which wanted it back! That is why the Agricultural Depression of 1921 was engineered. The main task of the Federal Reserve Board was to break these small country farmers and bankers, and get back the money that had been paid out to them during the wars years. In effect, ruin them, and this it proceeded to do. Senator Robert L Owen, Chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee testified at the Senate Silver Hearing in 1939, "In the early part of 1920, the farmers were exceedingly prosperous. They were paying off their mortgages and buying lots of land, at the instance of the government. They borrowed money to do it. Then they were suddenly bankrupted by a sudden contraction of money and credit, at the whim of the Federal Reserve Board."

The independent bankers went broke right alongside the farmers, because they not only loaned money to the farmers but had also been buying land with the money they got from the Federal Reserve. Since that time and example, it has been impossible for the bankers to fight the Federal Reserve. Inducing borrowers into debt and then calling the loan, thereby, 'cutting them off at the pass' has been a banker's game-plan for years!

When Franklin D. Roosevelt took office as President, he appointed as Director of the Budget, James Paul Warburg, son of Paul M. Warburg, and vice president of the International Acceptance Bank and other corporations. Roosevelt set up the Securities Exchange Commission to see to it that no new faces got into the Wall Street Group and at a Congressional hearing, Representative Gifford asked Leon Henderson from the Federal Reserve: "Was not Joe Kennedy (the father of President Kennedy) put in the Commission because he was sympathetic to big business?" Mr. Henderson replied "Yes."

Remember that President John F. Kennedy campaigned on the promise that he would pick up where Roosevelt left off! However, he opted out of that promise later when he fully realized the hoax and con game that it represented. He was dead a few days later.

The U. S. Banking Act of 1935 greatly increased Roosevelt's power over the nation's finances. First of all, it extended the term of office of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors to 14 years. It also stripped all powers from the officers and directors of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks. The 1935 amendments placed all of the powers into the hands of the Board of Governors and the Open Market Committee, thus narrowing, but increasing, the base of autocratic control. This effectively brought behind the scenes, power and control back to the President, who was the front man for the real powers-behind-the-scenes, yet which powers-behind-the-scenes were the appointers of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve.

During the period 1942 - 1945, the Federal Reserve increased its holdings of U.S Securities by $22 billion. In three short war years, it had doubled its assets. At the same time, the Government went into debt $250 million to the Federal Reserve, who did nothing but enter credits in a ledger! Do you still wonder why we have seen three major wars, two depression-s and rotating recessions since the Federal Reserve was created? The recession in 1976 augers to be the penultimate one, which will bring on collapse of the system. No doubt some astute trick, such as the debasement of bullion and a shift to a pure paper standard, will be performed to buy time at the last minute but it will only be a postponement of the inevitable when nations wake up to the fact that they are suckers to a paper tiger.

Without doubt, the conspiracies of the Bank of England, the Federal Reserve and the I.M.F. are the most sinister, evil hoaxes and frauds that have ever been put into operation in the saga of man. Millions of souls have been killed, maimed, duped, impoverished or robbed of their heritage, assets and production for no other reason than to make a handful of private bankers richer.

Do you now see the vast power that Federal Reserve in the United States, and the Chartered Bank in Canada have over us? Yet, it is a power that can be taken away from them in one session of Congress, or one sitting of Parliament.

Banks, both reserve and commercial, are constantly buying and selling on the open market: Securities, Investments, Instruments of Obligation; Treasury Notes; Stocks; Bonds and Promissory Notes are all within their scope. The Canadian banks are constantly bringing in foreign money so that they can make loans to businesses and private individuals.

Industry is not of government. Industry predestines the government in that it might operate in a climate of law and order. Therefore, the Government is an agency of industry set up for the protection of industry in the marketplace, and not for the people or the consumer. Specifically, it shelters the special interest of bankers.

Do you still wonder why and how Rockefeller, and other multi-national corporations and the rest of the gang in on the conspiracy, so generously donate millions of dollars to all left wing causes, whilst keeping a wary eye on right wing proponents! It pays them to keep the pot stirred up!

CHAPTER 23

INCEST

It is not fully realized that some Canadian Bankers and politicians are willing and/or naive, unsuspecting pawns in the hands of the United States Federal Reserve, which is an organization of private autonomy, unsupervised, omnipotent and non-accountable for its actions; and, which includes in its relations the F.B.I., the C.I.A., the I.R.S., a more senior deity - the I.M.F., and the ultimate command committee, the Trilateral Commission.

The Trilateral Commission is the present- day manifestation of the former "Illuminati," and is an organization that is just as secretive. It was convened in 1972 under the personal sponsorship of Baron Edmond de Rothschild of France, and enjoined by David Rockefeller of the United States. Simultaneously, Rothschild brought in the U.K arm of the family under the guise of "Rapprochement," which is supposed to be a form of reconciliation within the family. What in fact rapprochement amounts to is a cover for the reassertion of power and dominance the family intends to flex, as soon as possible, after 1979. The acts of infiltration, patronage, destabilization, and engineered downfalls that are being perpetrated internationally by the I.M.F., are being carried out, as per the original Master Plan of two centuries ago, with the cooperative consent, or under pressure, through the governments and banking systems of the hapless nation being attacked, including Canada!

That the policies of the Trilateral Commission are well-disguised stratagems is obvious. It is curiously hushed up. A strange tactic if everything is benign and above board? It is obvious that the media has been gotten to, as there are never any reports of the meetings, policies, or decisions. What little does filter out is quickly suppressed or countered by statements of "good intentions" (for who?) on the part of the Commission and its members. It is well to remember the old adage that the road to hell also is paved with "good intentions!" International summit meetings are disguised trilateral meetings.

The Trilateral Commission has as incestual relatives the World Federalists, the Club of Rome, the European Common Market, the I.M.M., the I.M.F., and the banking systems of over a hundred nations (the U.N?). They are a concomitant camarilla of conspiracy and plunder.

The Trilateral Commission is just as secret but more powerful, as the original "Illuminati." Its members, about 130 in number, are drawn from the central core of owners and the representatives of victim nations, who sit with the overlords, in a circumstance of sheer patronage. The role of each subordinate member is to receive instruction and indoctrination, be vested with political or social status, then act as implants in the national 'establishment' of their own country to be points of influence and consultation. Their duty is to function, as did Andrew Johnson and Edward Stanton in Lincoln's Cabinet, and Judah Benjamin in the administration of Jefferson Davies. The "Jacob Schiff," "Nelson Aldrich" and "Paul Warburg" for Canada have yet to emerge but it is fair to suppose that a major corporate personality, a former finance minister, and a shrinking violet politician have already had the nod, and will receive their anointment as the golden haired boys.

It is evident that there is a mixed range of representation from Canada in the Trilateral Commission drawn from the critical sectors of the economy. Energy, Unions, Media and Political personages are all to be found in the hierarchy. In this way, there is co-ordination and influence at the top to course down and regulate action, or suppression, as may be required.

That such an organization exists is a fact but it is adroitly kept to ground. However, its presence is felt in everyday life. It can be summed up by borrowing a phrase from the late General Charles de Gaul: - "Vive les banques, libre!" and in the high offices of Labor. Incest is there, but kept well hidden. The surface confrontation between these two is a staged charade. It is merely to keep public attention on other things, whilst the moneychangers grab off the Canadian constitutions and the Bank of Canada.

When the impact of this message is digested, the extent of the international banking conspiracy becomes obvious. It correlates the I.M.F., the Trilateral Commission, the Canadian Bankers Associations, and the Canadian Labor Congress. The tenet of the "Illuminati" has not been changed. It is still with us but up-dated in keeping with the times.

When you stop and think, analyze and evaluate, there is no option but to conclude that just as $1 + 1 = 2$, the aversions of the Trilateral Commission and the Banking Conspiracy combine to reveal a single cell that is incestuously inter-locked. They are but the same thing with different facades.

Canada is marked as one of the next victims to be annexed. This will be done by subverting the British North America Act and substituting a new constitution, which will pave the way for "corporate republicanism," together with a new "Bank Act," which will pave the way for the establishment of a full "Federal Reserve-type Act" and banking system. These will be the first steps - the Debasement of Canadian money, a new "Bank Act" and a new Constitution, in that order

With these accomplished, the next moves are to merge Canada to become the next ten States of the U.S.A. and the C.B.A to become the 13th Federal Reserve Bank enslaved to a worthless paper or cipher currency standard.

Canadian sovereignty is at stake. Only Canadian members of parliament can save it.

Where is the spirit of '76 ... 1776 that is ... Canadian style!

Black Friday, June 1, 1956 was the real start of the conspiracy to entrap Canada. On what date will it be halted, and atoned?

Canadian independence is still retainable, even if the country has to experience de-federalization, as we now know it. Perhaps a new type of Confederation has to emerge composed of Commonwealth regions, each with its own administration but co-adjusting still under the umbrella of Monarchical democracy, or similar kind of Protective Peoples' Constitution.

Beguiled, and in obeisance to the plebian side of human nature, the political representatives of Canada, the United Kingdom, the United States of America, and other countries where "Crown" constitutions or democratic peoples' governments still exist, or have been extirpated over the past three hundred years. They are participants in the cabal of the International Monetary Fund and are acceding to planned fraud and entrapment. The politicians and mandarin administrators of all these nations are misguided, and culpably liable for sustaining an execrable system, which induces economic destabilization, distrust, suppression and police state conditions.

The dogma imposed with arrogant profligation is manifest through the vehicle known as the "Bretton Woods Agreements." The Twenty-four Protocols of Zion (real or imagined) are adhered to and submitted to in abject supplication. The policies and instructions handed down by the inner "Masters of the Lodges," under the superscription of an omnipotent directorate, are conceded without challenge or precognition of moral turpitude.

Apathy is rampant, cowardice or ignorance inherent. Yet, all that is required to expunge and escape further subservience and foreclosure under this dissolute situation is to turn and face the Moneychangers, instead of prostrating before them in homage or in fear of being dispossessed.

The TRILATERAL COMMISSION is the modern-day incarnation of attempt at world conquest through world government. It springs from antiquity and manifests down the ages, identified as Pharisees, Lombards, Illuminati, Elders and the current Rothschild-Rockefeller camarilla of Anno Domini history.

The doctrines, or "Protocols," revered by the Moneychangers in their credo and apostation, claim that economic despotism, including the right to create and control money and credit, is their divine right protected to them as an inheritance. This claim of divinity is cloaked in the veil of deception that it is evinced in a son of God yet to appear. It is never conceded, however, that this son of God has indeed already appeared and is the son who fell from Grace: The son who made fraud and deception a game to be indulged.

The Deity of the Moneychangers is exposed as being Lucifer, the son of God who appeared at the same time as Jesus, in the guise of His tempter and detractor. "Lucifer," as a name, means 'light' Hence, the title used by the conspirators to enslave mankind of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries in the identity of "Illuminati" - the group personified as Rothschild, Mordecai, Weishaupt, Goethe, and Schiller. The identity now used, in the late twentieth century, is "TRILATERAL." The significance of this is not yet fully understood or resisted but must come to be! Was it not Jesus who upturned the tables of the moneychangers in the Temple, and decry that they desecrated His Father's House by turning it into a den of thieves? For the word 'house', substitute 'world.'

Bankers, Corporatists, Trilateralists, World Federalists, or whatever their fancy facades, using platitudes such as peace, interdependence, detente, internationalism, "summit meetings" and other diverting terms are nothing but a flock of indentured sheep, led by a pack of wolves masquerading as benefactors. The Moneychangers feed off their own followers! The leaders' council behind the backs of their lickspittle, and are unaccountable. They engineer and perpetrate the heinous sins of war for economic reasons; deprivation of the fundamentals of living, except for a price; the plunder of energy for their own greed and aggrandizements, and the enslavement of souls. The 'corporate' principle of "all for the few" is the creed, instead of the 'society' principle of "all for one, one for all." The blueprint provided for, and blindly accepted by contemporary civilization (?) by the inner 'Masters,' is the precept of subjective obedience controlled by economic sanction, e.g. unemployment and totalitarian suppression.

The intent of the British North America Act was sagely provided for Canada. It contains the proper mix of "Crown" or "Peoples" constitutional parliamentary democratic government, and the protections needed to fend off the moneychangers and corporatists. This fact is overlooked, or repressed, as part of the sedition.

If only this form of constitution, or the original intent of the constitution of the United States, could be re-asserted and up-dated to be universally adopted by all nations, whereby, to permit Commonwealth-type Confederation within nations and between nations; thus, preserving to all nations, sovereign independence and autonomy, particularly as regards their National Treasuries. The inroads and dangers of world conquest, through world government by a handful of rogue controllers, could be avoided, and CO-DEPENDENCE rather than interdependence, overcome the rapacious force built in to corporate internationalism.

Chapter 24

CRISIS CANADA

Because of its historical connection with England, France and the United States of American, Canada functions on a mixture of each. It has tried to take the best from each and mold it into a separate nation, but the pressures and some of the prejudices of each still remain as outside influences, pushing and pulling in different directions, all at the same time.

It is this constant flexing and fragmentation that is making it possible for the I.M.F and the "Federal Reservists" to keep the public off guard and unbalanced; stir up economic, cultural and industrial unrest; and proceed with plans to grasp the assets and natural resources that are coveted, as well as undermine the constitution and the treasury. The doors of opportunity to accomplish these objectives are the "Bank Act"; domination to force Canada into debt under which it will default; and, apostate politicians and other figures who are supplicant or indentured. Each of these is a present-day manifestation, yet against, which few seem to be aware, reacting or taking defensive measures to resist and repel.

The first fact to face is that Canadian money, like Colonial Scrip and Confederate money, is debt-free backed up by gold and the assets of Canada to its full face value. At least it was, up to Pearson times and the "Bank Act of 1967."

Because it is valuable money, and the resources of Canada have hardly yet been touched, they are prizes worth seeking and plundering. History is repeating itself. The task has been given to the U.S. Federal Reserve, backed up, as may be necessary, by the Bank of England, the Bank of France and the I.M.F. However, there are still many loyalists who contest all this and assist the Nationalists of Canada to repel these insurgencies.

Because of the adjacent positions of the United States and Canada an undefended border, it is logical and practical to intermix the cultures, economies and currencies of the two nations to the point that the ordinary citizen and the every-day industrial, commercial and consumer worlds are happy to stay beguiled and confused, and not bother their heads about it. As long as there is food, a house, a car or two, clothing, gasoline, a boat, annual holiday and a few other creature goodies, they are not going to peer too deeply or rock the boat. They are quite content to be told they are being shafted and that banking and international finance is a complex business: that money is a commodity: that Credit and debt are events as natural as breathing and to leave well alone!

Canadians are not told that Canada's debt-free money is constantly being siphoned off via being intermixed and debased with imported printed tissue that emanates from the U.S. Federal Reserve in such a way that the valuable Canadian G.N.P dollar floats to the surface and is creamed off, whilst Canadians are left with the printed tissue which has to be made good if we want to keep our integrity and sound dollar. What we cannot make good by production is put on the books as debt bearing interest, and surfaces as an ever-growing "National Debt." It is this double-pronged attack that is insidiously chipping away at our freedom. Cash or Credit, it is all the same. The I.M.F. and the Federal Reserve want Canada in debt as quickly and as deeply as possible so that once past a point of no return, or ability to pay, the move can be made to move in. The take over will be swift and decisive. The main weapon against Canada is interest rates. The loans come from Kuhn & Loeb mostly!

To make the foregoing point more clear, a transcript of the letter circulated by the author to all members of parliament and the Senate, in December 1975, is reprinted here as a means of digest and comment:

CRISIS

BETRAYAL

ABHORRENCE

17th December 1975

Dear Member:

REVISIONS OF "BANK ACT" 1977

CANADA, through its present Federal Government; and some past Administrations since 1914, but more particularly since 1946; is being misled and beguiled into becoming a "CORPORATE STATE" with a "FEDERAL RESERVE" type, private, corporate banking and money system, complete with pre-engineered "National" and Citizen debts to launch it.

Canada symptomizes all the emasculating destructive, disrupting and disastrous economic experiences that are historically associated with the Rothschild-doctrine, the Federal Reserve System, and their progeny - the IMF.

This corrupt triumvirate has reached into Canada via the Private, Corporate, Chartered Banks, and a nest of apostate politicians, together with some senior administrators.

Although they will never admit it, these groups have engineered economic confusion and crisis as a deliberate subversion, in expectation that they will be welcomed with open arms as heroes, when they come forward and offer to overcome the situation: and will be given free-reign to do it on their terms and conditions! This is when the knife is turned, if they are successful in thrusting it into the underbelly that is now exposed, and which they are resolutely attacking with deadly aim.

The abominable economic policies and actions of the government are veiled deceptions cloaked in camouflaging rhetoric, to deflect the people of Canada from being around and acting against the real direction and objectives of the deep-founded, hidden conspiracy that is afoot. Fiscal programs and treasury relationships are equally as vicious.

The political and corporate interference that is constantly being practiced and admitted into Canada by the International Bankers, the IMF and their stock market affiliations, is pre-organized and manipulated before it is made public, and is deliberately pre-ordained to surrender Canada to the grasp of the trio for rape and plunder.

As their pay-off for co-operating in this seditious conspiracy, the C.B.A apparently is ordained to become the "Federal Reserve Board of Canada," the major Chartered Banks to become "Federal Reserve Banks, and all Canadians are to exist or become subservient to a political mutation which might be known as the "Liberal-Republican Party of Canada."

This is what the Federal Government is up to behind the backs of Canadians; and to their face, via careful phrasing, wide eyed, and blatant hoax.

The Private, Corporate, Chartered Banks consolidated Phase I of their intrigue with the Bank Act 1967, having built up to it over a period of years. They now, arrogantly, expect to effect the planned Phase II of their objective with the Revisions of the Bank Act 1977 via securing wider powers, a greater concentration of power, a non-competitive, monolithic banking structure, control of the public treasury under their auspices and increased indebtedness to them, both "National" and private debt, courtesy of the government policies, programs and enactments.

LAMENTABLY, THEY WILL ACCOMPLISH THESE OBJECTIVES UNLESS YOU, AS AN MP, AWAKE FROM THE TORPOR YOU SEEM TO BE IN AND THE PUBLIC AROUSES ITSELF FROM THE STATE OF INERTIA IT HIBERNATES IN: AND ALL BECOME ALERT, DEFENSIVE AND "AGITATED" CANADIANS.

To explode a myth: the Federal Reserve system is not, as people are taught to believe, an agency of the federal government. The Federal Reserve is a series of closely-knit, interlocked, corrupt, ruthless, private corporate entities which have ousted control of the public treasury from the hands of Honorable, Representative Government by the people, in order to administer and manipulate the assets and finances of the people and the nation as if they are their own, for their own gain. They hold their tenure through indentured and perfidious front men, who preserve the status quo in return for election, or appointment, to High-Office, establishment, or a measure of wealth.

There is a considerable parallel to be drawn between the Federal Reserve System and the financial institute system in Canada.

It is equally vital to realize that the IMF is nothing more than a Council of Pharisees that oversee their holdings in those countries in which they hold sway or can command influence. It might almost be true to say the UN is an arm of the IMF. The ambition of the IMF is to achieve "Secret World Government," as per the Rothschild-doctrine of about two-centuries ago. The IMF is, tacitly, tyranny by Moneychangers for their own lucre.

If you are querulous that Canada is subjugated and the object of conspiracy, ask why is it before a Canadian Minister of Finance can be appointed, the nominee has to be 'cleared' by the Chartered Banks, Bay Street, Wall Street, Washington, D.C. and the IMF before the appointment can be confirmed! Ask also why C.B.A and related Financial Institutions are rumored to have access to government Computer Data Bank records, using a persons SIN as the reference key!! And, if government data is also stored in duplicate, or accessible to the US Government and its agencies?!!

These, and many other questions, are matters which need answers but which point up the way things are. Suspicion usually has some basis of truth.

The Policies, programs and actions of the Federal Government of Canada, aired in the areas of economic regulations and fiscal department, are futile shams. They reach the point almost, of being treacherous and reveal indentured supplication to the Corporate Powers of International Conspiracy in collaboration with the private, corporate, Chartered Banks of Canada to an extent that is terrifying. The public is sacrificed on the altar to the Bankers.

The glaring of inflation, devaluation, unemployment, industrial unrest, international trade, "National" Debt, private debt increase and corporate encroachment that have been devised and perpetrated, can be effectively and beneficially dealt with, but only if there is:-

Re-thinking of the situation to put it into proper perspective. Re-orientation of priorities to handle the matter.

Re-structuring of government back to honorable, representative government.
Re-direction of effort. Prevention is better than cure.
Re-application of the philosophy on which Canada was founded as Independent Freemen, in a debt-free State. Or it could be too late to save it.
De-concentration of Banking and Stock Market power and manipulation.
De-centralization of administrative functions. Autocratic, wastefulness goes.

De-structuring of present money, and issue of new, debt-free currency.
Denial and repudiation of external encroachment, debt or credit against others and a return to free trade, devoid of Bankers' presence.

Present government actions are Un-Balanced; Un-realistic; Un-just; Un-workable, Un-conscionable, and Un-acceptable as they follow well-worn and proven unsatisfactory paths. Yet those who should be up-in-arms for their constituents as the M.P's of the nation; and the population itself; are lulled into torpor and indifference instead of vigorously defending, and preserving their heritage and freedom. Acts of sedition are being carried on right under your nose, unchallenged and unhindered because of indifference and inertia...!

The shifting of payments from the control of representative government from revenues raised from and administered for the public to direct payment from the public to private, corporate firms, is a betrayal. But much worse is the artificial high rates of interest which the government permits the Chartered Banks to charge and which interest, as it is imposed upon each successive level of industry/ trade, profit in the hands of the Private Banks as immediate cash and unconscionable profits, or as deferred-debt due to them.

But even worse, it is the fraudulent scheme that occurs, when the government borrows money from the Banks by way of Bond issues which the banks purchase with newly created, debt-created money which the Central Bank prints and then delivers to the Banks for them to buy the Bonds, that tops it all. This debt-created capital goes on the Books of the Private,-Chartered Banks as new capital and which then, miraculously, turns into "National" debt due to them.

The forcing of the public to patronize the Chartered Banks for money supply is an imposition contrary to the intent and provisions of the B.N.A. Act. But, compounded by the High Interest Rates levied by the Chartered Banks is added insult to injury. How such a state of affairs ever got entrenched in the first place is another story. It can be assumed that wining, dining and patronization, over a period, built up an elite and indentured establishment that is supplicant to their demands on cue.

It is this close-knit, mega-business concentration and power that has to be diluted - not the dismantling and destruction of the free-enterprise system. The dogma of the I.M.F., the C.B.A. and the Stock Market has to end.

As a Canadian, but more specifically as a Member of Parliament, you are charged with the responsibility of defending and preserving the freedom and independence of Canada in the Spirit and under the philosophy and Constitution, in which Canada was founded, as part of your sworn and solemn duty and allegiance. Most important is your obligation to keep Canada safe from the autocracy of Corporate Enthronement, no matter what the deceptions, temptations and inducements that may be put before you to persuade you otherwise. Or are you already "had"?

The remedy for the situation is in your hands. It can be dealt with in a one-day sitting of Parliament through repudiation of the Chartered Banks, on the grounds that they have abused their privilege and probity as Licensees, and which can be evidenced when the Revisions of the Bank Act 1977 come into attention, or it can be done more effectively, and with attention drawn to it, via Petition to the Queen for the dissolution of Parliament, as an act of necessity.

We do not want Corporate Enthronement in Canada, nor to be hoaxed, boxed, conned or beguiled into foreclosure through debt-default; much less lose control of our public treasury and natural resources. We do not want a Federal Reserve type monetary system, nor do we want to be inmates of the bordello that is the I.M.F. We do not like Moneychangers or outside control of our elected and appointed representatives as manipulated puppets: and we do not appreciate being sold down the tube for gain or aggrandizement by any individual or group, for their own gain.

The time and opportunity for change is now ripe. It is time for Canadian nationalism to wax once more as the freedom and integrity of the country are threatened as never before. To continue tailing the American ass is asking to be abused. Canadians are not anti-American -an attitude some seem bent on fostering - it is just that Canadians do not like the Federal Reservists who covet Canada, and want it for their own purposes.

If this dissertation has caused you to search your own conscience, stop and think about the deeper ramifications that underscore the few words possible on these pages, and motivate you into confrontive action against the C.B.A, it has done its work. Please reply and let me have your comments.

The Revisions of the Bank Act, in 1977, is the most important issue of all.

We, in Canada, decided a long time ago which is the better system to live under, having resolved to our own satisfaction and answer to the question, "CROWN or CREDIT?" and choose the "Crown."

Yours very truly,

Fred Kirkman

Canadians are not told that of the ten Chartered Banks in Canada, all members of the Canadian Bankers Association, six are sympathetic by politics to the liberal, debt-money, debt-financing doctrines of the "Illuminati" system and are, in fact, directed from outside the country. They have been charged with preparing the way for the Federal Reserve type system that is planned for the future style of Banking in Canada, with Canada as a Republic or the next ten States of Union, if they have their way.

These six, by weight of vote, can force whatever policies they want on the other four and the country, particularly when they have supplicant politicians in power in Parliament. But, it is the other four, as Conservatives, who prefer to have the country free of the influence of the Federal Reservists and are the saving grace at the present time. Just how long it will be before they are bought off, or coerced into giving way is but a guessing game. There are suspicions that Canadian Bank records are already duplicated and stored in the U.S. in the Federal Reserve and C.I.A. Computer Banks in the anticipation of tying all Canadian's accounts into their system. This is a frightening thought.

Canadians are not told that when their government borrows from the Chartered Banks, it is the Bank of Canada that has obtained the money from the Federal Reserve, using Government Bonds as the security, and then prints Canadian money, which is then deposited with the Chartered Banks, who gain leverage profits on it via lending it back to the Government. On the other hand, the Chartered Banks have imported debt-created money or paper-credits from outside the country to meet the demand for money in excess of what the Bank of Canada will create. This is part of the license, and part of the conspiracy, carried out by the Chartered Banks who serve their voting masters first and the Canadian nation second. This constant levy on the people and the debasing of Canadian currency is all part of the conspiracy being perpetrated against Canada.

Lincoln's system is better. Pay our way directly with debt-free money, and have a truly free-enterprise marketplace devoid of bank overtones!

The U.S. plan of campaign to capture and steal Canada from Canadians is by way of the Stock Market, the Bond Market and the Corporate Marketplace. Military conquest has been contemplated several times in the past twenty years, but each time has been scrapped as negative logic. Even so, all highways and rail beds leading into Canada are of invasion-force military standard, and there is a combat-ready force of about 100,000 troops within a hundred miles of the border right across the continent. This, perhaps, is just how far the Federal Reservists are prepared to go to subjugate and annex Canada? However, to invade Canada would mean the destruction of so much investment and development, and an era of guerilla war that could do no good and achieve nothing, as to be a futile undertaking. It would be a pyrrhic victory. This is why the marketplace and the economy are chosen battlegrounds.

Canada is not for sale! Yet it is vulnerable to being led into debt as the means that will force it into default and take-over by the Bankers.

Canada is not for sale! - But we do not mind if someone steals it, piecemeal. We seem to be equally naive in loaning our money to foreigners so that they can buy it from us, with our own money, right under our nose!

It is an established and proven fact that rising interest rates are the cause, not the result, of inflation. Increasing interest rates in a debt-money, reserve-type system is nothing less than compounding a felony, purely for the greed and gratification of the lender who imposes the higher charges.

It is also a proven fact that the lower the rate of interest, the lower the rate of inflation. The lower the rate of inflation, the lower the rate of unemployment and the higher the rate of production. Equally, the lower the rate of unemployment, the lower the rate of inflation. Conversely, the higher the rate of interest, the higher the rate of inflation, the higher the rate of unemployment and the lower the rate of production.

This is to be seen in the example of Switzerland, which is the centre of the Moneychangers' wealth. Switzerland has less than 1% inflation, no unemployment and high productivity. A far cry from the conditions these same moneychangers inflict upon the rest of the world, in their plans to destabilize and destroy nations so that they can plunder them via a system of debt-creation, and take-over in default of repayment.

As far as the moneychangers, I.M.F. and Federalists are concerned, what is sauce for the goose, is not sauce for the gander!

The plunder of Canada is a matter of international intrigue. This is done by sending up Federal Reserve printed money or opening up credits for Canadians in American banks. This inflow of debt-created money floods the Canadian marketplace, it also causes economic indigestion, structural and cyclical unemployment, depression, recession and boom. It is the alternating pulsation that tears the economic fabric and resilience out of the economy.

The Banks of Canada, with the exception of the Central Bank of Canada, are all privately owned. They are private corporations, privileged by grant of a Charter (or License) to be bankers. They are granted certain operating rights by what is known as the "Bank Act." This latitude expands or contracts according to the philosophy of the government of the day in power, when the Bank Act is periodically reviewed and amended, every ten years.

When Liberals are in power, the latitude awarded to the Banks facilitates more and more towards permitting the doctrines, ambitions and intentions of the Federalists, the Federal Reserve Board, and the I.M.F. They weaken the ability of Canada to resist inroads and objectives of this cabal, as much as possible on each review. On the other hand, nationalists, who see through these Federalists, do their best to resist or counteract the infiltrations but are handicapped in doing so. Do not be fooled into thinking that all Conservatives are nationalists: Many are Federalists in their connection and leanings. Paradoxically, it should be the loyal-Canadian Liberals, Conservatives and the N.D.P. who should recognize themselves for being what they are "NATIONALISTS" - who should combine together as a consolidated voice to form a political entity, and sweep out the minority of Liberals and Conservatives who would sell Canada out for a packet of tea!

A new political force is necessary to turn back the inroads of invasion that the Liberals have paved the way for their masters in Washington, D.C.

The biggest concern is the inversion of influence that prevails in the banking industry. Instead of the Government-controlled Bank of Canada determining and dictating its own policies to the Chartered Banks, it is the other way around. The Chartered Banks scheme up policies to their own advantage and then have the Bank of Canada announce them as law. This, of course, is brought about by the lines of political and industrial power, which reach into Ottawa from Washington, London, Paris, Tokyo and Hong Kong. The wining, dining and patronage that is to be seen, accounts for much more than the actions of elected members of parliament. This is to be seen very clearly, when the Prime Minister, before he appoints a Minister of Finance, has to consult with the C.B.A., the Federal Reserve, Washington, D.C. and the I.M.F.!

When Canada made a break and set itself up as a separate country, to get away from the influence and doctrines of the Rothschild conspiracy, the Father's of Confederation were very astute, perceptive of the plot, and foresighted when they provided Canada with a Constitution which was a moat of first protection and a bastion of last defense, i.e.. B.N.A. Act, 1867, in particular sections 91 and 92.

They were true to the nature and philosophy on which the country was founded: as a nation of Freemen in a Debt-free State. Their choice of adherence to the Crown instead of bowing to the destructive forces and doctrines of credit was a wise and courageous act for which there is cause to be grateful. It is a pity that we now suffer a brand of politician who is willing to sell the country and his soul, in exchange for a lousy Federal Reserve dollar, and carry out the biddings of an evil conspiracy.

Canada is constituted as a "Society" not as a "Corporation." A Society belongs to all the members. A Corporation belongs to only the voting shareholders.

Canada, set up as a "Society," has allowed a renegade panel of directors to get into office. These "directors" are placing the Society into debt as rapidly as they can get away with it. All as part of a hidden plan. These Directors are Liberal Politicians, some Conservatives, and Bankers in concert. They are dedicated to the concept of pledging the right and assets of the nation of Canada against spurious money to the extent that Canada will not be able to get out of debt, or even pay the interest due. Canada will then have to sell itself by admitting the same system as the Banks of England, and the U.S. Federal Reserve, as the price to be paid.

Perhaps many Liberals and Conservatives do not realize just what their parties and leaders stand for? If this book opens their eyes, they can press for internal party changes, or switch their vote behind a new NATIONALIST PARTY.

For detailed information as to the identities of those who are indentured, apostate, supplicant or enamored by the Federalist ambitions, a good work of reference is "The Vertical Mosaic" by University of Toronto Press. This reveals the names of the families who form the elite and the corporate establishments to which they are connected. It is not a difficult matter as other books and plenty of reference materials, including the daily Stock Exchange lists, expose the core of international relationships.

The only way for Canada to escape the fate that has been planned, is for the country to change its political representation and retake control of its own Banks of Canada. It must also repudiate the Charters of those Banks, which are apostate and supplicant to the Federalists, as they have clearly abused the spirit of their Charters. Their Charters were granted by the Crown as representative for the people, yet these same Banks have acted in such a manner as to try and bring down or destroy the Crown that gave them life. In some circles, this would be classed as treason.

Canada must also rid itself of the intermix of its own debt-free currency from the contamination of debt-created, imported money, by withdrawing present paper currency and issuing a new debt-free currency. It must repudiate all debts to their countries and forgive all debts due; and ensure public control of the Bank of Canada under a Board not drawn from the ranks of bankers, politicians, lawyers and industrialists who have other appointment and interests. Probity and independence must be seen, and be apparent, in the operation and administration of national fiscal activity. Conflict of interest is abhorrent. Government of Canada has to return to being the servant of the people. It must no longer continue to be the servant of the corporate command.

Canada must preserve its Constitution and reject those who would tamper with it. Canada must also repeal the "Bank Act of 1967" and make changes in the "Revision of the Bank Act" to reduce the level and concentration of power, now in the hands of private, corporate Chartered Banks. Foreign Banks must not be admitted to the Country. Moreover, return of the nation's treasury to the control of the people under honorable, representative government is essential. The Crown must also recover all assets now held at home and abroad by the Chartered Banks, and pay out stockholders so that it cannot be said the government has expropriated citizen's personal investment. Re-patriation of all "registered" assets in the hands of out-of-Canada registrants must also occur.

The people must also insist upon the elimination and future prevention of conditions which allow concurrent and concomitant relationships in sensitive positions, government and private, and eradicate conflict of interest. All of which conditions are now rife.

Established in the fact that the International Monetary Fund, together with its sister organizations the International Money Market and the International Monetary Exchange, is the presence of nothing more than an imposed hoax: and that the Chartered Banks of Canada, the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries; the U.S. Federal Reserve, and other "National" Banks within the framework of the I.M.F. are all private corporations controlled by the same private owner and directors who own the I.M.F. cabal: and that the money systems, money, private and National Debts due to them are artificially generated and manipulated by the cabal, for the cabal, through the banks for their gain and profit at the cost and expenses of the people in the form of the colossal amounts educed in the way of Interest Servicing Yield (interest rates and charges), it is viable to presume that -

To rid the people of excessive taxation, at all levels

To restore the value of money

To bring about national economic recovery, solvency and stability

To establish equitable international free trade

To attain industrial labor relations tranquility

To improve productivity and re-kindle the work ethic

To increase take-home purchasing power

But without impairing civic, and social services

- Is simply to cancel all debts due to Banks, Financial Institutions, and Money Lenders operations: And, for Canada to repudiate all debts recorded to the I.M.F., the U.S. Federal Reserve, and the Bank of England on the reality that all of these have been corruptly and fraudulently created via a planned conspiracy of inequity against the country and the people.

It can be done, if politicians will cease to be cowards and supplicant, beguiled slaves to the financiers, international and national bankers who comprise the Bretton Woods association.

Fred Kirkman

January 1976

PROGNOSIS COLLAPSE 1978/9

The hatchet job being wreaked upon the U.S. and Canadian dollars by the I.M.M. is the beginning of the end of economic systems, currencies, stocks and bonds markets and political freedom of these nations as presently perceived. The nature of the phoenix, which will rise out of the ashes, has to be determined now by national loyalists, or the Moneychangers will inflict an atrocious regime.

At the direction of the private interests that control the I.M.F., the Canadian dollar is being systematically depressed against the U.S. dollar, whilst the U.S. dollar is being subordinated to the German Mark and the Japanese Yen. This program of deliberate destabilization is furtherance of the plans procreated by the "House" behind the World Bank, which is reasserting its power, and returning to its traditional base in Frankfurt, having established a citadel in the Far East.

Britain as the Sterling Bloc center, and the U.S.A as the Gold Standard center, both under the command of the I.M.F., are being set up to have the rug pulled from under them with malice aforethought. As both standards are the foundation upon which the Canadian economy and currency are structured, the perdition of Canada is accomplished at the same time.

The U.S. dollar is being forced down to 10% of its 1940 value, and the Canadian dollar is being coerced down to 85% of the US dollar. In both instances, it means the currencies are debased to breaking point in the face of accrued National Debts, and the economies collapse. The IMF and World Bank will call the Debts.'

Within months, the IMF will issue instructions enforcing cancellation of present currencies in supplicance to the provisions of the Revised Bretton Woods Agreements, which the Liberals delivered Canada into in June 1977 via bill C-18. The IMF will then dictate that its own "new" dollar be issued in exchange for between 25 and 30 current dollars. At the same time, all National Treasury Notes, Government Securities and Bonds, Guaranteed Certificates issued by Chartered Financial Institutions and Credit Unions, will be declared void. The bottom will fall out of the stock market. Millions of people will be dispossessed.

Thus will be achieved the rip-off of the millennium. All titles will revert to the Moneychangers via their organizational subsidiaries because the foreclosure on Notes, Mortgages and other forms of Indenture is held to them in accordance with existing Law. Law put in place over these many years in advance and anticipation by the Moneychangers.

National Treasuries, Government, Large Corporations, Business and Individuals alike will suffer the same axe of decapitation that was similarly and deliberately used to instigate and secure the Crash of 1929.

The "Fortune 500" will become the victims of their own Deity.

Canada still has chance to withdraw from the I.M.F. against which it is protected by its Crown Constitution, and to amend its laws of foreclosure to thwart the Moneychangers, albeit a last-minute rescue. Failure to do so will result in the international Moneychangers achieving their ambitions of plunder, and Canadians will face certain bondage under a new range of political oppressions. (F. Kirkman, August 1977.)

The Bank of Canada must not become the Federal Reserve Bank of Canada.

CHAPTER 25

THE BANKERS CREED

"We believe in Amschel Rothschild, Adam Weishaupt, and Rabbi Mordecai, makers of money and credit. The unholy trinity.

And in the 'Illuminati,' the invocers of 'Secret World Government' who are conceived in sin, and acknowledge no others.

"Nor dare we be criticized, regulated or repudiated, We are ascended from Hell; and fear only exorcism. And sitteth on the pinnacles of power, both temporal and incorporeal.

"On the day of forfeiture, we enclose upon them that owe us; And controlleth the morals of business and politics by indenture.

"Money is our Idol. We dictate the cost of living, the cost of dying and manipulate the resources of the world.

And expect life everlasting in perpetuity of our system, Amen."

U.S. BANKER'S PRAYER

U.S. Version

Our father who is Paul M. Warburg,
Federal Reserve Board be thy name;
Thy Babel come,
Usury and graft be done
In business as it is in politics.
Give us this day our Rate of Interest
And forgive us our remission
If we pardon any upon whom we have levy.
Lead us not into compassion;
But deliver us from probity;
For thine is the system, debt-money
And debauchment
In practiced coercion, Amen.

Canadian Version

Our patron who is in Washington,
Apostate is our name.
Worthless money come,
From the Federal Reserve Board it be done
To graft business as it is our politicians.
Give us this day our interest and profits,
And forgive us our remission
If we pardon any upon whom we have levy.
Lead us not into probity
But deliver us from exposure.
For our is the power, debt-system and debauchment

THE BANKER'S PSALMS

"Praise the I.M.F., all nations everywhere
Praise it, all people of the Earth,
For it directs your bankers to steal you dearly
And its indentures endure to enslave its members, and their houses.
Praise the I.M.F.

"Oh, bless the House, you who serve it as watchmen In the temple of the Moneychanger every night. Lower your souls in suppliance, and bless the I.M.F."

"The I.M.F blesses you from the House - the I.M.F and House that makes money and earth, a living Hell."

"Hallelujah! Yes, praise the Moneychangers!
Praise them with lucre and tribute. Praise them with obeisance and in thralldom! Hallelujah!"

THE MARK OF THE BEAST - '666' - REVELATIONS 13

More beguiling, unconscionable, misleading pieces of contrempt propaganda have never been published than the press releases issued by the Nation's Governments, the Federal Reserve, the Chartered Banks, the Bank of Canada, the I.M.F and the Trilateralists. The orchestration is delusive, gullibly disseminated by a cocktail-circuit, indoctrinated, patronized, apostate press and electronic media.

The road to national bankruptcy, and the hell of enslavement, is paved with the intentions of the Moneychangers including the financiers who are the owners behind the manipulators, who are behind the collusive concomitance of Liberal, Republican, Marxist-Lenin and Conservative vitiation. Directing all of them is the Trilateral Commission, the private property of Rothschild and Rockefeller, which is pressing towards imposing their 'mark' upon all nations via impressive jargon such as "World Order Politics;" "New World Order;" "New Economic Order;" "Interdependence;" "World Federalism" and so forth and who, as an underlying aim, are attempting to bring the convergence of Europe, Japan, the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R into a single super-stat, operated by the Trilateralists and the I.M.F., on behalf of the Rothschild-Rockefeller dynasty; even if it means the threat of nuclear war as the means of castigating and intimidating the masses. The governments of both Canada and the U.S have the mark of the beast upon them, as in spite of their apparent political detachment, each has been put in place by the Moneychangers and dances obeisance to them!

The total national debt of the U.S.A. is incalculable. The national debt of Canada to the I.M.F., the Federal Reserve, and the Chartered Banks privately, direct and indirect via federal, provincial, municipal and other forms of public liability Bonds and Notes is in excess of $220 billion. This amounts to $9,600 capital debt and about $80 per month interest owed and payable by every man, woman, child and unborn child in Canada. To compound the matter, the debt is increasing at the rate of over $20 billion per annum, sanctioned by elected politicians. The same debauchery pervades the U.S.A.

To make matters worse, the National Debt has been fraudulently created by connivance at the Moneychangers-Government level via counterfeit money. The capital is produced out of thin air by a stroke of a pen. But the interest payment they reap is the hard labor and production of every worker in the nation. The Federal Reserve Banks, the Moneychangers and the Chartered Banks are reaping something for nothing, paying their Pharisees and lickspittle on the side by way of position, prestige, patronage and Office, headed by a chosen few. All under them are kept in line by coercion, unemployment, a mortgage over their heads and the fear of dispossession (The laws of Tort and Default).

From now until eternity, or the people under the I.M.F system decide they have had enough of being shafted and kick the system out, the current coven of politicians, the government methods, system and status of the country will always remain the same. The one circumstance the Moneychangers and Bankers fear and cannot combat is REPUDIATION!

The capital sum of the National Debt will increase regularly, and the amount of interest payable by the people via taxation will compound automatically. The very nature of the system compels deficit, financing, re-financing, and perpetual inflation as a repetitive cycle, structured to keep it that way for the few at the expense of the many.

The Moneychangers and Bankers do not want to be paid out. They want to keep placing more fictitious capital and collect tangible interest on an ever-increasing counterfeit debt.

Just how long the people of the U.S and Canada will remain in an hypnotic trance whilst their pockets are filched, and their life blood extracted from them by the Federal Reserve, the Chartered Banks and the I.M.F., which are private corporations operating for private profit for the owners, is a perplexing question

It is time to clean house. Awareness must lead to the action of throwing the Moneychangers out of the Temples, which are our Nations.

CHAPTER 26

RANDOM THOUGHTS, POINTS AND COMMENTS

The evil forces in our world have worked and furthered their plans on the very simple principle and fact that it is a lot easier for man not to think, than it is for him to think. The minds of men have been deceived and manipulated down the ages. The first example of this was, perhaps, Adam and Eve. If they had stopped to heed the warning and think, they would most likely have had a snake bisque or steak for supper instead of an apple! Christ was the Son of God. He was perfect in every way yet He stopped to think and meditated for days on end. As we are supposed to be a creation of the same God: and the whole purpose on earth is to make a choice between good and evil, we were created with the power to think and decide for ourselves. So, for God's sake, if not your own -THINK!

Satan was also the son of God. However, he fell from grace when he decided to make a game of seeing how far he could deflect and pervert the minds of men. He has done this in many ways, but one of the most insidious was when he entered the minds of the moneychangers and Pharisees then misled them into operating in such a manner that they enslaved others. There are many references to money and moneychangers in the Bible, Koran, the course of history, and prophecy regarding them, but this is not the place to recite them.

Think about some of the events in modern history. All of them stemming from wars!

In 1815, the merchants of Europe had most of the Crowned Heads in debt to them. They suggested that they should be paid - or be awarded the State in foreclosure. Resulting from this, the Crowned Heads called a meeting known as the Congress of Vienna, at which time, the Crowned Heads came close to opting to go bankrupt as their means of getting out of debt: knowing the State would re-invent itself. They also threatened to repudiate the moneychangers and let them do their worst. This put Rothschild into a panic, as he would have been faced with peoples' governments, governments that would not only strip him of his debts but his assets as well. There was some quick footwork and much flattery from Rothschild, who offered more money and temporary relief from the payments of both principal and interest for a number of years.

The Crowned Heads thought this was great, but did not think ahead to the effect of deferred debt and the compounded accumulation of interest on their countries and economies. Sound familiar? The only Crowned Head that did not go along was the Czar of Russia. He saw through the scheme and would not have anything to do with it. He refused Rothschild's money out of hand. It made Rothschild angry and vow that one day he, or his heirs, would make the Czars pay and suffer, to make up for what he would be making out of them if they had gone along. Revenge would be his even if it took a hundred years.

It is interesting to note that Mordecai was assigned the task of ruining Russia: and that it was Mordecai's grandson who later changed his name to Karl Marx- the man who devoted his life to engineering the fall of the Russian Empire.

CHAPTER 27

MORE THOUGHTS

As a peoples' revolution, Russia went under what became known as Communist politics. It threw out all vestige of tolerance with the House of Rothschild, with the death of Lenin, but later because of World War II came to terms on a live-and-let-live basis under Stalin. The internal struggle, which prevails in Russia, is not one of ideologies but for admission or not, of the Rothschild doctrine and money system. In the meantime, it provides a convenient world platform to keep people everywhere on edge and hyped up for war, in case it is necessary to ferment one. At one time, it was Russia trying to keep the I.M.F. at bay, but more recently, has become a little more aggressive and is out to play a tit-for-tat takeover role. Actually, the House of Rothschild does not care who would win a world war, it is financing both sides of the Iron Curtain, and will come out the beneficiary either way, if the I.M.F. survives.

Let us realize that the HOUSE OF ROCKEFELLER has interfaced the HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD. In addition, let us go back a bit to the point that it was the House of Rothschild, which, in the late nineteenth century, financed and then took over the oil interest of Rockefeller; the account, which Kuhn & Loeb kept for its own. Let us also relate Kuhn & Loeb to the First National City Bank, the Chase Manhattan Bank, the Bank of America, and the Bank of California but to name just a few of the Federal Reserve Banks in the portfolio of the Rothschild's.

Over the years, Rockefeller's money has grown until it is now netting the almost unbelievable figure of $3 billion per day(2001) in interest alone.

The Rothschild "take" is substantially greater.

The Rockefeller stable owns Standard Oil of New Jersey. In 1926, a deal was closed with Russia that was initially negotiated under Lenin. The deal was that Russia would export all its oil under the Esso Brand. Rockefeller has a stake in that agreement. Never once, since that time have the Soviets or their satellites dumped oil on the world market and smashed its price, as they have done with tin and other commodities from time to time. Esso operates as Imperial Oil Limited in the United Kingdom and Canada. S.O. identifies Standard Oil. It also phonetically spells Esso. If this has occurred pertaining to one product, notwithstanding anything else, it is logical to presume that similar arrangements exist in connection with other items. Now let us digress a little before coming back to the Russia - U.S.A topic. Let us consider Cuba and Hungary.

Hungary would be a free nation today if Eisenhower had acted in support of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters. They were double-crossed. His denial to recognize them in 1956 was nothing less than a sell out to the I.M.F. He did not act on his own conscience. He was controlled. Soviet Russia waited three days after the revolt to see if there would be a reaction from political America, notwithstanding the fact that they had financial negotiation with the I.M.F. at the time. When Eisenhower remained silent, they knew the I.M.F. had passed down the word, with the result that the slaughter and ruthless subjugation began. All discovered evidence, suggests that he was controlled and threatened, as to have interfered would have been upsetting monetary policies in hand at the time. Now Cuba. The world was told by President Kennedy that Castro must be removed. Yet this same President set up an abortive fiasco on the one hand, whilst ordering his military forces to protect Castro from the Cubans in exile on the other hand. Why? The I.M.F. had something going with Russia and Cuba on the side. The brinkmanship of the Missile Crisis was equally staged from Washington, D.C from the Offices of the Federal Reserve Board. Treasury Agents and Russian embassy staff met in coffee shops as the courier messengers. When the deal was closed, the ships turned back. However, the Bankers did not gain all they wanted.

Such international "incidents" are well-planned and well-staged plays to keep the people on edge and confused, as during such confusion the real objectives can be pushed through without attention, question or obstruction! The complete slavery of mankind, under a secret one-world command, fronted by a world federalist council, is one of these real plan objectives.

Communism is a great evil, but a greater evil is beguiled or unthinking man. The people of today are the ones responsible for this evil force because without our kind of money and monetary system, communism would have nothing to confront or contest, and would die on the vine. Nationalism would flourish equally in all parts of the world in an atmosphere of cooperation and co-ordination, if every country operated based on debt-free money. No matter what phase of left-wing infiltration we study, be it in our government, information media, labor unions, educational system, and foundation the tracks all lead, inevitably, to the few men who control the money systems of the world.

With the adroit use of money, these Rulers and their Pharisees have used a three step program of brainwash to indoctrinate us, and a one step program to champion an antithesis: If you are sixty years of age or under, you will recognize that this program has been used on you, quite successfully in most cases, using a negative and positive psychology. First, your young mind was conditioned to look upon colonialism as an outmoded system.

Second, you were taught to think that individual capitalists were exploiters.

Third, you were fed all kinds of scientific data to illustrate that the present social order is destined to collapse, if communism is allowed to take its place.

Having got you all mixed up as to the pros and cons of capitalism versus communism, you were then educated and instilled with the notion that the only solution to all these kinds of thinking is that the present money system is the only bulwark, and that it must be maintained at all cost!

By this means, the money powers play both ends to the middle and at the same time agitate and confuse the people, polarize them, and set them up into camps of confrontation. This distracts the minds of men from the real programs of the moneychangers who can then go right down the middle, undisturbed, to achieve their objective without anybody being aware that they have been doing it, whilst backs have been turned watching other things. Distraction has been used as an effective instrument of enslavement for centuries. Obfuscation is an insidious weapon.

At the present time, the peoples of the free world are literally buying a front seat in a living hell on the installment plan, by permitting the bankers to continue to bamboozle them and control money and credit as a commodity. They are slaves, paying the cost of their own enslavement.

The people of the I.M.F. world are obliged to go along because they are not organized to resist. The I.M.F. can compel the Bank of England, the Federal Reserve or the Bank of Canada, to vary its ratio of reserves in the Central Bank from 3% to 27%. It may call for the lowering of the ratio of reserves to deposits, which then enables a bank to lend more against existing reserves, then it can raise the ratio, at will, by say doubling it, which would cut bank credit in half, and cause panic constriction. This power of life and death over the world is held over nations, communities, industry and individuals. As well, it is manifest in the fluctuations engineered in the Stocks and Bonds Markets.

Today it is impossible for a man to go into business and compete with the big corporations, which are bank-owned or cosseted. The big corporations have an unlimited supply of money with which to operate, expand, and swamp the little guy. If the creation and control of money supply and credit were returned to the people via government and constitutional treasuries, most of the large corporations would either go broke, or reduce in size. In their place would emerge many anxious men ready to start and produce the wants, needs and necessities of our nation, at a lower, competitive price, and most likely a better product, as the element of personal pride and personal responsibility would return. It may be argued that technical research and much of the advanced technology cannot be financed except by large corporations, but this is fallacy. The Research Departments are separate divisions, which are subsidized, and often contributed to by government assistance. These phases would simply take on separate status and be contributed to by all, as a central department. No progress would be lost because the big corporations became a little smaller.

Have you ever stopped to think the CREDIT CARDS are not credit but DEBIT cards! They debit the purse of the holder of the card but credit the assets of the Bank. They are simply another way of creating money under the "Reserve" system of money creation. They comply with the "Law" but are nothing but a deceptive method of Creative Fraud.

God sent Christ to earth when all the nations of the world had been taken over by the Devil. Christ was a humble man, who loved all but one group. When confronted by this group He could not hold His temper. Matthew 21:12-13. "And Jesus went into the Temple of God and cast out all them that sold and bought in the Temple, and said unto them, "It is written, My House shall be called a House of Prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves."

How powerful was money then? Three days later the priests and the elders, the complete slaves of the moneychangers and the Pharisees, had secured the crucifixion of the Son of God for 30 pieces of silver. The Pharisees reigned supreme. If money could be used to bribe a Disciple of Christ, just think how easy it is for money to be used to bribe politicians and minor bankers.

Money has been around a long time. The first recorded use of money is found in Genesis 17:27. "And all of the men of the house of Abraham born in the house and those bought with the money of the stranger were circumcised with him."

In Isaiah 52:2-3 we find "Oh Jerusalem, lose thyself the bands of thy neck, for thus saith the Lord. Ye have sold yourselves for naught but ye shall be redeemed without money." This passage is so apropos of conditions in 1977. The World has sold itself for paper (naught) and can become free simply by repudiating the I.M.F. and its owners, an act that will cost nothing!

Why did Eisenhower refuse to let Patton go ahead and secure the West against Russia in 1945? Why did Truman refuse to let McArthur win a war in the hills of Korea? Why the war in Vietnam? Why any wars? The moneychangers can provide the answers. They make ten times the profit out of armaments that they make out of peacetime production. Lives mean nothing where money is concerned!

The greatest weapon, and profit maker, that Bankers and Moneychangers have, is war. It takes huge sums of money and manpower to fight wars. If the bankers are in the position of being able to counterfeit the money that pays for wars, they are able to create and enlarge National Debts of all countries that are fighting and, of course, get to collect the Interest during interludes of peace.

Around 1800, a man named Napoleon decided he would rule the world. The masterminds of the "Illuminati" had not bargained for this and were quite shaken, particularly as Napoleon was campaigning on the exposure of their methods. The remnants of the "Illuminati" assigned the House of Rothschild to the job of stopping him. Rothschild simply financed all the Crowned heads of Europe for the Napoleonic Wars and came to control all of them except Russia. It was these debts that led up to the Congress of Vienna, referred to elsewhere.

The "Illuminati" and its successors have never deviated from the original precept. They finance wars, and use the bait Christ told us to watch out for - "PEACE." More wars have been fought for, and gone into debt for, in the name of peace, than for any other purpose.

It takes many years of effort for a war weary people to fight back to prosperity. The Bankers encourage this, but only to the point when it is time to move in to skim off the newly won prosperity for themselves. It will be noted that as soon as a small firm becomes large enough and prosperous it is embattled into delivering itself, for a price, to a larger giant corporation, or it is effectively shut out of business because of sanctions against it, via Big-Business or Union action. This is a deliberate policy so that the large get larger but no one gets large enough to challenge the Fortune 500. In this way, the growth, wealth and prosperity gravitates to the few, and the many are left to struggle.

Ninety-seven percent of the people behind the iron curtain, and sixty-five percent of the people in the western world are suffering living hells, of different kinds, because of the hatred and spite of Rothschild, Mordecai and their heirs.

Chapter 28

SOLUTION

The Remedy to the whole damned mess is really quite simple. Each nation affected and afflicted by the presence of debt-finance and debt-economy must have its appropriate Parliament, Congress or Legislature nullify the Acts and Charters of each of the Banks • involved, and take over the assets of each of these institutions. By this means, the titles and assets of each would be repatriated to the national treasury and, any titles found to be registered or taken out of the country would be recovered as stolen property. This justified by the premise that all these have been acquired with fraudulently created counterfeit money, whether internally or externally produced.

The next step is to compensate all bank stockholders on a preferential basis. For payment to private citizen holders with more than a prescribed number of shares in their possession -the more shares held, the less the compensation.

Simultaneously, all paper money in circulation must be repudiated. Coin may remain as it is of tangible value. Three days will be allowed for all persons to deposit into their bank account any moneys and securities they wish to have taken into account, when exchange for new currency is affected. Again, the premise will be - the more turned in for exchange, the less received back in new currency.

All nations must then, unilaterally or collectively, cancel all debts to and from each other. Cancel all debts due to Banks, Institutions and Finance Companies. Cancel all debts between individuals and re-start the economy on the bases of "what you have, you own." This will not work out to be as inequitable as may at first appear to be, because each strata of society in turn is in debt to a higher level, and capital gains taxation following the day of exchange will level out net worth residual status.

The new national banking system will be operated on a debit basis. No 'reserve' style operations will be permitted, except for loans against foreseeable tangible production. A loan ratio reserve based on 2:1 being the maximum at any time, in any nation. When this is done, a new start can be made to bring about international trade on an equitable basis. Barter values will replace the sticky-fingered bankers, who impose a commission levy on both seller and buyer under the present system, and who impose money as a commodity instead of it being a mere measure of debt-free exchange.

To escape the pangs and traumas of inflation and devaluation recurring, it is vital that private and commercial bankers not be permitted to be traders or adventurers, either by direct participation or via affiliate and associate holdings. Bankers must be simply recorders of exchange, on a scale fee basis, unable to impose commission and percentage levies.

The most urgent need is for nations to forsake the tenet of the IMF Private holding of power and control of any nation's assets, must be halted. Until this is done, the present system will prevail to keep a few rich and many poor. Under the new millennium, they will prevail to keep few rich and many poor. Under the new millennium, there will be few rich, few poor but many prosperous and comfortable. The jealousies and confrontation between the First, Second and Third World factions will resolve themselves, and there will arise world confederation but in a form vastly different to the plans of the Corporate World Federalists.

Money has to return to being nothing more, nor anything less than a reliable measure of debt-free exchange. It must be without private levy upon the wealth of the nation and the pockets of the people, and it must represent true worth in the country, which issues it as currency, and tender.

When the bankers and the Pharisees are banished, nations will be able to settle in true peace, and no longer have to go to wars in the name of peace..

MONEY is a man-created, tangible means whereby to unitize the value of labor - nothing else. It is a convenient, portable, expression of recording barter. Thus, money is a means of exchange - not a commodity.

A properly organized and prosperous society functions best when based upon a 20-year purchase, and 50-year stabilization economy, in a private enterprise, free trade system.

1-2% for Interest on Savings

1 1/2-3% for loans

2-4% for investment yield and dividends

4-5% for commercial venture, property purchase, amortization, etc.

4-6% for high risk and unsecured ventures (Loaded)

Such a culture is devoid of de-stabilization, inflation and devaluation and can sustain a Gross National Product of between 3 1/2 and 6%, according to the competence of national administration and marketplace management. Equitable pay rates are calculated and differentials are practical. Taxation is lower, because the government bureaucracy is smaller because of not having to administer departments devoted to regulatory controls, imposed as the outcome of a "destabilization" economy.

In this way, it is possible for a country to be consistently productive and prosperous, and have full employment. Such a structure provides incentive, and renders it possible to sustain social policies of universal benefit and selective assistance. Such a system encourages thrift but not frugality; a healthy work ethic is there as reward for industry and enterprise, and a good climate for investment and re-investment. Sensible relationships can prevail between employer and employee, and stations can be agreed that are acknowledged and conceded by all. However, above all, such a society generates a fine ethic of pride and loyalty. The will to live and let live, help and be helped, give with grace and understanding; accept in dignity, and honor the principle all for one, and one for all: But, most important, infuses the will to be as equally productive and responsible as the next person, to the best of one's ability.

Chapter 29

WATCH OUT!

When, as it will, without warning there is total collapse of the IMF money system, Rothschild, with or without Rockefeller, will not care less. When the collapse occurs, theirs, or their nominee's or corporate names will be on the Registers as the owners of titles, or the holders of mortgages on title, or extensive lands, goods, chattels and Promissory Notes, thus being able, under the present law, to claim entitlement and be regarded as the beneficial owners of such assets. This would continue to be a big club over the head of any national government. This is why repudiation, confiscation and repatriation actions are vital in order to avoid future confrontations. Retroactive legislation would merely lead to drawn out unrest, and obduracy, thereby obfuscating the quick emergence of a new monetary system and a stabilized economy.

The moneychangers must be left no means whatsoever of being able to keep a toe-hold or claim against any assets; have the right or opportunity to control credit; or, be permitted to be the fiscal agents for the treasury of the nation.

Whether the United States annexes Russia via money-methods and marketplace activity, or Russia annexes the US via military blackmail, the result will be a peaceful take-over. In either event, Rothschild and Rockefeller could not care less. They control the money and thus the lawmakers around the world, under the represent system, be they White, Red, Brown, Yellow or Black.

Is there now any doubt left in your mind as to which is the best system to live under, a conscionable system or continue with the IMF?

The Choice is clear, MONARCHY CROWN OR MONEYCHANGER CREDIT?

THE CHOICE FOR CANADA... CROWN or CREDIT

CONSTITUTION

FREEDOM AND WEALTH

Parliamentary Democracy

or

Do as you are commanded?

Of, by, for the people

National Sovereignty

Independence

or

Subjugation?

Inviolability of Parliament

or

Trilateral Manipulation?

Rectitude in Office

or

Conflict of Interest?

Constitutional Bank of Canada

National Solvency

or

Perpetual Debt?

Stability

or

Inflation?

Peoples' Banks

"Just" Equity Rights

Valuable Currency

Competitive Free Trade

or

Megamonopoly Cartels?

Fair Pricing

Full Employment

Ethnic Relations

Dignity

Integrity

Sincerity

Credibility

Faith

or

CONSPIRACY

THE STATUS QUO'

Do as you are commanded?

Corporate Republicanism?

Corporate Enthronement?

IMF Federal Reserve Bank of Canada?

Private, Chartered Banks?

"Tort" and Dispossession?

Printing-Press Tissue?

Megamonopoly Cartels?

Fixed Gouging?

Structured Unemployment?

Contrived Confrontation?

Disesteem?

Corruption?

Discreditation?

Incredibility?

Apostation?

CROWN

or

CREDIT?

Chapter 30

NEED MORE BE SAID?

The following, sums things up quite succinctly. - Author unknown

Five thousand years ago, Moses said, "Pick up your shovel, pack your camel, and mount your ass. I will lead you to the Promised Land.

Five decades ago, the Prime Minister said "Put down your shovel, sit on your ass, this is the Promised Land.

Now, the Prime Minister is taking your shovel, selling your camel, kicking your ass and giving away the Promised Land.

NEED MORE BE SAID?

TO ALL PEOPLE, EVERYWHERE:

Which do you prefer to have?

1. Take home pay of 100 units of currency. Be able to afford what you need and put 10 into savings for a secure future, OR, 2 Take home pay of 1,000 units of currency, but be short 100 even to exist and have to go into debt?

The greed and stupidity of those who prefer No 2, reflect the collusions, conspiracies mind set and applied psychology of banks, Governments, Union Labor mentality, and money mongers

THE PHILOSOPHY OF CORPORATE DEBT AND PROFIT

VERSUS

THE PHILOSOPHY OF PEOPLE'S PROSPERITY

Call it 'debt', 'deficit,' 'over-supply' of money or 'deflation,' the ultimate end "net, net" result is the difference between taxes as profit for the banks and money mongers or abundant, unencumbered assets, free from debt and taxes, as prosperity for the people.

PARLIAMENTARY MONARCHY From the people, with and through the Crown

CONSTITUTIONAL

continuity of the supremacy of the people, by the people, for the people as a "tree" Parliamentary Democracy is vested in symbol

THE CROWN

The people retain supremacy, and control over elected and appointed 'Officials' via the role and service of the Crown.

The Crown appoints and dismisses elected and appointed 'Officials' as the Representative Authority of the people, for the people.

THE SOVEREIGN

is the "Patron" personification of the people as the Crowned Head representative of the people. The line of descent personates the continuity of the people within the nation represented by the Crown

The people can elect and call for the dismissal of persons put into 'Office'

THE PEOPLE

The 'International Moneychangers' cannot take over and control Crown Constitutions! This is why they try to take them via DEBT!

COMPARE WITH:-

DICTATOR-PRESIDENT

THE PEOPLE

The people can elect but cannot dismiss persons put into 'Office'. Elected and appointed 'Officials' can only be removed by a higher-ranking person.

This system is epitomized in the DICTATORSHIP CORPORATE REPUBLICAN, and COMMUNIST Regimes.

The International Moneychangers' Fraternity can own and control these regimes.

THIS TABLE ILLUSTRATES THE YIELD RECEIVED BY THE CHARTERED BANKS
IN PROPORTION TO THE INTEREST RATE THAT THEY ARE PERMITTED TO CHARGE

These figures are NOT THE TOTAL as yielded by the banks BUT THE MINIMUM that they get!

These figures affect Cost Of Living Only.
No Capital Loans, No Consumer Loans, No International Exchange Commissions etc. are taken into account.

Let us follow the progress of $1
Loaned and rolled for 1 year.

	at 2%	at 4%	at 6%	at 8%	at 10%	at 12%
Raw Material producer
Borrows $1. Pays Back	1.02	1.04	1.06	1.08	1.10	1.12
Processing Industry	.0204	.0416	.0636	.0864	.11	.1344
Primary Industry	.0208	.0433	.0674	.0933	.121	.1505
Secondary Industry	.0212	.0450	.0714	.1008	.1331	.1686
Distribution	.0216	.0468	.0757	.1088	.1464	.1888
Retail	.0220	.0487	.0803	.1175	.1610	.2115
Consumer Credit Plan 18%	.2027	.2277	.2553	.2856	.3189	.3553
	$ 1.3287	1.4931	1.6737	1.8724	2.0904	2.3291
* Transportation 7 x % Loan $1 rolled.	$ 1.1400	1.28	1.42	1.56	1.70	1.84

LINE #

Less the $2 capital repaid.

	2.4667	2.7731	3.0937	3.4324	3.7904	4.1691
	-2	-2	-2	-2	-2	-2
$2 for 1 year	$.4667	$.7731	$ 1.0937	$ 1.4324	$ 1.7904	$ 2.1691
BANK YIELD	= 47c	= 77 cents	= 1.09	= 1.43	= 1.79	= 2.17
	= 23 1/2 % p.a.	= 38 1/2 % p.a.	= 54 1/2 % p.a.	= 71 1/2 % p.a.	= 89 1/2 % p.a.	= 108 1/2 % p.a.

EFFECT ON ECONOMY

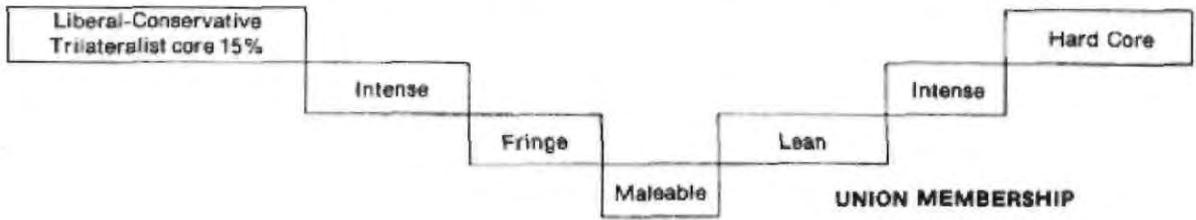

Minor Inflationary Major Inflation Destabilizing Inflation Critical Destructive Galloping Inflation

If the $2 loaned is a "Debt-Dollar", the Bank's Yield is $2 greater pro-rata as per Line #.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE
FREE ENTERPRISE SECTOR

Percentage

STATE CONTROL
STATE OWNERSHIP/PARTICIPATION

30% range that vote on impulse at time of election

UNION MEMBERSHIP

	B.C.	FED.
By choice	18%	12%
Enforced	24	18
Total	42%	30%

50% range that is swayable, but has tendency to gravitate towards policies with social conscience as opposed to Big-business and feudal systems and doctrines

OBJECTIVE - INTENSE PRESSURE FORCE
15%

65% range that is inert, powerless and passive until aroused. This group is caught in the squeeze pressures exerted by the opposing Objective-Intense Pressure Forces. This is the group which suffers because neither O.I.P.F. caters to, or cares about; and which ultimately re-acts in rebellion.

OBJECTIVE - INTENSE PRESSURE FORCE
20%

These pressures create inflation, devaluation, recession and confrontation, with attendant effect upon work-ethic, social behaviour, production, employment, growth, savings, mental & physical health.

INTENSITY OF SENTIMENT

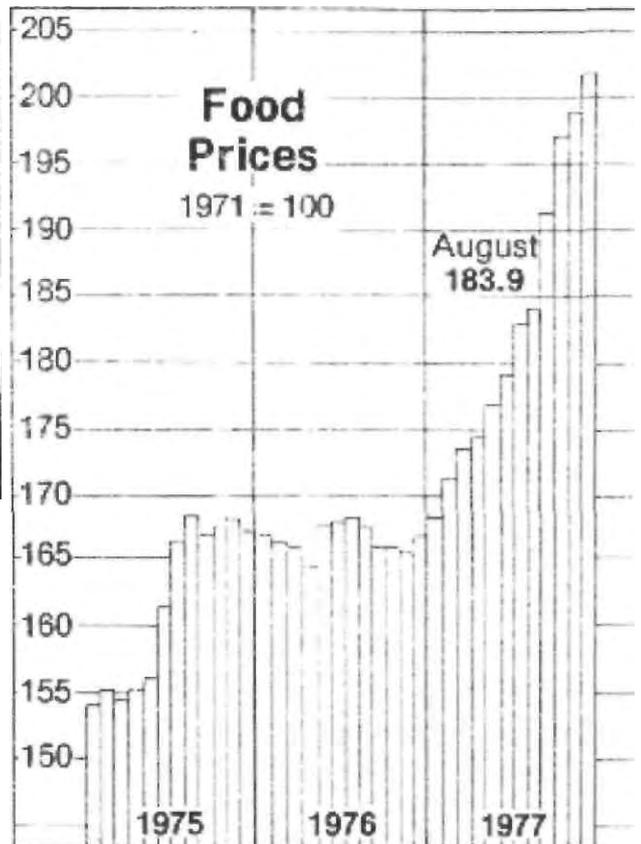

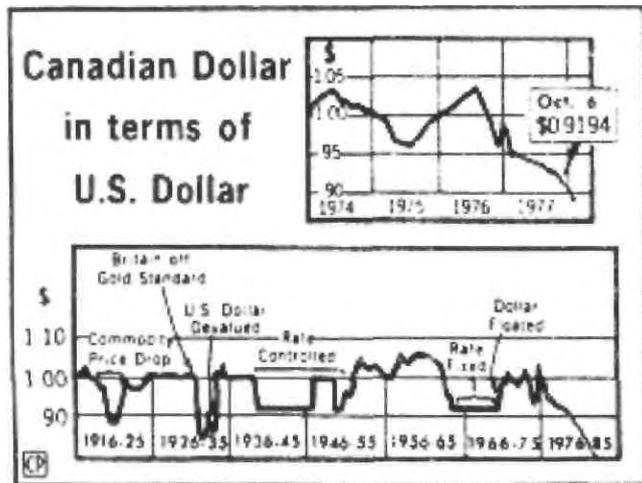

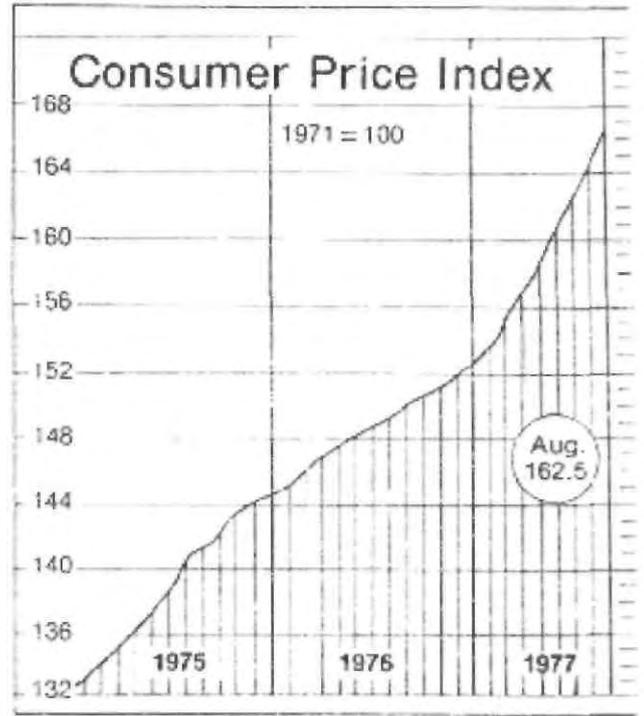

INTENSITY OF SENTIMENT

- 1. Mega-Business)
- 2. Big-Business)
- 3. Nepotism-Feudal)
- 4. Personal Achievement)
- 5. Private Enterprise)
- 6. Personal Service)
- 7. Freedom of Choice)
- 8. Free Expression)
- 9. Social Support)

- Bank Group
- Professional
- Public

- Marxist Group
- Union Group
- Public

- (1. State Ownership
- (2. State Participation
- (3. Patronage
- (4. Fascism
- (5. Anarchism
- (6. Subsistence
- (7. Servitude
- (8. Adherence
- (9. Support

MOVING RIGHT ALONG are rates of increases in all areas of cost of living index and particularly in food items. CPI up by four-tenths of one per cent in August, however, made smallest monthly increase of year. Food prices for month rose by half of one per cent, mainly due to higher costs for fresh fruit, pork and poultry products.

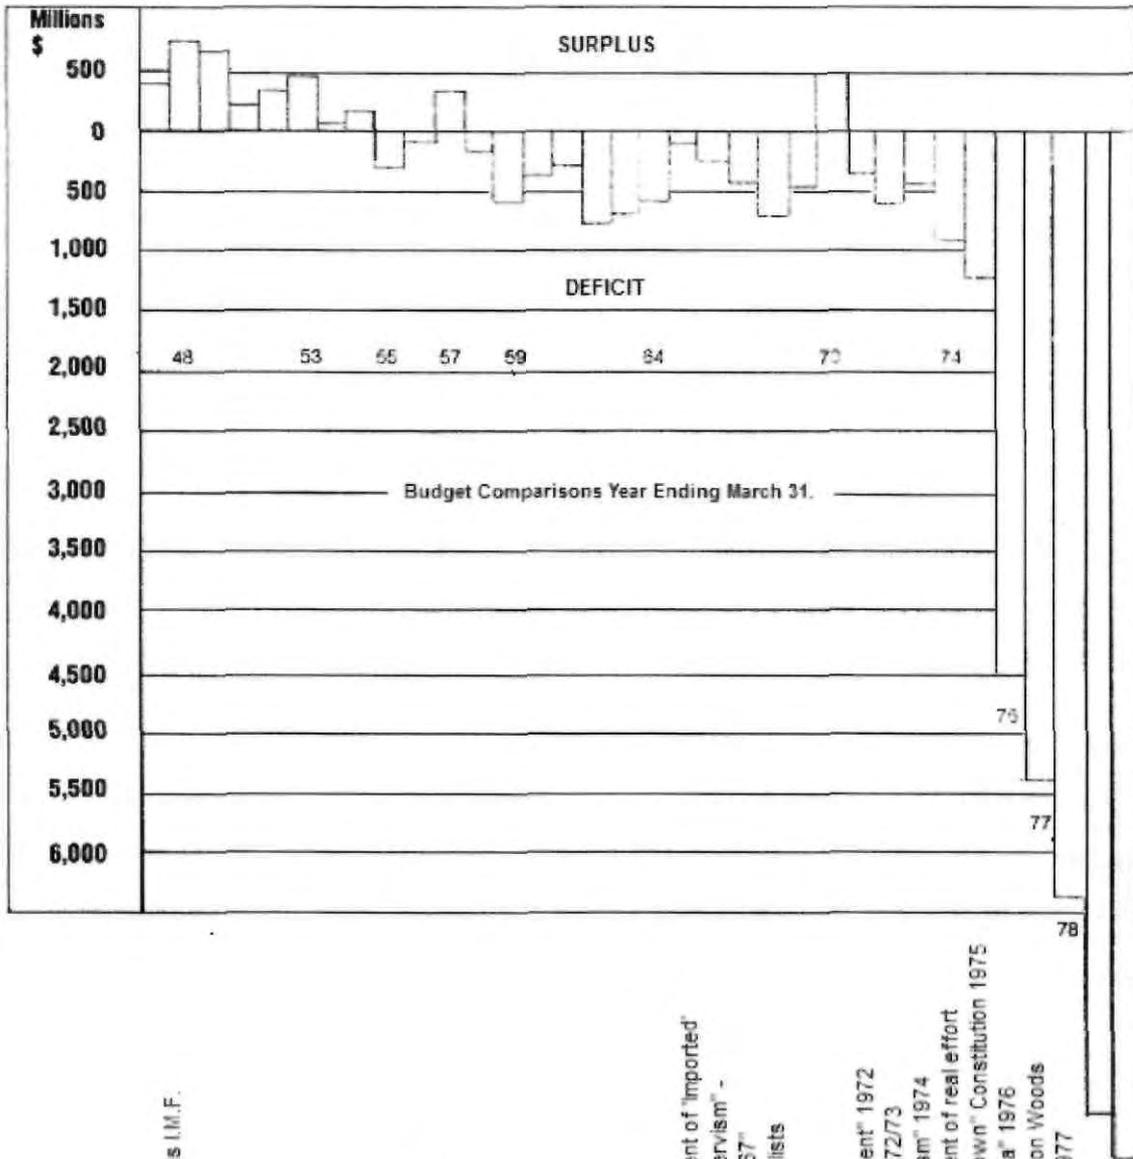

THAT SAYS IT ALL

St. Laurant
Liberal
Nationalist

Diefenbaker Conservative
Corporatist

Pearson
Liberal
Federalist

Trudeau
Liberal Francophile,
Corporate-Republican,
World Federalist.

1946
Bretton Woods I.M.F.

Black Friday
June 1, 1956

Commencement of "imported"
"Federal Reservism" -
"Bank Act 1967"
World Federalists

"Rapprochement" 1972
Triateralists 1972/73
"Quebeceralism" 1974
Commencement of real effort to destroy "Crown" Constitution 1975
"Crisis Canada" 1976
Revised Bretton Woods
Agreement 1977

CRITICAL TIMETABLE FISCAL INSTABILITY CYCLES

COUNTRY	START OR RE-START	FIRST DEPRESSION		SECOND DEPRESSION		TAUT BANKRUPTCY		RUNAWAY INFLATION		COLLAPSE
		AFTER		FIRST DEBT-FINANCE DURING		DEBT CREATED MONEY		DURING
ENGLAND	1694	+16	1710	+23	1733	+1	1734	+21	1755	+2	175
	1766	+18	1784	+20	1804	+3	1807	+20	1827	+3	183
	1832	+15	1847	+21	1868	+4	1872	+17	1889	+3	189
	1893	+14	1907	+22	1929	+3	1932	+21	1953	+2	195
	1955	+18	1973	+22	1995	+3	1998
FRANCE	1825	+16	1841	+23	1864	+1	1865	+21	1886	+2	188
	1889	+12	1901	+18	1919	+2	1921	+23	1944	+2	194
	1946	+10	1956	+18	1974	+1	1975	+23	1998	+2	200
GERMANY	1862	+16	1878	+23	1901	+1	1902	+21	1923	+2	192
U.S.A	1913	+16	1929	+23	1952	+1	1953	+21	1974	+2	197
CANADA	1936	+16	1952	+23	1975	+1	1976	+24	2000	+2	200
JAPAN	1960	+16	1976	+21	1997	+1	1998

Contents of Creative Fraud II

The Incredible Hoax

A biographical, personal confession, in conversational prose, by Horus, the Master Conniver

Chapter 1	Always with you
Chapter 2	Before Noah
Chapter 3	Tweedledee and Tweedledum
Chapter 4	Out of the clear blue sky
Chapter 5	Money cracks the whip
Chapter 6	Begin the Beguine, Beguile and Begats
Chapter 7	Upside down, inside out social system
Chapter 8	Putting two and two together
Chapter 9	If only the blind could see
Chapter 10	Such stuff as dreams are made of
Chapter 11	Abundance haunts me
Chapter 12	I am outflanked
Chapter 13	Contrived unrest
Chapter 14	Dreams, just dreams
Chapter 15	Will-O'-the-wisp
Chapter 16	Two and two makes hay
Chapter 17	Tools of change
Chapter 18	And it's all "legal"
Chapter 19	Expand or collapse
Chapter 20	Remedy Requiem

CHAPTER 1

ALWAYS WITH YOU

It is amazing how easy it is to pull the wool over your eyes.

I am the private ownership system of society. I own you, I control you, I defraud you, I hoax you, I manipulate you and I enslave you. My (counterfeit) money is your Idol of Mammon.

Very few of you know that you live in a privately owned and organized society: Nor do you comprehend just what the scope of my system is really like. Few of you understand its actual nature or the power I hold over you. Even fewer know that your laws, customs, institutions, fraternal societies, economic systems and fiscal protocols are structured by me to dictate how you will be educated, think, and behave towards each other; or why you profess one set of ethical and social morals yet practice just the opposite.

Few of you know that the nature and function of your civil system is designed by me to be a source of constant economic, ethnic, fraternal and political discord to keep you in turmoil because confrontation, confusion and obfuscation are three of my manipulative tricks. Few of you know that your social order is still in the Stone Age of human relations, kept that way, carefully, by me, so that you will not learn to put to use, at my expense, the present age of science and technology or the benefits of true democracy.

Well, there is now going to be no more excuse for your ignorance. Here, in a mood of confession, is the authentic autobiography of me, Horus, your mentor, the Master Conniver, who has a small elite corps of hidden-hand accomplices to pull the strings and be my enforcers behind the scenes, in all corners of the world.

Lodge control of the economic and political process: The conquest ambitions of such as the Vatican in the past, the Politburo up to now, and the artifice of the infamous "Protocols," whether real or imaginary but certainly thriving; is an unholy trinity in collusion and at large with my blessing. But none dare call it conspiracy: None dare identify it as the "Fourth Reich of the Banks," nor brand national political leaders as pawns in the game of creative fraud and entrapment.

Nevertheless, consider....

CHAPTER 2

BEFORE NOAH

My system of society has existed since before the beginning of recorded history and the time of Noah, yet few understand its basic characteristics. In this story, I will reveal things known only to a handful of insiders and students of social life. Do not think I am inclined to this confession by any sense of impending self-disaster or a mood of penitence, far from it. It is merely that I want to clarify some of my thinking, in my own mind, the better to resist the present worldwide surge to protest and be in opposition against my ancient order of things.

My system of society is today what it has always been - an ordering of human relations for the benefit of the few against the welfare of the many.

With the exceptions of a few primitive cultures here and there, my type of society, the private ownership system, is the only form ever developed by mankind. Control in it or over it is the pinnacle of ambition. It is conceived in greed and egotism; power by deceit, fraud and violence; and is dedicated to, (a) the exploitive waste of human and natural resources, (b) destruction of the natural ecology, (c) social inequities and injustices and (d) economic deprivation of the masses but with gluttony, social privileges and special benefits for the Owning-controlling elite. My system is also based upon the abuse and corruption of the natural principle of Private Property Rights.

Most people know that this principle has a natural validity when applied to the personal possessions of individuals. These are private by nature and belong to the one who has accumulated them. However, when the concept of Private Property Rights is carried over into the social field, to claim ownership and control of natural resources via which to take social, economic or political power over the lives of others, then it is completely amoral, immoral and invalid. It is pure prostitution of a natural right beyond its natural scope. This perversion is the foundation of my system.

You might ask how such a perversion of natural rights came about. Here is how one observer put it: "As we trace the course of events back through the centuries, it becomes clear that Private Property has its origin in aggression and violence. Men took what they could get and kept it as long as they could. It was appropriation by the strongest, which probably first established the principle of private ownership. This appears to be accepted as a fact of history by the best students who have explored the subject" - Prof W.L. Sheldon, in "What Justifies Private Property?" International Journal of Ethics, IV, 1893-1894 pp 26/28.

That is it in a nutshell. I simply seized ownership and control over society. After I had things well in hand, I invented Deeds, Titles and the rest of the "legal" hocus pocus that purports to make my system "legitimate" and "Constitutional." This judicial legerdemain was meekly accepted by the silent majority of the social spectrum at the time and has been submissively accepted ever since. When I realized this, it gave me a permanent guide by which to operate: that the majority will not resist social injustice or impositions unless they are driven or skillfully led to such resistance. This characteristic of the majority enables me to get away with almost anything. History bears out this truth again and again.

CHAPTER 3

TWEEDLEDEE AND TWEEDLEDUM

Back in the Stone Age, I laid the foundation for my system of society. It took hold then and has spread ever since. In the ancient world, they called my system by such names as Autocracies, Kingdoms and Empires. It is a system that has prevailed around the world for centuries. The glories of Babylon, Egypt, Greece and the power of Rome were based upon the labor-power of human slaves, the ruthless exploitation of waste, the misuse of natural resources, and the destruction of the natural ecology. During the later, "long-night" of the human mind called the "Dark Ages," my system was known as Feudalism and Serfdom. These were somewhat milder forms of human slavery, but slavery nevertheless! This was the Golden Age of my type of system, which lasted for over a thousand years.

In the modern world, my system is called by the name "Capitalism." This is a more subtle form of slavery, but slavery it still is, to the demands and interests of the Owing Controlling minority. In the future, it may well be "World Federalism" as a revived Roman Empire? But with what a twist?

There are two forms of "Capitalism" in the world today: Private Corporatism and State Capitalism. The Tweedledee and Tweedledum of mass hypnosis. The former likes to masquerade as a democratic kind of society while the latter likes to pose as a socialist form of society. However, both practice only a meager portion of the virtues they lay claim to in self-justification. They are both of the same difference.

The chief difference between the two "Capitalisms" is in the way people are exploited. In both, minorities of elite controllers are the selfish beneficiaries of the system, and the greater majority are exploited and subjugated. One rigs the election to get power, the other appoints from the top, wallowing in heady excesses having purloined power.

The name of the system has been changed many times but its nature has remained the same in all countries throughout time. Of course, as technology has evolved, my system has also altered its economic and industrial methods to take advantage of the gains and improvements. However, the laws, customs and institutions of my system have never changed their basic nature.

Taking both forms of Capitalism into consideration, my type of society can be defined as follows: It is any social system, whatsoever, wherein the economic operations are based upon the unnatural principle of elite Private Ownership, control of natural resources and technology and the machineries of production and distribution, operated primarily for the benefit of the Owing-Controlling minority: and, wherein the Owing-Controlling elite also dictate and control the customs, laws, money supply and structure of the whole social order.

If you will, I am the detached corner stone of the pyramid that keeps an eye on all that goes on below and around me. I make full use of Secret Society and Lodge systems whereby the secret oath of subservience to the next higher degree is sacrosanct, and becomes a more deadly undertaking the higher one goes up in the hierarchy. It can cover many sins.

Failure to my system and me is also very much to be feared, particularly in higher levels. I make sure no one in command or authority gets into a position of power, who is not well advanced up the ladder of degrees and beholden to me as first allegiance. In fact, it may even be true to say that fear of oath to me and my system is much more to be considered, than any oath of allegiance to a Constitution or the rights of the individual.

TO THOSE WHO 'HAVE', I GIVE MORE

It is all the same to me whether ownership and control lies in the hands of an elite minority as in the Private Corporate form, or in the hands of an organized political Party (usually a small popular vote) as in State Capitalism.

At the risk of repeating myself, to put this definition another way around, my system of society is any social system wherein the economic methods, control of money, natural resources, technology, production, distribution, customs, laws and institutions are not based upon the principle of true Democratic Public Ownership and control, operated for the general welfare of all the people.

My system exists and prospers in varying stages of development and decadence, all over the world. It controls the means whereby men live, the way they think and how they act. It is actually the institutionalized expression of criminality by a minority prospering out of the degradation and ruin of the natural environment.

My system is also one of human relations, whereby people are rewarded according to their ability to take away from their fellow men and society-at-large, as much as they can grab, get away with and hold on to, yet give as little back in return as may be compelled upon them. It is a man-made social jungle wherein human greed, egotism and predatory rapaciousness usually prosper and human altruism usually meets with adversity.

I know this makes my system sound real bad, and certainly nothing to write home about in pride and joy, but please remember it is I who is stating this - not my enemies the bleeding hearts, do-gooders and good-doers. I know exactly what I am talking about because I designed the whole shebang, and know you will sit back passively to swallow what you are being told..

Nevertheless, in self-defense, I must claim that my system is not all bad. It couldn't be, because anything completely bad would not even work, be allowed, let alone survive and prosper. My system works after a fashion but it depends upon your apathy and gullibility. Similarly, science, technology and democracy germinated and developed within the framework to a regulated degree; of course, against my better judgment and my opposition. However, the fact remains there must be some things favorable to their growth else, they would not have appeared.

CHAPTER 4

OUT OF THE CLEAR BLUE SKY

In the early days of my system, I discovered the force of human desire could determine economic values and that desire was determined by the relative scarcity of anything. Scarcity, desire and value, therefore, are the cornerstones of my economic system. Next, I dressed them up so that people would have a hard time recognizing them, by baptizing them "supply" and "demand." In this disguise, they have befuddled people for ages. I trained my economists to tell people that supply and demand are natural laws; that they dictated values and prices; and that I could not do anything about it. This created the myth that economic laws are obtained from on high and were beyond human control. Actually, all these so-called "laws" were concocted by me, and have been dogma ever since. The worldwide stock market gambling shop is my best example to date. It has everyone mesmerized. .

After my original discovery about scarcity and value, I found I had to have additional tools. Therefore, I invented something new. I called it "I promise to pay." It has turned out to be a remarkable device. "I promise to pay," cannot be felt, heard, measured, seen, neither smelled nor tasted. I conjured it out of the clear blue sky and implanted it into the minds of men. It took root and has grown in lush abundance...

Next, so that people would not recognize the unreality of "I promise to pay," I invented tokens and slips of paper to represent the "promise" and called them "Money." Money is a token representing a promise to pay. Thus, it is a debt-token transposing a promise into a commodity of debt. Since money is merely a token, it has no reality in itself but only what it represents which, as pointed out, has no reality at all: One of my atypical convolutions.

Money is a promise of a promise to pay, if everything goes right. However, if something goes wrong, or manipulated to go wrong with my system, as occurs many times or in rotational cycles, don't blame me if you cannot collect on the "promise."

It soon became advisable to camouflage the nature of money so I gave it another name and called it "Medium of Exchange." This has a more respectable sound and besides, is exactly how money functions under my system. It is purely a device with which to buy and sell for profit, i.e. exchange the goods and services produced by my system. My "Medium of Exchange" is not, however, a "Medium of Distribution." I know it should be but I try to prevent it at all costs. My Private Ownership system of society is not interested in distribution. Any distribution that may result from the exchange process is an unavoidable by-product.

My system of society is designed to buy and sell (exchange) goods and services, based on values determined by "natural society" or "market manipulation," for the exclusive enrichment of the minority who own and control the system.

Money, functioning as a medium of exchange, has characteristics indispensable to my system. It is transferable, negotiable, interest bearing, and can be hoarded but it does not necessarily retain its value. These characteristics allow it to be bought and sold, traded-in, rented out, manipulated, stolen, given or gambled away. Since money is not a symbol of anything real, it can be devalued, re-valued and otherwise finagled in devious ways to the profit of the manipulator. How long is a rubber band? Such flexibility is necessary to the operation of my system. Money has to be elastic to facilitate the free flow of "medium of exchange" or else the arteries of commerce and finance will seize-up within my mold.

In addition, under my system, there must always be adequate scarcity of goods and services or else values will collapse. If collapse ever happened, there would be no opportunity to make profits. All this is true for my system of society. However, for a non-profit ownership society, i.e. public ownership and control, the reverse would be true. In such a society there of course would have to be an instrument of accounting with which to transfer goods and services from producer to user. This would have to be a true medium of distribution. It could still be called "money" and could still be the same units now in use. However, it would have characteristics natural to a genuine medium of exchange. I assure you these are two entirely different things as the two functions, Distribution and Exchange, are opposites of each other, but it can be done. However, as this is beyond the scope of my confession and discourse, I see no reason to dwell on it now. After all, why should I educate my enemies?

CHAPTER 5

MONEY CRACKS THE WHIP

The way my system is conceived, organized and operates, it is compulsory for everyone to accumulate as many 'debt tokens' as possible or else become a second-class citizen in . living standard, even a public charge. There are several reasons for this compulsion. First, because my money is negotiable, it constitutes a debt claim against my entire system. This fact puts the possessor of many tokens in a position of economic advantage and security. He has the power to buy and sell at all times. In my system, everyone's strength and security is not in the strength and security of society as a whole, but in how well a person can protect himself against the rapacity of his fellow men. His best protection is a pile of debt claims against society at large.

Second, in my system, because money can be exchanged for goods and services on the market, this assures the possessor of many debt-claims a superior measure of living standard. Third, money constitutes a potential work force which can be hired out to work at good wages (Interest), ignoring the maxim that money should not, in itself, be used as a commodity. When used this way, money is called "Capital." Once an accumulation of debt-claims reaches the proportions of "Capital," it becomes tempting and profitable to keep it working as much as possible.

The last, and probably the most important reason why it is compulsory to accumulate as many debt-tokens as possible is..... The possession of a pile of debt claims against society is universally regarded as proof of superior brains and ability, if not character. The person with a lot of money is envied and held in high esteem. The more he has, the higher he ranks. Relate this to my hierarchy of degrees and power and you begin to see under the stones. Hardly anyone asks HOW any person got his money. The fact that he has it sanctifies him. This worship of money is a prime object of life in my system. It is a natural by-product of the ever-present economic insecurity characteristic of my system.

Dozens of schools of economists have grown up in the shadows and antics of my system. Each school thinks it is right and the others wrong. That's the way I like to have things. A state of organized confusion and confrontation is vital to my survival. By this means, nobody knows the real story except me: and I can get away with anything. Before my invention of money, I moved goods and services from producer to user by direct barter and simple theft! I still use both these old methods to some extent. A large portion of the business of Private Enterprise, particularly Corporate Enterprise, consists of simply theft, artfully disguise as legitimate sales.

CHAPTER 6

BEGIN THE BEGUINE, BEGUILLE AND BEGATS

The device of "Capital" led to "Delayed Exchanges." This opened up a new field for expansion. I then brought "Capital" and "Delayed Exchanges" together in wedlock and begat Profit, Credit, Interest, Debt and Waste. These are the five best horsemen of my system. Credit incest's with Debt; Debt incest's with Interest: and, all of them misuse Waste. Debt grew up as a husky little kid getting bigger and stronger every day. His little brother, Interest, accompanied him wherever he went and always managed to pick up a little something on the way back. Every so often, Profit got lost in the skirts of "Delayed Exchanges," and Interest always went in to pull him back. Waste operated everywhere, expediting turnover and helping to maintain scarcity.

When "Delayed Exchanges" was turning over too slowly, I brought Waste and Profit together in an illicit affair. After that, "Delayed Exchanges" turned over much faster, Waste became plumper again. This all stimulated repeat sales and, as every member of every junior Chamber of Commerce knows, that is what makes cash registers tinkle merrily.

It is bad business to make any product or service too good under my system, except when an extortionate price can be obtained. For mass produced goods and services, too much quality is verboten! However, in spite of my best plans, Debt turned out to be allergic to a natural enemy "Paid in Full." Occasionally, that pest turned up causing the forced creation of new debt. This got tiresome, so I devised an improved type of debt called "Long-Term Debt." It resisted "Paid in Full" much better but was not quite good enough. Then I had another brainwave and invented "Re-negotiated Debt." This is one of my fancier tricks. It is a ploy whereby I get rid of "Paid in Full" - not with the principal of the debt but with more long-term debt and compound interest. Actually, "Paid in Full" did not mind. It beguiled him into thinking interest continued to roll in for re-use as fresh capital. That this has been highly successful for me is shown by the mountainous size of National, Public and Private Debt, and the taxation levied to pay me without ever succeeding in paying it down. National, Public and Private Debt must keep getting bigger all the time because they are the chief sustenance of my system.

My system must have a debt-stream in steady, increasing doses just the same as any other type of drug addict. Don't ask me where the debt limit is: I just don't know. However, I do know there is a point somewhere where the balloon is bound to explode through being over pumped. I know my system can be deflated if "Paid in Full" is satisfied, not by adding more air and debt but by letting it out. Achieving repudiation of debt, simply by the decision to do it with national, socially created money; I would be a goner in no time." "Paid in Full" would take over and my grip on the economy break. All I can rely upon to protect my system and myself is the handful of elite I control and assuage who have a lot to lose, as they would go down with me and, of course, your innate apathy. However, let's take another tack...

CHAPTER 7

UPSIDE DOWN, INSIDE OUT SOCIAL SYSTEM

It seems to me, by now, that my handiwork was all set for an endless, successful career. Yet to complete the whole, I still had to have a social structure of laws, customs and institutions superimposed on the economic operating machinery. It was necessary to consolidate my economic gains, inculcate my code of social values and maintain my versions of law and order. It was also necessary to camouflage my system so that people would take it for being other than what it is. This work has been so successful that I boast about it.

It is virtually impossible for most people to perceive or recognize the real nature of my social society and system. Only a democratic-scientific approach to social problems, concepts of social growth and change will reveal its true make up and, you can rest assured, it will never be taught in my schools of thought as long as I can prevent it. However, there are a handful of social students and intellectuals who understand and see through the real nature of my private ownership-control type of society. Thank goodness, it is unlikely they will ever get anywhere to reform it. If they ever are heeded, my demise will not be very far away - and swift!

None of my nemeses seems to have the ability to pull their analyses together into a corrective synthesis. The ability to analyze in itself is outstanding, but synthesizing ability is hard to come by. I have too many means of thwarting them. A social synthesist is a rare bird with unusual powers of social, structural perception and visualization, who can see clearly both the society that is, and the society that can, be structured out of it.

Moralists and humanists have tinkered with my system for ages, but have not affected its basic characteristics enough to make much difference to me. I have indoctrinated and dogmatized my system quite well. After all, my system, in spite of all its astute points, is flexible and resilient, even if I say so myself. If I demand "laissez fair" for it, equally I have to concede a measure of same to its enemies. I don't like this, but it is a point the democratic concept has upon which I must yield. However, the issue is not vital. It is too hard for the average person to think objectively about social matters. He would rather cast his burdens on the wind or into the lap of one of my political Parties: and you know who owns THEM! In both instances, the average Joe gets zero out of it.

It is all in keeping with my principles and my system. Has it not been said of old about my society that the buyer must beware? All this, of course, is contrary to the original and old valid purpose of social life. Here, I begin to feel somewhat shamefaced, so perhaps I had better get it off my chest while I am thinking about it, in the next chapter.

CHAPTER 8

PUTTING TWO AND TWO TOGETHER

In the beginning when men got together in family groups or tribes, it was primarily for multiplying their individual strength against the opposing forces of their physical environment, in order to obtain greater individual protection and security. This principle has always been, and still is, the true purpose of organized life. It can be said, too, that the paramount concern of the State is supposed to be the general welfare of all persons on an equitable basis. It is a social postulate against which there can be no valid argument. I've never denied this but I have always evaded or ignored it, and still do! Nevertheless, I deliberately subvert social life from this high purpose, to the low purpose of operating for the benefit of the minority elite or strong-arm "takers" in the social group. All my superimposed social institutions, laws and customs are little else but a reflection of this underlying economic principle and structure whereby people live. The basic nature of the underlying structure dictates the nature of the added superstructure. The two together prescribe how men behave as individuals towards each other, and fosters 'group mentality.' These facts are self-evident. However, like Poe's "Purloined Letter," are too hard for the average person to see.

Under my system, those who have anti-social propensities and talents, and can meet the plebian requirements of my operating rules, can become part of the Owner- Controller minority. In this respect, my system is a real democracy. The way to the top of the social pile is wide open to all, regardless of race or nationality. All that is required is to have what it takes to "make it." Moral or amoral, fair trade or fraud, trade or theft - the end justifies the means. Alternately, the means justify the end.

Every nation in history has been "owned" and "ruled" by a minority of its people for their selfish special benefit. I've never yet heard of a single civilization that was owned, controlled and ruled by a majority for the general welfare of its entire people. As long as the principle of Un-natural Private Ownership is permitted to dominate society, such a democracy can never happen in spite of all that poets and dreamers have said or written. The principle of Unnatural Private Ownership is incompatible with the principle of equitable, general benefit for all. Nevertheless, one day, the change will come. Over my dead body!

The great majority of people, of course, do not have the talent or inclination to exploit their fellow beings. What they want out of life is to "live and let live" in harmonious relations with each other. This is the characteristic that makes them fair game for the shrewd, mercenary minority. Where there are exploiters, there must be people or resources to exploit, plus the type of social system permitting such exploitation. I make sure they have it! However, as bad as this may seem, it is not without some practical justifications in addition to the moral justifications previously mentioned.

To explain: Justifications reside in the fact that no other type of social system was ever economically, intellectually or politically practical prior to the 20th century. True, for two reasons: Firstly, that as long as natural or manipulated scarcity prevailed - which was the case before the Industrial Revolution and still the case in backward nations - there could never be enough goods and services to adequately supply the people.

If, at any time, that large portion of production gobbled up by the Owinging-Controlling Minority had been equitably divided among all the people, it could never have made enough difference in economic conditions to abolish deprivation or make them secure. The physical conditions always existed for an exploitive form of society, but never existed for a General Benefit society, prior to the 20th century.

The other reason why a non-exploitive form of society was not present in the past was that mankind never did, prior to the 20th century, possess enough technical economic, social or political knowledge and acumen, to organize and administer society in order to realize economic and social justice for all. In addition, the overwhelming fact of ever-present devised scarcity in economic goods and services, dictated or permitted a companion scarcity in democracy, justice and liberty. It is no accident that the democratic concept did not begin to grow until science and technology began to expand.

The knowledge of anything comes before the doing of it.

CHAPTER 9

IF ONLY THE BLIND COULD SEE

Neither of the reasons quoted for an exploitive form of society is valid today. There is now more than enough economic, political and social knowledge with which to effect an equitable production and distribution of goods and services, with social justice for all. Science and technology have made my system of society obsolete. The concepts of democracy contain the principles and guidelines with which to supervise and control science and technology in the proper service of man. This is another "Purloined Letter" which few seem able to see.

This blindness of men is one of my best aces. A simple exercise, in simple logic, should convince anyone that ignoring the basic nature, and operating principles of civilization, are the cause of problems in that civilization. If this is not done, the minority at the top of society will always defeat or sabotage any efforts at real reform.

The fundamental truth has been made doubly difficult for men to see by one of my ruling oligarchies i.e. Ecclesiasticism. Conjure men have always taught the false doctrine that if men wanted a better society they would first have to change themselves into better men: A direct contradiction of facts and truth. However, it has kept people forever chasing up a blind alley of false moral principles, seeking solutions to social problems that can be solved only by the democratic-scientific approach. For this great service, Ecclesiasticism and its offshoot secret societies have been well rewarded by me, and my system, down the ages.

Down through history, my system has been owned and controlled by three oligarchies. Firstly, the oligarchy of Organized Government called the Political State its function being to act as guardian of the "status quo" as determined by me from time to time, and to maintain my brand of law and order. Next, comes the oligarchy of Conjure men, the Priesthood or, if preferred, Ecclesiasticism - call it what you may: Their function being to preach or command, under fear of hell fire damnation; or submit to my system in the hope of reward after death. Lastly, but most powerful, the oligarchy of moneychangers, Lombards, bankers, merchants, stock markets, businessmen or capitalists - call them what you will. They operate my systems of finance, fraud, hoax, commerce, industry and trade. Because of the strategic advantage I have bestowed on them, they are the top dogs of today, headed by an incestuous triumvirate entrenched in Asia, Europe and North America with various subsidiaries in each, either connected or pretending to have arms-length or no interconnection. Lawful, "legalized" and on-the-side crime included.

These oligarchies, their assigns or successors, by a variety of names and titles, rule for me either separately, co-operatively or competitively, in a civilized sort of way making them appear respectable. Their social role is what it has always been - to run things for profit and siphon off the wealth of production, according to the rules of my system. In addition, try to keep morality in check at the same time.

Of the three, none can make any pretense of being morally effective. Organized Government abuses any type of social system whether "Society" or "Corporate." Ecclesiasticism is fractured to the point of unholy conflict and confrontation, and fiscal matters have been reduced to valueless counterfeit. Perhaps Archangels can do it? Under my system, men cannot, nor do I want them to.

CHAPTER 10

SUCH STUFF AS DREAMS ARE MADE OF

The last thing I devised, which added strength to my system and its resistance to social change, was a body of empty concepts woven into its structure by my educators and philosophers. I conjured up these abstractions out of thin air in much the same way I conjured up money and credit. For those who have not studied semantics, "Abstract Concepts" are ideas in the minds of men, which are not something real in nature or the physical world. They exist only in the imagination. The proclivity for people to be beguiled, charmed and deceived by such will-o'-the-wisps is truly amazing! Variations include not getting what you expect, or getting what you do not expect.

This truism is one of the big props of my system. Over the centuries, my philosophers have concocted a large number of these empty symbols to deceive and intrigue the mind. Among them are ecclesiastics, equality, justice, liberty, natural rights, peace etc. Try to perform an experiment to prove the physical existence of any of these in the world of nature, and see how far you get! None of them has tangible existence. For any of them to come to life in the world of human relations, requires a completely opposite system to mine.

To bring it about will take more doing than all the kind hearts and gentle people are capable of mustering, unless they turn to Divine help. The job requires transformation of something that does not exist, into something that does exist. That is, the creation of a New World of human relations, a new and better social system and transition from a low stage of civilization to a higher stage.

Dreamers can dream about natural rights etc., as much as they want. My enemies can never get together on a common base of agreement about their dreams, because the symbols they worship are subject to varying definitions. This keeps the liberals and radicals forever at each other's throats. Students of my society know that to produce goods and services, it conforms to methods of science and technology. These are not abstract concepts but real concepts. They exist in the physical world. However, in the distribution of wealth it produces, and in its laws, customs and institutions, my system ignores the physical and operates in the abstract. This is the stuff nightmares are made of and is no wonder my system jams up every so often. Nonetheless, as long as scarcity lasts, or I can make it last, for fun or for real, my system will last. Scarcity of any kind, natural or artificial, is necessary to the life of my system. This is because when abundance enters the social picture, value disappears. Abundance has no value!

If, as and when, this ever happens, all abstract concepts will also disappear. They will shrink to the "nothing" from which I conjured them. When this occurs, real concepts will enter the social picture. Men will finally realize that the social benefits they have dreamed of for ages never did exist in the world of their dreams but are to be found only in the real concepts of the natural, physical world around them. To put this bluntly, if men want to realize their social dreams of brotherhood, equity and peace on earth, they have to snap out of their nightmare and get busy building a new and better system.

In the meantime, my system and I continue to reign supreme.

CHAPTER 11

ABUNDANCE HAUNTS ME

Of all the real concepts, the one called "abundance for all" haunts me. It makes me shiver every time I hear the Phrase. These words are my death warrant.

That "abundance for all" is a real concept, was shown in 1929 by actual industrial production figures. It was seen that even my system - with all my sabotaging techniques -was able to produce and distribute abundance for all. To kill it, I had to trigger the stock market crash of 1929, crack my whip and reinstate my domination. I was able to out-maneuver 'abundance' at that time but I am afraid it will catch up with me again, in sync with the 63-year cycle, with hiccups in the 7-year and 9-year minor inflation and economic cycles. I will have to plan some more devices in the meantime.

Science and technology got me into the fix. As I look back, I see my troubles began about 1782 A.D. when James Watt invented the first double-action steam engine. I should have put a stop to that development right there and then. Instead, I foolishly welcomed science and technology because their activities promised greater profits. Well, I was right and wrong at the same time. I got greater profits all right, thinking I could keep matters under control. However, both profits and control came under threat. This bad mistake came about this way: The steam engine, science and technology coincided with the advent of peoples' democracy - all at the same time in the latter part of the 18th century. It was the tail end of the thousand-year long moratorium on social change from the Dark Age through the Middle Age. That millennium was the Golden Age of my Private Ownership system of society. During all those blessed centuries, there were very few upsetting thoughts or acts about democracy, equitable distribution, natural rights or over-abundance.

Men were content to work from sun up to sundown for the glory and profit of their masters. Was not the social, economic and political status quo ordained from On High, at the other end of a rainbow, instructed by the Ecclesiastics! Was not everyone who stayed meek and mild, humble, kept his nose to the grindstone and obeyed the law, assured of eternal reward in a life hereafter? The Oligarchs flourished. The few dissenters, who dared stick out their necks, were quickly taken care of in my medieval torture chambers and at the burning stake. I thought it a world without end.

Long success has made me lax. I had forgotten that inside my social system there was a steady increase in knowledge. In the ancient world, knowledge set off to respectable starts in Egypt, Babylon, Greece, Alexandria and Rome until the 'bread and circus' era set in, but the fanatical hordes of Mohammed soon put stop to that! After decadent Rome fell to the barbarians, I froze the social status quo for a thousand years, thinking it was good enough to last forever. However, men have discovered science, technology, physical laws, natural laws and how to mix, match and apply them.

Even my system cannot stop men from putting 2 + 2 together. Change is in the air.

CHAPTER 12

I AM OUTFLANKED

By the time the 18th century had rolled around, the growing body of knowledge had spawned a witch's brew of science, scientific attitude and the devilish ideas of democracy. Many inventions were made and machinery was developed. At first, machines were crude and cumbersome but far more efficient than the age-old methods of human toil and hand tools. Then an unknown enemy of mine discovered the principle that any repetitive motion can be performed better by machine than by man. Thus, the modern factory system was born and my archenemy, technology, came in on the social stage to upset my applecart.

Coincident with development has increased use of energy, derived from sources outside the human body, for power to run the machines and factory systems. The new energy came in the form of steam from coal, oil, gas, and electric power from falling water and turbines. Now, man is able to get energy from the atom, elements and the sun. What next? Conversion of extraneous energy to use it for power with which to do work was revolutionary in human history. Before this, the only source of energy had been the human body supplemented by the bodies of animals, some windmills and water wheels.

During the many-thousands of years of human toil and hand tools, also called the handicraft-agrarian age, the only way to produce more goods and services had been to employ more people (slaves) and work them longer hours. To produce "abundance for all," there were simply not enough people, and total energy input/output was too small. For the average person, his energy output is only one-tenth of one horsepower.

In 1782, the first double acting steam engine of James Watt developed about 40-horse power, or about 400 times the power of one human body. It is easy to see how this tremendous increase in useable power increased the productivity of industry, and some of its social effects. I did not see it at the time. By the time I did, it was too late to stop it. Since then, I have been working hard to counteract the advance in technology by sabotaging or subverting it as much as possible. My big fear is that I am much too late. Science has grown to gargantuan proportions, and my whole social system has become absolutely dependent upon technology and extraneous energy.

I cannot possibly move my system back to the handicraft-agrarian age. The methods of human toil and hand tools could not feed the population of today. The best I can hope for is to revert my system back to some intermediate stage between the handicraft stage and high technology, and freeze it there. Of course, this will involve further corruption of science; technology and democracy, not to mention agitate the human element by putting fear into people about their means of living. Students call this lower stage of civilization "social fascism." But, it is my only hope. If I cannot march my system backward into fascism, then science and democracy will march it forward into a higher stage of culture. This is more certain to happen in the industrial world than anywhere.

CHAPTER 13

CONTRIVED UNREST

All unrest is contrived because science, technology and democracy have expanded so much in the past 80 years, and because of the peculiar ability of my system to adapt itself to expansion. My system has always had the ability to be flexible or inflexible according to the preservation needs of my system.

Scientific and technological change does something to the Private Ownership system that seems to cripple it. That is why I have invented so many abstract concepts to buttress my system. I consider myself to be an artist at creative fraud, and to be the Master Conniver of an incredible hoax. The hoax is fooling all of you, all the time. However, to continue:

At the time of the Industrial Revolution, and since I concocted such beauties as "competition is the life of trade," "Individual Initiative," "Rugged Individualism," "Business Responsibility," "Service Is Our Motto," "Free Enterprise" and the like, the range of abstract concepts has been quite profound. Any debt-merchant, bank or peddler can reel off a whole list of abstract concepts and platitudes for you. They study and apply my rationalizations assiduously without letting them interfere with their pursuit of a fast, amoral, immoral or usurious "buck." Competition may have had something to do with the life of trade in the good old days or early modern capitalism but today is the world of mega-corporatism. Cartels and conglomerates; conspiracies in restraint of trade; high price-fixing and the suppression of competition are the 'orders of the day.' Collusion is the life-blood of trade: Corporate Law supercedes Constitutional Law and the whole system is inside out. Individual initiative and rugged individualism are euphemistic descriptions for skill in avarice and rapacity. And the one called "Business Responsibility" is the joker in the pack. The only responsibility in business is to the enterprise, my system, and to be profitable.

The social costs of business are of no concern to my system of society. Let future generations worry about that sort of stuff. Call it amoral or callous, I don't care. Free enterprise is one of my semantic jokes. There is no such thing in my system, nor can there ever be. What is called free enterprise is nothing more than Private Enterprise for private profit, whether one owner or a roll of owners in a Public, traded company.

Enterprise will never be free until it frees itself to operate equitably, democratically, and for the general welfare of the people. This is anathema to my system.

All my empty concepts are camouflage, helping to conceal its real nature

The Western World is in a state of ferment and unrest. The longer I keep it that way, the better for me. However, in my water, I do not think it will change anyway. Perhaps one day...

CHAPTER 14

DREAMS, JUST DREAMS

When the Political State saw private enterprise expanding into Trusts, oligopolies, oligopsonies, conglomerates, multi-national corporations and cartels, it too, had to expand, modernize and facilitate. So, I cooked up a new set of abstract concepts to help it along. Some of these are "Political democracy," "Governments of law, not of men." "The voice of the people". "The voice of the people is the law of God." "Freedom of the Press." "Freedom from want, fear," et cetera. Any politician can reel off a whole list: This guff is their stock-in-trade.

If you study history, it will be seen that most of these empty concepts came in with the Industrial Revolution in the late 18th century. They are now part and parcel of my standard operating myths. If you examine them closely, you will find they cannot be worn as clothing to keep out the weather. They cannot be built into a roof over your head to keep out the weather. They cannot be used as fuel to keep you warm or mobile, nor can they be eaten as food to nourish the body. Under my system, they exist only as dreams - which are how my system will keep them - dreams just dreams.

My greatest invention, however, at the opening of the Industrial Revolution, was the idea of organized political parties. This method of governance was something new, flirting with democracy. I never needed this device badly enough before to think of it, but with the coming of the democratic concept in the 18th century, I had to have something to counteract and be able to sabotage it from within. Real, staged or trumped-up cross-floor or internal conflict and confrontations are music to my ear. It lets me know all is working to plan. The principal function of the organized political party, which I command, is to operate as an autocracy, plutocracy, democratic fascist regime, or foil, and enable my minority to rule over and control the democratic majority.

There were no organized political parties anywhere in ancient or medieval times. Governance was by means of despot Kings or Queens, Strongmen, Dictators, Tyrants, Priests - the nobility of Church or State, but more subtly by oligarchs of Rich men. Here and there, some tried forms of Assembly fought for the power of the State and governed for a while but were never formally organized to become continuing identities in the modern style.

The modern organized political party does not practice democracy. It is not designed or conceived for the general welfare of all. It is an institution with only one reason for existence - to capture the power of the State and use it for the benefit of the hidden hands behind it. ME.

In fact, they are designed and conceived to prevent governance for the general welfare. This is the way it functions and the true measure of its nature. Almost no one seems able to grasp this reality. But read on....

CHAPTER 15

WILL-O'-THE-WISP

Every bleeding heart and naive starry-eyed reformer seems to think an organized political party is dedicated to the democratic welfare of all the people. This is self-delusion on the grand scale. It is how I keep people gravitated to political parties and in the palm of my hand. If, by some strange magic, an organized movement dedicated to the general benefit of the people could arise, take the power of the State, and resolve all social, economic and political considerations, I would be dead in the water. It has never happened in human history and will never happen, if I can help it. I will invoke all the tools and mechanisms I have outlined before, to make sure it can never take hold.

Putting over this political, democratic myth of organized political parties was one of my great conjuring acts. It confuses Liberals, Tories, Republicans, Radicals and men of goodwill everywhere. They fall for it and constantly dream of bringing about social betterment by means of them. It is like trying to realize peace on earth by means of organized military methods and law. Neither can be achieved because the means used are contrary to the end sought. This always guarantees that the proclaimed ends will never be reached, and can always be deliberately prevented.

Capturing the power of the state and effecting social change for general welfare are, of course, both political problems. However, it does not follow that because the power of the state can be captured by an organized political party, that such a party can realize a general welfare program. Capturing the power of the state by organized political party methods, calls for specific kinds of ethos - integrity, morality, organization and purpose. Effecting social change for the general welfare triggers the opposites.

There is a political way, of course, to capture the power of the state and then effect social change by political methods. It is laid out chapter and verse. However, why should I wise up my enemies? Things are bad enough for my system now. Let them keep chasing the will-o'-the-wisp.

CHAPTER 16

TWO AND TWO MAKES HAY

In case you are feeling I may be a bit too repetitive, it is not because I like to be, nor to convey ego: It is to try to make sure there can be no confusions. This entire book is devoted to a complex range of issues which must be correlated as clearly as possible and deserve clear understanding. I am revealing the components of my system. To be verbose helps to keep it clear in my own mind as I go along.

One of the first effects of the Industrial Revolution was an upsurge in population and cross-pollination that has continued up to the present time. With the Revolution came a parallel revolution in medical science, sanitary engineering and other things. Improved technology reduced the death rate and contributed to the rise in population at the same time. For the first hundred years or so of this, things went pretty well. The advances in technology largely offset the rise in population. In addition, the degree of technological pollution of the natural environment, because of destruction of the natural ecology, had not yet become a concern, much less critically as serious that it is now.

Nowadays, moderations are no longer true. The rapid increase in population, and the abuse of technology by private enterprise, has become a disastrous development for the entire human race. But it is nothing new under my system. Long before the Industrial Revolution, many nations had polluted and destroyed their natural ecology and sanitary safeguards but it was localized or regional. The difference now is that modern technology, when abused, destroys the worldwide natural ecology more quickly, more completely and more irreversibly than was ever possible before. Private Enterprise and Political Postulates are the culprits.

As I survey the world today, I see there is one continent where my system is in danger of eliminating itself, because of its great difficulty in adapting to the social impact of science, technology and democracy. It is North America where these things have developed the furthest. This makes my problem more acute than anywhere else - though the rest of the world is not far behind. You would think my enemies could see through all this and have sense enough to put two and two together. By this, I mean that if the foregoing developments were bad for my system of society, then a social system organized around science, technology and democracy - instead of around Private Corporations in control - would be a working alternate to, and escape from my system.

My opponents never seem to think clearly. Nor will they, if I can continue to befuddle them. A few isolated people have hit on the truth, and I suppose more will as time goes by, but the thing I really have to fear is a practical, democratic-scientific design for a new and better society. Should those who have stumbled on the truth ever come together with the blessing of the general population, it would force matters to a head.

I still have a lot of faith in my old belief that it is impossible to over-estimate the apathy and social stupidity of the average man. Even so, if such a design comes to exist, I can depend upon mass inertia to ignore it as being fanatical. Or can I?

In the past, when things got tough for my system, in any country, I could always start a war and convert the yearning for social change into hatred for some other ethnic or national group. The chief result of war has always been to increase and perpetuate conflict, confrontation, division and hatred. It has always been beneficial to my system. Corporate enterprise, military supply in particular, prospers in times of war and preparation for war, and from the respite periods of peace that follow. Both expand and profit mightily, become fat and powerful out of the killing of their fellow men. The political state also expands. Many a war has led to dictatorship, fascism and visa-versa. Ecclesiasticism and corporate enterprise always play both ends to the middle on both sides. It does not matter much to me, which of these oligarchies wins or loses. My system is strongly entrenched on both sides and their structure survives both in victory and defeat.

Now, my system cannot go to war anymore on a worthwhile scale in any advanced technological culture. Modern science and technology have made wars self-defeating. It's not that I mind the killing, but there are other considerations. World War I was the cause of political revolution and led to the oligarch of Political State Capitalism. I prefer Corporate Capitalism. This is because in the form of Corporate Capitalism the political state is subject to the other two oligarchies. When Political State gets too strong, it controls all political power which, in turn, controls military and police power. There is no telling what ideas political oligarchy might get into its head when it gets a totalitarian monopoly position.

Too much forthright monolithic, dictatorship is bad for my system. I prefer to have the power spread around more widely. I much prefer the amorality, being on the take, betrayals, cunning, deceit, deviousness, elitism, embezzlement, fraud, graft, immorality, patronage and untrustworthiness of Private Corporate Capitalism in collusion with Ecclesiasticism as the nature of the State ... and, as my defense/protection against Democratic State Capitalism.

I am now trying to figure out for myself how to remake two and two to make hay.

CHAPTER 17

TOOLS OF CHANGE

The worst thing about militarism is it is the stuff Corporate Capital profits are made of. Corporate Capital made it a mainstay in the Constitutional "Right to Bear Arms" the worst thing for me, it is waged with the tools of technology - the stuff social change is made from, and then leads to demand for reform to Democratic Capitalism.

The more science and technology are introduced into my system, the more numerous and difficult become social, economic and political problems. Science and technology function everywhere to defeat scarcity and false values. They increase production and productivity and decrease employment. They reduce the number of jobs in fair pay industry and increase them in low pay 'service' occupations. They cut down mass purchase power and make necessary the creation of purchase power by government charity. This means more and more public debt, or more and more taxation: More and greater income demands; and, more and greater differences between the 'haves' and 'have-nots.' They flood the land with goods and services but dry up the free flow of 'Medium of Exchange.' In other words, science and technology make abstract concepts rebound off each other.

Perhaps this is a good time to push for the concept of "Guaranteed Annual Income" instead of pensions, and all the other programs that will have to be invented to offset the range of disruptions pandemic in my system, a "GAI" sufficient to permit a decent minimum standard of living paid either as a mix of cash, kind, credits, vouchers, etc, all of which get circulated, and re-circulated in the economy to allow the wheels of industry, trade and commerce keep on turning. This is a mainstay of Democratic Capitalism, but can do no harm to my system. Actually, it could be a public relations coup.

However, back to the grindstone. When production ability gets too great for its home market - because my triple oligarchies hog too much of the nations income, and the mass of the people cannot buy back what they have produced - corporate enterprise is forced to build plants and expand anywhere, even in backward nations; this is good business, as the legitimate purpose of private corporatism is not to satisfy the needs of people but to make profits for its owners.. How and where being 'open season.'

Overall, I am beginning to feel I have bitten off more than I can chew!

In one country, Russia, an organized political party kicked two members of my triple oligarchy out of the power establishment in a political (not social) Revolution. The two kicked out were private Enterprise and Ecclesiasticism. The Party took over their functions and the idea spread to other countries. Social change promised for any of the general populations was as far away from realization as the Man in the Moon. None of them had gone to the trouble of working out a design for the democratic, socialist society they talked about. Lacking such design, all they could do was continue my system in a modified form, and is what they did. They kicked out Tweedledee and put in Tweedledum.

Political conflict has been the consequence ever since. I wish it would stop!

CHAPTER 18

AND IT'S ALL "LEGAL"

No matter which way I turn there is a problem one way or another. The continual and pressing necessity to create for Corporate Capital ever more debts owing to it, plus the high interest costs of re-loan and compounded interest on old loans, is a philosophy harder and harder to bear. The high expense of new technology that has to be created and introduced adds insult to injury.

My Political State, as strong as he is, can barely hobble along under a growing debt load. I can solve the situation on a temporary basis, but it will resurface times and again. Debt, if you remember, is created out of nothing and can be dissolved back into nothing. Remember the stunt I pulled in Germany after World War II? It was called "runaway inflation of the money system." In that trick, I had my Political State increase the amount of money in circulation until it became greater than the amount of debt outstanding. As I created both the debt and the money to pay it off, it was tit-for-tat because the positions of the two had become reversed. Assets had been created which could not be taken or destroyed. Debt became small in relation to "money" and since money is "legal tender" for all debts, public and private, the debtor can take depreciated "legal tender" to any creditor and pay off his legal debts, legally, at a fraction of the amount incurred by them. The creditor has to accept this depreciated "legal tender" at face value and swallow the fact that it is perfectly legal - "All Legal." I declared it so!

Democratic Capitalism has an eye on this ruse, and will use it against me to start its own regime - Crown debt-free, Creditor debt-free, National debt-free, public debt free and Tax-free. It can do this so very easily without upsetting the people, because The State can distribute its own constitutional money on an exchange basis for my old counterfeit, and value such "Constitutional Money" at par value based upon the value of gross national assets. It amounts to "what you have, you own." As explained before, war is no longer a means of preventing it! Of course, the top dogs in my system, i.e. the minority of Private Ownership Controllers who are the Corporate Capitalists and counterfeit currency creators, will scream bloody murder and have me try every trick in the book to stop it.

Corporate Capitalism manipulates inflation and recession, or permits it to occur, always protecting itself against it. They invest in some form of physical wealth such as art objects, automobiles, antiques, jewels, land, buildings, etc, etc, just before letting inflation loose on the population. They also bale out of over-heated stocks and the speculative stock market. Physical wealth does not deteriorate in intrinsic value. Therefore, when the inflation period is over, they are sitting pretty. The average person cannot do this for various economic reasons imposed on him, so he gets it in the neck from inflation. The trick does clear the debt problem up for a while. However, my system, until totally kicked out, soon restarts to sing the ditty "Here we go Again, Happy as Can Be."

It is nothing but a swindle, of course, but so is my whole system of society for that matter! I will have been beaten at my own game, to my own damn tune.

CHAPTER 19

EXPAND OR COLLAPSE

While science and technology may be contributory force vis-a-vis inflation, they are destructive forces to my system in other ways. As new technology is introduced, man-hours per unit of production are driven lower. This means less productive employment with a consequent decline of total mass purchasing power. The less purchasing power there is, the less demand there is for goods and services. The less demand, the less production; the less production, the less employment and less purchasing power. Therefore, the wheel of the vicious circle goes round and round, going from bad to worse. My system had a preview of this in the Dirty Thirties, and is geared for minor and major cycles of panic impact well into the next century.

It is becoming necessary to create ever more new debt to keep the wheel turning. I am trying to stave things off by allowing outrageous interest rates, but I know it is mumbo-jumbo philosophy. The only one of my oligarchies to benefit from it will be the sector known as "Banks" within the Private Corporate Capital system. The others, social and political oligarchies will bear the brunt. I also have to distribute free purchasing power to those at the bottom of the social pile so they may have a practical standard of living. This helps to forestall social revolt, as most people seem to be satisfied if they get crumbs from the political table. My fear is that those at the top will self-help themselves to excessive shares while withholding or denying fair equity to the poor. I worked this scheme in ancient Rome for over two hundred years. They called it bread and circuses. Centuries later, Marie Antoinette summed it up succinctly in the phrase - "Let them eat cake." All it means is more and more debt, more and more taxes.

Since 1932, the curve of Industrial Production has followed the curve of Federal, State, Provincial, local and private debt like a hound dog follows a fox. Without debt, my system might have collapsed a long time ago. Physical production has risen to much higher levels since 1932, but debt has risen to astronomical heights. It must do, or my system is sunk. Then there is the problem of how to maintain high production to sustain mass purchasing power, without destroying "scarcity and values," thus upholding free flow of "medium of exchange." If I allow high production, I may destroy scarcity, and if I don't, I may destroy my own system of society. If I inflate too much, I may destroy any remaining confidence in my system and at the same time seal my own death warrant. If I do not, the debt balloon may explode in my face.

The last money crisis was after the American Civil War of 1850. It changed the real Constitutional Confederate system and money over to my private system of corporate counterfeit currency, issued by my Federal Reserve Corporation. Watch for other crises in the future.

For the time being, politics of apathy, corporate fatalism and impotence reign supreme. The next reversing of power, at the Ballot Box, without violence, will be when it will transfer control and supply back to Constitutional, National, and Peoples' Democratic Capitalism. My demise will be absolute and final.

CHAPTER 20

REMEDY REQUIEM

I could regale you with more self-explanatory chapters to show that I am not alone." "The Roll Call is Long." "My Voice is Everywhere." "My Arm is Long." "My Ears are to the Ground." "My Eyes See Everything," and "My Nose Smells Dissent or Revolt" but, perhaps having got you already confused through the transcribed presentation of motor-mouth musings, you may be wondering if there can ever be an end to my system?

Yes, there can be an end to my system and control, but it will need a coming together of all who are smart enough to catch on to what has been revealed and do something about it. Change will be hard to bring about unless and until leaders, the media and Joe Public realize that they are dupes, indoctrinated to think and re-act as they do, and hoaxed into accepting bogus conventions as being chapter and verse dogma.

There are several ways to bring about change but some, such as going through the pangs of national bankruptcy or cold-turkey cures, will achieve nothing but misery for everyone: Enforced or voluntary, these methods play right back into my hands for my re-emergence from the ashes. My system is a veritable phoenix.

The other way is to use my own methods and system against me in unilateral action. It can never be done if it is entrusted to Corporate State Capitalism or fascism. However, it can be done when turned over to Democratic State Capitalism that is not republic-socialism: and includes National, Constitutional money creation, supply and distribution.

Actually, all the mechanics, methods, powers and systems required are provided in the Constitution, which I hijacked and turned over to Corporate Capitalism and my oligarchs.

These powers can be retrieved anytime by Congress, Parliament and Legislatures thus enabling rescind and repudiation of misused by-pass and side track "Orders in Council," "Executive Orders" and other dubious instruments that have "legalized" manipulations, ultra-licitum or ultra-vires to best suit or facilitate my desires.

There are many ways of playing me at my own game, to my own damn tune but, as said before, the Ballot Box is the best and non-violent way.

The coming millennium will open the door of opportunity. Towers of gold on feet of clay will topple- and the system with them.

Contents of Creative Fraud III

MARCH OF CRIMES

Our Criminal Civilization

An inside look, examination and over-view of the economic system and protocols as epitomized by the structure in The United States of America, derived from the Illuminati of Europe, as the die cast for worldwide democratic destruction, economic destabilization and Constitutional subversion, under a "NEW WORLD ORDER."

INTRODUCTION

- Chapter 1 Who Owns America?
- Chapter 2 Commerce or Crime?
- Chapter 3 Know the Enemy
- Chapter 4 The Crime of War
- Chapter 5 Social Criminality
- Chapter 6 The Crime of Imperialism
- Chapter 7 The American Empire
- Chapter 8 Mutual Distrust
- Chapter 9 How to Fatten the Kitty
- Chapter 10 The Crime of Profits
- Chapter 11 The Crime of Pollution (How to foul your own nest)
- Chapter 12 Needed, a better social system
- Chapter 13 The Crime of Poverty
- Chapter 14 The Crime of Wealth
- Chapter 15 Progress

INTRODUCTION

The question is asked why money, which is created by man, controls and dictates to staff what he can and cannot do.

It is not money that controls man, but the man who controls money who controls man. It is the system, not the hardware that has man enslaved in bondage to the whim and profit of the self-appointed deictic elite, including pathological misuse and abuse!

The explanation is that society has been apathetic and foolishly allowed a family of private individuals to be the manufacturers, conjurmen and comptrollers of the money supply. This family, and its hierarchy, has beguiled people into accepting a simple protocol: The greater the need for money as a commodity but the shorter its supply to meet those needs, the greater the amount of interest that can be charged in order to reap greater profits." A great protocol for the few at the expense of the many!

The moneychangers' hierarchy, down from the Rothschild's through the Rockefellers and the Trilateral Commission, is a cabal of creative fraud. It 'owns' such institutions as "Bretton Woods", the Bank of England as the manipulator of the sterling bloc, the U.S. Federal Reserve as the manipulator of the gold standard, the I.M.M. (International Money Market) as the mentor of international currency exchange rates, the I.M.F. (International Monetary Fund) and the World Bank as the book-keepers, and the Reserve and Chartered banks throughout the world, all of which are privately owned as lower-order affiliates in the overall network, in spite of public fronts that have been faceted on to them to hide the truth.

The individuals behind the scenes as the hidden hands use and manipulate these organizations as patronized cudgels of subjugation, and as instruments of debt against the masses from who they demand obeisance for fear of being dispossessed: Apostation from governments; Levy from the marketplace, and tribute from the public in the form of usury interest rates.

If society at large, via democratic government of integrity as provided for in the Crown Constitutions such as in Canada, the United Kingdom, the Peoples' Democratic Republic of the United States of America; which constitutions stand in the way of the monetarists and Marxists becoming the outright owners of the nations; reverted to being the creators of money for and on behalf of the State and the people, to be used as a medium of distribution instead of as an instrument of debt; and produced enough of it to supply the primary, human, contemporary needs of the people as well as the public needs of society, there would be no element of 'interest' as a cost factor because the profit load would be removed. Money would flow and re-cycle, and the economy would expand and prosper in proportion to the effort made by the people and the State to improve their lot. Private profit would not be siphoned off to make a deficiency, which has to be made good by ever-more effort and output to gratify the manufacturers of the money itself. There would be no national debt; no taxation; no poor; no handful of controlling manipulators; no fallacious 'shortage' which is the stuff and nonsense of which 'supply and demand' is fabricated, yet nor would there be an unworkable egalitarian, Marxist-socialist society. The analogy is that of the rain which irrigates the land, which creates the rivers, which flow to the sea, to be caught up into the air and return once again as rain is the product of the cycle of life, natural supply, natural growth and natural evolution.

Money, as a man-made commodity, has two categories: (1) Valuable money which is tangible hardware, good for distribution and exchange, and represents full and fair value for goods and service delivered and can be represented by paper or other facilitating means of recording trade and (2) valueless; fiat money which is conjured out of thin air as the figment of imaginative creative fraud. This is ersatz or false money created in anticipation of what may be achieved in the future. It is known as "Reserve" money in the "Reserve System" but is factually only worthless money, classified as "Futures" which has to be paid for in the future, but in the meantime carries the burden of debt as profit for the moneychangers.

Under the "Reserve System," the private manufacturers of money produce 1 tangible dollar and up to 30 fiat dollars as the proportion of money created. They can vary the '30' up or down at their whim, completely independent of government, because past governments gave up constitutional rights over them regarding money-The "Bank of England Act" 1694: The "Federal Reserve Act, 1913; and, the Canadian "Bank Acts of 1955,1967 and 1981" are typical examples. The entire system comes under the umbrella of "Bretton Woods Agreement, 1977" which awarded National Treasury rights to private moneychangers, sans recourse!

The money system is the most incredible hoax in the world. The bigger the con game, and the bigger the lies and deceit issued in connection with and by the owners, the easier it is to foist and fool the people.

Coupled with the need for money to be a medium of distribution instead of being an instrument of debt, natural resources should not come under the unnatural ownership of a few private individuals nor their corporations; they should belong to the masses. Thereby, natural resources could be owned and processed by all, for the benefit of all. The logical sequel of private property 'rights' from sub-surface, surface, and airspace from a fixed depth to a set height, as well as the products created as the result of processing natural resources and distribution, could fit into place. The lore of contract and the laws of society would rely less on tort and default, yet distribution and possession could prevail in accordance with the desire, acumen, ambition and productivity of the individual. The national and personal character-building qualities of individual private enterprise, pride of workmanship, free trade, pride of ownership, trustworthiness, lack of envy, and diminished government would become paramount together with reward for personal effort, honesty, integrity and reliability, as these would be proportionate and equitable. Genuine social needs, human standards and individual earning, as against the parasite's greed and power of a ruling oligarchy would become the standard, whereby none went without or were deprived - except to their choice to be an outcast through deliberate and self-indulged anti-social performance.

The formula put forward in this ad-mix contains:

- (a) Collective self-representation of the people in a Crown Constitution
- (b) Collective Democratic State Capitalism
- (c) Individual, private conservatism
- (d) Liberal socialism
- (e) National sovereignty and solvency
- (f) Displacement of the adversary system in law

And

- (g) The economic fallacy of "supply and demand".

All without undertaking an unworkable, egalitarian, Marxist-socialist society as currently feared in the hands of an omnipotent few.

If this message and instruction is not successful as a warning to implement preventative measures and bring about remedial change in the monetary economic system, it will result in the same actions having to be taken later as the formula for recovery, but the interim cost will be awful.

Chapter 1

OUR CRIMINAL CIVILIZATION

Who Owns America?

"The masters of the government of the United States are the combined capitalists and manufacturers of the United States. It is written over every intimate page of the Records of Congress, it is written all through the History of Conferences at the White House... p.48. The government of the United States at the present is a foster child of the special interests. It is not allowed to have a will of its own... p.49. The truth is we are all caught in a great economic system which is heartless...p.22"

-Woodrow Wilson, 28th President, (1856-1942) in his book THE NEW FREEDOM, Prentice-Hall, N.7. 1961.

Chapter 2

Commerce or Crime?

The More Things Change...

The conditions described by Woodrow Wilson in 1912, fit the picture today. In 1912, the takeover of the U.S. Government by private ownership business was just getting well under way.

Today, that alien control over our political institutions and our society as a whole, is much more complete and effective. The mass media illustrate this for us every day in one form or another by radio, TV and the press.

Many things have changed greatly in our society since 1912. Science and technology have made great advances. The population has just about tripled. Our social-economic-political problems have multiplied many times. Private ownership business has "progressed" from its 1912 stage of many independent small and medium size enterprises, and a few vertical and horizontal "trusts," to its present swollen stage of a gang of powerful and super-rich oligopolies, oligopsonies, giant corporations, octopus conglomerates, world-wide multi-nation companies and international cartels. However, one thing has not changed, except in the intensity of its essence, which is the nature and characteristics of our social system or way of life. It is still the same Old Stone Age system of human relations, but is now much more rapacious, greedy and crafty than it was in 1912.

Thereby hangs our tale. Who Is The Sovereign? Since 1912, the U.S. government has changed a lot. Then, it was at the stage of a rather small political agency, employing less than 400,000 persons (Historical Statistics of the U.S., series p. 62-68). Then, it had less than $1 billion in receipts and expenses yearly. (H.S. series p. 89-98). Then, it had a federal debt of less than $2 billion. (Statistical Abstract of the U.S., 1972 p. 386).

Several states today have a budget larger than that. Today the Federal government is a colossus with a civilian employment of around three million persons. (S.A 1972, p.388). It has receipts of around $600 billion yearly and expenditures of 15 billion or more, than its receipts. (S.A 1972. p.374). In addition, naturally, it has a federal debt of more than $400 billion (S.A., 1972, p.373). God knows what it will be by the end of the century! ($3 trillion?).

One would think that a great and powerful central government like that could control and regulate the private ownership business system that has grown to giant proportions alongside it since 1912. After all, doesn't the government have behind it the consent of the people giving it the sovereign political power, the police power, the military power, the courts and the legal system? Also, is it not the primary function of every government to represent and work for the general welfare of all the people and not for the special welfare of any minority?

That is what it says in the Constitution and that is what is taught in our schools in courses on civics and government. That is what we profess but that is not what we do. The facts show that it is the other way around. Woodrow Wilson noted this on page 48 of THE NEW FREEDOM, as follows:

Suppose you go to Washington and try to get at your government, you will find that while you are politely listened to, the men really consulted are the men who have the biggest stake, the big bankers, the big manufacturers, the big masters of commerce.

As Woodrow Wilson foresaw, the economic power of the peddler class in our society has overcome the political power of representative government and turned it into its "foster child." Who and what is to blame for this subversion of our national state and local governments to private ownership business? Shall we blame the "foster child" for his subservience to the foster parent? That would not be fair, for was not the "foster child" forced to demean himself? Was he not forced to submit to greater pressure in the form of political bribery, fraud of many kinds, corruption and the economic clout of the small minority who "own" and control the social system under which we are all forced to exist?

This minority is able to dictate through this "ownership" and control to our government, and to determine our way of life, i.e., the nature and characteristics of our social system. They exercise effective domination over most of society, including our laws, customs, institutions and the means whereby we live. This makes it clear; the government is not the primary criminal in its relationship with the controlling minority. It is, rather, an accessory after the fact, a secondary mover. Neither, anomalously, is the small minority who pull all the strings of the primary criminal. We have to dig a little deeper for him, or it.

There have always been private ownership businesses and institutions as far back as historical records go. There have always been small minorities who held "ownership" and control over societies. They have always cheated and robbed the bulk of humanity to the best of their ability. They have always corrupted and subverted governments to their own minority interests. With these facts in mind, we now seem to get closer to the main clue as to who, or what, is the arch criminal against the general welfare of man. This clue seems to point straight at the institutions of predatory commerce that corrupt governments and "scatters its withering curses" over humanity.

Chapter 3

KNOW THE ENEMY

However, it is not safe to jump to a conclusion too quickly. Behind bad governments, behind the eternal small "owning" minority, behind the institution of a prostituted system of commerce, lurks the real enemy of the welfare of humanity. This enemy is, and always has been, the nature and characteristics of a social system, designed and structured to make possible the private ownership and control of anything that, in its nature, is public property, i.e., necessary to the collective welfare of man. This means everything necessary to the 'means' whereby we have to live. The natural resources, the technology and economic of production and distribution, and all the science and general knowledge accumulated over the ages. In the very nature of things, these are all public property and belong to all men in common. The proper name for any society that denies these postulates and operates on the opposite idea is that of a "private ownership of system of society."

It was conceived in the Stone Age out of the scheming brains of peddlers and medicine men. It spawns the fraud of private ownership of public property. This fraud begets the greedy, crafty, predatory minority. Because of the system's design, they are able to maneuver themselves into social, economics and political positions of exploitation in the social structure. Once there, they corrupt governments, accumulate wealth and spread the withering curse of poverty with a ruthless hand. The cancer starts with the nature of the social system and spreads through the whole social structure be-knighting the lives and welfare of every human being in society, rich and poor alike.

Let us look at some of the crimes committed by our Stone Age society against the rank and file of humanity. Is our civilization really a criminal civilization, or is that just a crazy phrase out of a demented mind? By a criminal civilization, we mean one that consistently commits social, economic and political crimes against the bulk of its population that inure to the benefit of a small minority. By such crimes, we mean offenses against commonly accepted and professed canons of ethics, morality, human decency and the natural rights of man.

Modern man lays to himself the flattering unction that he is civilized. It is not so. If he were, he would have a civilized social system, for by and large man is a product of his society. A genuine civilization would show, as its chief characteristics, the civilized concepts of cooperation, mutual aid, social justice, economic sufficiency and harmonious human relations. These are notable for their absence in present civilization. A real civilization way of life is ethically, economically and politically impossible under a private ownership system of society. Did not the carpenter say? "Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes or thorns, or figs or thistles? Even so, every good tree bringeth forth good fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit; neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down and cast into the fire." (Matthew, Ch.7, V. 16 to 19).

We cannot possibly list all the crimes of modern society, for that would take a five-foot shelf of books. Therefore, we will select a few of the worst ones. We will try to show how they have robbed and poisoned the lives of most of humanity in all the yesterdays of history; how they do it in all the today's of the modern age; and, how they will continue to undermine the general welfare of man in the many tomorrows still to come. That is, unless we effect a fundamental change for the better in our society and way of life. For any one who is honest with himself and has even a modicum of social intelligence, it is impossible to squirm around this conclusion. In the rest of this story, let's take a fair and square look at war, imperialism, profits and pollution, poverty and wealth.

Chapter 4

THE CRIME OF WAR

Before Sedan

"There in this leafy place quiet he lies, cold, with his sightless face turned to the skies;

'Tis but another dead;

All you can say is said.

"Carry his body hence-Kings must have slaves;

Kings climb to eminence over men's graves;

So this man's eye is dim -

Throw the earth over him."

-Austin Dobson, (1840-1921)

"Between The Crosses Row on Row..."

The foulest crime committed, over the ages, by the private ownership system of society, is that of planned organized slaughter of human beings, by other human beings; called war. The population of either side in wars seldom benefit from the slaughter, but they always pay for it "Blood, sweat and tears" (Churchill). However, the minority in control on the winning side, always benefits. Often the minority in control on both sides' benefits, for each minority has much more in common with the other, than either one has with the underlying population on their own side.

The most fiendish and implacable wars have been waged in the name of God and often in the name of the same God. Moslems and Christians slaughtered each other for centuries over control of their respective holy places. Catholics and Protestants slaughtered each other in France in the 16th century in the name of the same God. In the 17th century, these same two Christian sects again murdered each other wholesale in a widespread European war called the Thirty Years War. In that war, more than a quarter of the population involved was killed, and more than a third of the cultivated lands surrendered to the wilderness. Education disappeared. The incredible sufferings of the German peasantry were remembered for centuries (Columbia Encyclopedia, 1935 Edition, page 1753).

Both sides prayed to the same God in most of these wars but either side has never explained how that God could favor both sides at the same time. Of course, tied in, if not preceded, by all this hypocrisy about God and against God, were prime motives of materialistic greed. The "owning"-controlling minority in every private ownership society, have always operated on the principle that MIGHT makes right. This predatory principle is a normal and natural part of every society. There is ample testimony to this in the history books.

Chapter 5

SOCIAL CRIMINALITY

The social criminality of private ownership systems of society, is not just a recent development of modern capitalism. It has a long and repugnant record, reaching back farther than the writing of the earliest scribes.

Professor Robert Lecky, in the preface to his study of war titled WARFARE, Harper & Roe, N.Y., 1970 says:

"In all of 5500 years of recorded history, there have not been 230 years of peace. In our own country's career, there have not been 20 years in which one of our armed services was not engaged in some military campaign or operation."

Professor Quincy Wright in his classic Study of War, Volume 1, page 654, states that there were about 1040 wars in Europe alone between 1200 A.D. and 1939 A.D. All of us know what war was waged between 1939 and 1945, and about how many millions of people (soldiers and civilians) were slaughtered on both sides. Harry Homewood, News Commentator, in his column in the OAK PARK WORLD, Oak Park, Ill. on 6/18/72 stated that there have been 103 wars (big and little) since 1945. Then, how about all the wars of the ancient world, chiefly the almost ceaseless wars for over 500 years, of the Roman Republic and Empire? Pax Romana was the peace of death. To bring these crimes up to date there was the illegal, arbitrary war in Southeast Asia, with its 46,000 American boys MURDERED. For what? And, whatever is drummed up in the future? As did the monarchial kings of old climb to eminence over men's graves, so do our modern 'Barons' of commerce, finance, politics and militarism climb to eminence over the ruined lives and wrecked bodies of their fellow men. The purpose is the same as it was, 50, 500 and 5,000 years ago. i.e., to maintain or increase the power and wealth of the small minority, who "own" and control society. War on manifest evil may be justified, but war for criminal gain, greed and profit is repugnant. War is big business. It is very good business for the peddlers who own, control, operate it, and permits it as legitimate business in civilization. It creates plenty of jobs, plenty of profits and plenty of deaths. The jobs and profits are the product of death! Three trillion dollars is a lot of jobs, profit and graves - if remains can be found! There are vast amounts of irreplaceable natural resources blasted away, sunk and left to pollute and rot in the oceans. Every single pound of these resources carried with it a fat markup, put on it by the peddlers who sold it for its murderous purpose. Every pound also carried with it something vital stolen out of the lives of the people. General Dwight D. Eisenhower, (1890-1969) our top general against the German Fascists, said in a statement in 1953, according to Jack Anderson's column in the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, 6/29/72: "Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies a theft from those who are hungry and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed."

This is not to say that national self-defense is not justifiable even as individual self-defense is justifiable. It is to say that any society that continually resorts to war as a policy of its ruling group, as a means of conquest or aggrandizement is engaging in socially criminal actions. Such a society is, by simple definition, neither little more nor less than a criminal civilization. How else can you sum it up?

Chapter 6

THE CRIME OF IMPERIALISM

Hail Caesar!

"Why man he doth bestride the narrow world like a colossus; and we petty men walk under his huge legs, and peep about to find ourselves dishonorable graves."

- William Shakespeare, (1564-1616)

Forward, But Where?

What is imperialism? Webster defines it as "The policy, practice or advocacy of seeking to extend the control, dominion or empire of a nation." In that sense, from the time the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock down to today, this policy has been dominant in the growth and development of the U.S.A. Right at the start, the first colonists undertook a discreet form of land robbing and genocide against the Native Americans, who had inhabited North America for thousands of years before the Pilgrims came here. They actually did this even after the Indians had helped them to survive their first few hard years, with food and crop assistance. Later, the SCURVY policy toward the Indians became more direct and brutal, except among the Quaker colonists. "The only good Indian is a dead Indian." The white man took the Indian's land away from him by force, fraud and treachery. That is how the empire of the U.S.A. was launched and we, as a nation, have been faithful of that policy ever since. The white man exported his PRIVATE ownership system of society from Europe, and established it in North America to supersede the non-private ownership systems of society of the American Indians. Not only has the U.S. always been, and is today, an imperialist nation but also is the most effective and efficient imperialist power in the history of the world. To be sure, we have never "owned" any colonies as many of the European powers have. However, old-style colonialism and our latter-day imperialism are two different things. Modern imperialism, as practiced by the U.S.A., is a much more advanced form of exploitation of "backward" nations. It is perpetrated not primarily by force of arms but by force of economic, financial, political and cultural infiltration and natural resource despoilment.

Of course, the old style force of arms is always there in the background ready to be used. Many are the times our social overlords have stamped our liberal rebellions and helped reactionary elements in the THIRD WORLD. We are still doing this, as witness our intrusions into China, Nicaragua, other South American Republics, Lebanon, and The Dominion Republic and still more recently in Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam. Here is what a famous American general, who knew about this from long, first hand experience, had to say on this subject:

"... I spent 33 years and 4 months in active military service as a member of our country's most agile military force, The Marine Corps. I served in all commissioned ranks from a Second Lieutenant to Major General. During that period, I spent most of my time being a high-class muscle man for big business, for Wall Street and for the Bankers. In short, I was a racketeer, a gangster for capitalism.

Thus, I helped make Mexico and especially Tarn Pico safe for American oil interests in 1914. I helped make Haiti and Cuba a decent place for the National City Bank boys to collect revenue in. I helped in the raping of a half dozen Central American Republics for the benefit of Wall Street. The record of racketeering is long. I helped purify Nicaragua for the International Banking House of Brown Brothers in 1909-1912. I brought light to the Dominion Republic for American sugar interest in 1916. In China, in 1927, I helped see to it that the Standard Oil went its way unmolested..."

Major General Smedley Butler, U.S.M.C. (1881-1940), in an article in COMMON SENSE magazine, November 1935.

Chapter 7

THE AMERICAN EMPIRE

The American Empire is worldwide and has no frontiers. It has to be, to support the so-called prosperity of the so-called richest nation upon which the sun ever shone. The Empire has to make sure that South America, Asia, Africa, etc., do not pass under the control of the STATE CAPITALISM of Russia. If the Soviets were to capture the suzerainty of the THIRD WORLD, the U.S.A. would be cut off from vast quantities of raw materials, vital to the maintenance of the American PRIVATE Ownership system of society and the American standards of wasteful consumption and pollution, we fondly call our high standard of living.

The U.S. has only about six percent of the world's population, or about one out of eighteen human beings, on this earth. We hog about one third of the entire earth's raw materials. The U.S. is also short on several foods its people deem necessary (AMERICA'S EMPIRE, by Claude Julienne, Pantheon Books, N.Y., 1971, pp. 228/229). He states that the U.S. is poor in about a dozen of the metals and other raw materials necessary to the operation of its high technology. We have been stockpiling these short materials for years.

For these reasons, the American Empire has to go abroad and exploit weaker nations. It must do this also because in less than 200 years it has wasted too much of its native resources. Finally, it must do this because it is in harmony with the ancient code of the peddler class, to take from the weak and give to the strong, to grab as much out of society as you can get away with, and give back as little as you have to.

Can The Blind Lead the Blind?

The standard excuse of the military-industrial-political complex in the U.S. for maintaining about 400 military bases around the world is that it is necessary to defend the U.S., and guarantee our national security. This really means the security of the private ownership system of society here, not its people. We have wasted many billions on the security of the "owners" of our society but we have spent only a small handful of dollars at home on a scientific, nation-wide system of atom proof shelters for the security of the American people. Even China, with one billion people to take care of, is BUILDING a nation-wide system of production and shelter for its people.

In the U.S.A., the dominant policy seems to be property FIRST and people LAST. The above standard excuse of the Pentagon for its worldwide activities is either a gross stupidity or an outright lie. It has to be one or the other. If it is the latter, it is not even a plausible lie and military mind should never be guilty of it. Even the military should know by this time that there is not now any such thing as a worldwide, monolithic communist conspiracy to impose communism on the rest of the world.

Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia killed that dream years ago. Instead, what there is now is a number of nations seeking alternatives to private capitalism. The U.S. government and many American corporations are now carrying on trade and other relations with several nations. Their excuse is that these nations have a right to determine the nature of their form of government and society. There is good evidence of the priority of profit oriented commercial interest in our national policy on foreign relations. "The dollar knows no nationalities, no political ideologies, and no skin colors." As Calvin Coolidge, 30th President of the U.S. said in a talk before the Society of American Newspaper Editors on 1/17/1925, "The business of America is business."

The second reason the pentagon should not be guilty of lying about the security of the U.S.A., is that our security does not depend on a massive military structure and hundreds of bases all over the world. It does not depend on a superior nuclear-chemical-biological array of weapons. The same reasoning goes for Russia. The national security of both nations depends solely on an assurance that such weapons will never be used, not on piling them up higher and ever higher. No nation on earth has, or can have, any security against such weapons. No nation can attack any other nation with such weapons, without suffering its own certain destruction by the same weapons. At least twenty countries now have these weapons.

Chapter 8

MUTUAL DISTRUST

There is no such a thing as nuclear offense or defense today. All there is or can be is MUTUAL disarmament, mutual deterrence or mutual suicide. A shaky military deterrence is what we have now and at a terrible social cost. We claim this is a crime against America as distinct to "terrorism," (which is a different story!). Since the end of World War II, the U.S. has wasted many billions of dollars and mountainous amounts of natural resources in military buildup, experiments, space and military operations - much of the natural resources coming from the THIRD WORLD. The effect on our home economy and on those of the "backward" nations has been universally bad, costly and wasteful.

In November 1967, the International Organization and Development reported that the U.S.A. has about 700,000 scientists, engineers and technicians working in research and development but that about 60% of them worked for the pentagon, directly or indirectly. This leaves only about 280,000 engaged in civilian research and development. In Western Europe, by contrast, there are about 446,000 scientists, etc. Almost all of them work in civilian capacities (Pentagon Capitalism, by Prof. Seymour Melman, McGraw-Hill Book Co., N.Y., 1972, p. 187). This means that the U.S.A is now falling behind in industrial technology.

In November, 1968 the reliable 5-year McGraw-Hill Inventory of Metal Working Machinery in the U.S revealed that about 64% of the machine tools in the U.S are over 10 years old. We led the world in industrial technology for many years but now we are falling behind. We now have the oldest and most inefficient stock of machine tools of any major industrial nation. This is probably a direct result of the diversion of technology to war purposes. This decline began right after World War II, when the political-industrial-military complex started to hog capital and research skills in its futile quest for national security by national suicide.

Expand or Bust

Of course, all this furthered the expansion of the American Empire, by and for, the benefit of the PRIVATE "owners" of the empire. Arnold Toynbee, English Historian, on page 130 of his WAR AND CIVILIZATION, Oxford University Press 1950 concluded:

Militarism has been by far the commonest cause of the breakdown of civilization during the four or five millenniums, which have witnessed the score or so of breakdowns that are on record up to the present time.

What we actually have in the U.S.A. today is an anti-social alliance, or program of conspiracy, by the professional military class by giant corporations (controlled not by their stockholders but by SELF appointed and self-perpetuating boards of directors. These are made up without any representation of the public or organized labor, but solely "owners-controllers" of other giant corporations and their bound servants, the legal profession); and by big banks and other financial institutions - about 50 big banks control about 150 of the nations largest corporations (THE AMERICAN COPORATION by Richard J. Barber, Dutton, N.Y. 1971, from U.E. News 1/11/71), the dogs and dregs of Wall Street.

Included in this alliance, program or conspiracy, whatever you want to call it, are many of our highly touted universities and a large number of our "right honorable" educators and celebrities. They have sold out to the American PLUTOCRACY because, like the commonest peddler, all they can see is the dollar marks in their bankbooks and not the black marks on their characters as servants of social reaction.

Included with this rabble of social PHILISTINES are a large number of professional politicians. These so-called representatives of the people are also mostly lawyers. They are supposed to represent the people and their interests but, being smart predators, they know by instinct that the gravy lies in representing the minority who "own" and control our society. This is the PLUTOCRACY now running the U.S.A. They are socially stupid, blind and limitlessly greedy. Of course, there are some exceptions to this factual generalization. Here and there, you can find a rich or super-rich man and minority group with some intelligence and consciousness. However, the general picture is one of the same types of social decadence that has wiped out many previous civilizations.

Another good sign of the growing decadence is the growth of American multi-national corporations in recent years. U.S. business investments abroad now approach $100 billion.

Many U.S. products that were formerly well known as household words are now made in foreign countries. This is because of the lower cost of labor there, and consequent fatter profits that can be made from their sales here and elsewhere. These foreign "American made" products can be sold in the U.S. for less than native made goods. This makes it hard on the smaller U.S. manufacturers, who do not have the financial resources to move abroad. It also makes it tough on U.S. labor.

Chapter 9

HOW TO FATTEN THE KITTY

Is this a good way to raise the American standards of living, or is it a good way to raise the American peddlers' profits? In 1971, the U.S. imported 90% of its home radios, 50% of its black and white televisions, 42% of its shoes, 9% of its motorcycles, and 15% of its new automobiles (CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, 1/3/72). The Bureau of Labor Statistics revealed in the same story that this flight of American corporations to cheaper manufacturing areas, has cost American labor about 275,000 jobs in the radio, television, electronics, steel, textile, and shoe fields alone.

U.S. corporations in South Korea, Taiwan, Singapore, Hong Kong, Mexico and Japan pay their assembly line workers from 10 to 30 cents an hour, except in Japan where they pay about $1.00 an hour. In West German American owned plants the pay is a little better, but not much (U.E. News 6/31/70). THE NEW YORK TIMES reported on 5/12/70 that in South Korea the production costs in a Motorola plant there, were one tenth those of an identical plant in Phoenix, Arizona.

The fruits of this in the U.S. are increased and increasing unemployment, lowered standards of living for many, more chaos, waste and rising costs in the welfare field, continuous monetary inflation, mounting national debt, a growing unfavorable balance of trade and a declining state of American industrial technology at home. Along with these direct effects go the subsidiary effects of a steadily rising crime rate, spreading juvenile delinquency, eroding ethnic divisions and conflicts, and a general downgrade of American culture.

Why are so many U.S. corporations merging into conglomerates and forming multi-national companies? There seem to be two main reasons. First, the technological productivity of our industrial system long ago became so great that U.S. consumers could no longer buy back what they had produced, because of the criminally unequal distribution of incomes in the U.S. Naturally, since the sacred purpose of all privately owned businesses is to make as much profit as possible and not to serve the needs of the people, they do what they have to and go where they have to, to realize their sacred purpose.

The other reason is that by running away to foreign countries they can get away from American organized labor, with their catch-up demands for fair standards for work and pay.

The private "owners" of our society are not the least bit interested in encouraging high living standards in the U.S.A. Their chief concern is always for higher profits in the corporate ledger and higher ratings in the Stock Market.

U.S. corporations operating in foreign countries do not have to pay U.S. income taxes on their profits made abroad. In addition, the Foreign Tax Credit Laws permit them to subtract from their U.S. tax bill and taxes paid to foreign governments. To add to this preferential treatment, many U.S. Corporations collect special, valuable blessings here at home. The Corporate Income Tax Laws provides that the tax rate on all profits over $25.00 shall be 48%. However, not even one of the 100 largest corporations paid taxes at that rate in 1971. These 100 giants paid taxes for 1971 at a rate of 26%. Six of these MOLOCHS, with profits exceeding $2 billion, got away with paying only 10%. Five of them paid no taxes at all. And still do not!

Smaller corporations unable to take advantage of tax LOOPHOLES paid at the rate of 41% in 1971. This preference to the giants enables them to stifle competition and take over smaller enterprises. International Telephone and Telegraph Co. paid a 14% tax rate in 1969 when its profits were $360 million. In 1971, with profits of $410 million, I.T.T. paid at the LOW rate of only 5%

As for the 'blessed' few who "own" and control these fat corporations, about 107 really affluent ones, with income over $200,000 in 1971, paid no income taxes at all (Data from a presentation by Rep. Charles A. Vanik (Dem Ohio) before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, as reported in THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS 7/19/72).

Yea Verily (it must be written somewhere) in the Halls of Congress and across the briny deep, is the Promised Land for the U.S PRIVATE Ownership system of society. It is now well on its way to Americanizing many of the non iron- curtain nations and much of the THIRD WORLD. All this wouldn't be bad if it were done on a fair basis, that is, fair to the foreign host countries and fair to the American people, but neither is the case. The worldwide spread of U.S. economics, political, financial and cultural influence and power, is bad for all concerned. It is arousing hate and opposition to America all over the world.

It wastes world resources, subverts the American form of government, downgrades American culture and unfairly exploits peoples and nations who should be helped by a fair reciprocal deal. American civilization has a great deal that is socially valuable to offer the world, but we export the worst in our way of life, i.e., the ethics and codes of the peddler, who now rules the roost in our country. They have prostituted and twisted American culture into something alien to its best nature. They have turned it into a CRIMINAL civilization.

Chapter 10

THE CRIME OF PROFITS-POLLUTION

"Of Thee I Sing"

"This land is your land, this land is my land, from California to the New York Island, from the Redwood Forests to the Gulf Stream Waters, and this land was made for you and me." -Woody Guthrie, American Folk Singer, (1912-1967).

Profit Not, Pollute Not

Profits breed pollution and pollution breeds profits. Like poverty and crime, they go together. In a society such as the PRIVATE ownership system, which all of us now exist under - largely based on the waste, destruction of natural, and human resources. Profits (OUT OF THE LIVES OF PEOPLE) and pollution (OUT OF THE LIFE OF NATURE) is unnatural but inevitable. Both profits and pollution started in North America when the White Man transplanted his private ownership system from the old world to the new, back in the 16th and 17th centuries. Before that neither existed on the American continent.

Colonies in America were initiated and financed by profit seeking corporations who were granted charters by various Kings in the old world, and who arbitrarily claimed the land as their own private property. Only the Indians, if anyone, had a rightful claim to "own" America. They had lived here for thousands of years before the European White Man even knew that there was an America.

The purpose and business of the Colonists, was to extract as fat a profit as possible out of the New Land for the King and the stockholders of the colonial corporations. If the native inhabitants should get in the way of that business (and they did), it would be just too bad for them (and it was).

The first white settlers came heavily armed with a superior handicraft and war technology, and all the ancient legalisms of the old world. They used these weapons to impose their concepts of the sacredness of the private ownership of land and natural resources. The Indians knew nothing about titles, deeds, or "rights" of private ownership. To them these concepts were unthinkable. They did not have communist systems of society; however, they did believe that certain basic gifts of nature belonged to all men in common.

The first colonists arrived in Virginia in 1607 and at Plymouth Rock in 1612. Scarcely two generation later, in 1685, some of the more observant settlers on the Eastern Seaboard remarked on an increase in floods, due to cutting down the forests. Streams that previously had run clear, now run brown with silt" (Karl S. Mickey, in MAN AND THE SOIL, International Harvester Co. 1945, p. 41).

A.R. Hall in EARLY EROSION CONTROL PRACTICES IN VIRGINIA, Dept. of Agriculture Publication No. 252, 1938, reported the following: In 1749, Benjamin Franklin wrote in a letter to Jared Elliot against the stupidity of the farmers in his neighborhood in their farming practices. He said they would not "leave the beaten road of their ancestors" and added, "It will be difficult to persuade them to attempt any improvement"

Witnesses at The Bar

After retiring to his Mount Vernon Estate, George Washington wrote a friend protesting against the land uses leading to erosion. Thomas Jefferson, in 1817 wrote, "Fields were no sooner cleared than washed away."

Professor J.D.B. De Bow, of the University of Louisiana, wrote in INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES OF THE SOUTHERN AND WESTERN STATES, published by De Bow's REVIEW, New Orleans, 1853, pp. 107/110 that it was common to see, "Fields exhausted, washed into gullies and abandoned... soil deteriorated and diminished... more and more exhausted every year."

George P. Marsh, (1801-1882), American Diplomat and Scholar, considered by many Conservationists to be the Father of American Ecology, wrote in an article entitled THE EARTH IS MODIFIED BY HUMAN ACTION, Scribner-Armstrong and Co. N.Y., in 1874 'Man has too long forgotten that the earth was given to him for usufruct (proper use, Ed.) not for consumption (using up), still less for profligate waste. Wherever he (man) plants his foot, the harmonies of nature are turned into discords...' There are parts of Asia Minor, Northern Africa, of Greece and even of Alpine Europe, where the operation brought the face of the earth to desolation almost as complete as the moon.'

D. V. Jacks and R.R. Whyte, in VANISHING LANDS, Doubleday-Doran & Co., N.Y., 1939, p. 215 state that DETERIORATION of the earth's soil was world wide. So, incidentally, is the private ownership system of society. The U.S.A. has about 500 million acres of land suitable for cropping. Of this total, the Dept. of Agriculture reported in publication no. 569 in 1946 that about 3/5ths was eroding too fast, badly damaged by erosion, or ruined by erosion for profitable cropping. This has happened in less that 400 years of the private ownership system on this continent, i.e., between 1607 and 1972. How is that for criminal efficiency in waste and destruction?

It takes nature between 300 and 1000 years to create one inch of top soil. Before the White Man came to North America, with his ancient social system and way of life, the average depth of the top soil in the U.S. was about nine inches. Today it is down to about five inches (National Plant Food Institute in OUR LAND AND ITS CARE, 1957). The land is our most valuable natural resource. Man is said to be a land animal. His natural home is on the surface of the earth. He lives off the land and cannot live without it, yet everywhere, and in all ages, he has done his level best to ruin his own home. Why this suicidal behavior?

Chapter 11

HOW TO FOUL YOUR OWN NEST

The answer lies in the nature, the destructive values, and the unnatural compulsions of his social system. This has always been the same, a system of society wherein the waste and destruction of natural human resources, is rewarded with material success and social acclaim for the exploiter, but deprivation and want for the exploited. Profits and pollution are a natural result of such a system of society. This way of life (way of death), has destroyed the viability of a large part of the earth and contributed directly to the decadence, downfall and disappearance of many earlier civilizations and nations. Our present civilization is many times more vulnerable to this fate than any previous society because of our advanced technology and its ability (when misused as it is now) for purely material considerations to destroy the whole earth. In the past, the ability of man to foul his own living environment was limited by the scarcity of his population and the low efficiency of his handicraft-agrarian methods of production. Since the invention of the steam engine and the rise of modern medical science and sanitary engineering, these limiting conditions have been eliminated. Today, the earth is over populated, and the high state of technology in much of the world, makes possible, and results in, such a monstrous degree of waste and pollution that in the words of George P. Marsh..."would reduce it to such a condition of impoverished productiveness, of shattered surface, of climatic excess, as to threaten the depravation (sic) barbarism and perhaps even extinction of the species (op. cit, p. 43)." That warning was issued almost 100 years ago. Perhaps a handful of scientists and scholars paid some attention to it, but not the "owners" of our social system. "After us the Flood" seems to be their life philosophy. They have continued headlong down their destructive road, deaf and blind to the warnings of science and nature. The only thing they can see clearly is the profit marks in the corporate ledger. Our constant and habitual destruction of the land applies equally to the forests and waters, even to the wide oceans that span the earth. The forests and waters are an integral part of the land, necessary to the survival of man. Cut down too much of the forests and you ruin the land and the whole deadly process is under way. Ruin the land and you destroy its fertility, then you have to load it down with artificial chemicals (as we are doing now) - pesticides and herbicides. That is, you have to force feed it to get crops. You do get crops that way but with this chemical agriculture, you lower the nutritional value of the crops. Then you have started another deadly process.

The dance of death is then on and, as history shows, always proceeds to its grim climax. The lower the nutritional value of your crops falls, the lower falls the health, strength and mental capacity of your people who are forced to eat this hopped up food. Then you have to hop up the people with artificial stimulants, slow them down with weakening depressants, and fill them with all kinds of poisonous drugs to keep them half alive, (as we are doing now). In the final analysis, if you ruin the land you ruin the people who live off the land and the nation they call their home.

This happened to many nations in the past. Franklin D. Roosevelt, 32nd President once said:

The history of every nation is eventually written in the way in which it cares for its land (U.S. Forest service Bulletin, 805, 1966)

However, let us not single out the farmers, large animal ranches also destroy the land by over grazing, especially with sheep. The lumber companies destroy the forest. Nothing is sacred to the peddlers hunting for profits, not even the glorious Redwood trees from thousands of years ago, that reach almost up to the sky. From 2/3rds to 4/5ths of our original forests are now gone, according to various estimates by conservationists and government statisticians. And so it goes. The story has always been the same. Cut and waste, then move, cut and waste repeatedly. Mine the soil for quick cash crops and then hunt for another patch of land to despoil. Grab the richest and easiest to get at minerals first. Use the rivers for sewers to carry away your poisonous wastes. Fill the air with all kinds of dangerous exhausts. Let your industrial filth run off in rivers, lakes and oceans. The whole mess adds up (under this system) to fat profits and high dividends. It also adds up to death for the land, its people and the nation.

Chapter 12

A BETTER SOCIAL SYSTEM IS NEEDED.

A great deal more than patchwork reforms will be needed to change our present waste and destruction of natural and human resources to a wise, humane policy of conservation and use of both. Jacks and Whyte, in their work previously referred to, state on p. 26:;

"If we consider the principal measures, which will have to become basic principles in land utilization if erosion is to be checked and the soil is to recuperate, it will be obvious that they are quite incompatible with a free competitive society."

That hits the nail right on the head. Under a private ownership system of society, it is precisely that central concept of private ownership of things that they are by nature, public things that stands in the way. Remove that false concept and replace it with the true concept that the general welfare of all is, and should be, the central principles of human civilization, and the problems of profits and pollution can all be solved.

Congress recently passed a multi-billion dollar appropriation to clean up the nation's rivers and lakes. That's good, but. The 'but' is that the records of past bills and appropriations indicates that this gesture too, will fund in futility with corporate and municipal evasion of the law and too little or no enforcement. Good laws have been passed, one good one as far back as 75 years ago. All have failed to accomplish what they were suppose to. Doesn't this buttress Woodrow Wilson's statement that our government has become the "Foster Child" of big business and finance? A recent report of the President's Council on Environmental Quality in part that: "...in all types of river basins the concentration of nutrients which euthrophy (age and kill) our lakes is increasing" CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, 8/8/72. Congress purposes but our private ownership system of society disposes.

Many well-intentioned efforts are now being made by honest dedicated individuals and groups to eliminate waste and pollution. They deserve a salute and our cooperation. However, let us not take our eyes off the ball. Let us not chase up any more dead end streets. As long as our present form of society endures and controls our lives, our laws, and our institutions, all these piecemeal efforts to end environmental pollution are doomed to end in the same way as the fabled labors of King Sisyphus in hell.

Sisyphus was a wealthy, greedy King of ancient Corinth. When he died he went straight to hell, as "bad" men are said to do. His majesty, the Devil, considered his case carefully and decided on a proper punishment. He condemned King Sisyphus, for all eternity, to roll a huge boulder up a steep hill. However, he was never allowed to get the stone all the way up for, as he got a godly part of the way up, something always happened so that the stone got out of control and rolled back down the hill. His labors were eternally futile.

That's about the fix we are in under our present system of society on getting rid of profits and pollution. What is needed to solve these two social problems, or crimes, is a social system in which they would be impossible to commit. If we want to get anywhere, we must have a new and better society and way of life. We must have a social order in which all the values, rewards and compulsions are placed on the general welfare of the majority, instead of as now on the private welfare of a minority.

To conceive that man can build a new and better society is not at all fantastic. It is possible and practical. Man has always been shaped and controlled by the two opposing forces of his two environments. These are the forces of his external environment, nature, and the force of his internal environment, his society. Through physical science, he has acquired considerable control over his external environment; but through a lack of social conscience and science, he has never yet been able to get control over his internal environment.

It still is a strong opposing force to his general welfare. It dictates his laws, customs and institutions and these then dictate his general social behavior and way of life. His social environment (Society) makes man what he is today; but it is also true that man makes his social environment what it is today... If this is correct, then it is correct to conclude that man can remake his social environment into whatever form he thinks best for his safety and well-being.

Today there is no lack of knowledge on social science we have mountains of it. This, if applied and combined with our knowledge of physical science, can give us the means with which to remake our internal or social environment (society, social system, and social order) into a strong supporting force for our general welfare.

If we continue to maintain this private ownership system of society, mother earth may be doomed to become a dead planet and the human race an extinct species. Many ecologists are now warning us of what may happen if we do not mend our ways. The best way to do this is to get ourselves a new and better social system. We must get control over our internal environment. Then we may dismiss the indictment that our present social system is but little more than a criminal civilization.

Chapter 13

THE CRIME OF POVERTY

Long, Long ago

"Injustice, suave, erect and unconfined,

Sweeps the wide earth, and tramples

O'er mankind

While prayers to heal her wounds

Move slow behind."

-Homer, Epic Greek Poet, Circa 850 B.C. in the ILIAD

"An Injury to One..."

Everything that is done in any social system is done by, for, or against people. Acts done against people are contrary to the basic purpose of social life; consequently, they are crimes of social injustice. One of the worst of these is the crime of forced poverty, forced upon them by the social order they exist under. In the past, most poverty was forced on people by natural conditions of natural scarcity. In this technological age, poverty is forced upon a large percentage of the people by manipulation and man made conditions.

Seeing from the vantage point of 850 B.C., Homer described conditions in the ancient world, as they were when he lived, and had been for a long time before his time. We now see from the vantage point of 1972 A.D., over 2,800 years after Homer's time. What we see is that conditions are still about the same as they were then, and with far less excuse. In spite of our modern pretensions to being civilized, in spite of all our so-called progress in science, technology and general knowledge, in spite of the fact that we today have more than 5000 years of historical examples and perspective to guide us, we are not yet truly civilized. Social injustice and poverty, its foul offspring, still "Tramples O'er Mankind."

Poverty is totally inexcusable in this modern technological world. The ancients could plead the low productivity of their handicraft-agrarian economies of production and distribution, the low state of their science, technology and general knowledge and their lack of historical examples and perspective. Modern man has no such excuse. In the light of fact and truth, he stands naked with sticky fingers and dirt hands.

Over 40 years ago, the United States was technically able to abolish poverty in an economic study called the National Survey of Potential Product Capacity. This study was financed by the Federal Government and carried out under the supervision of the New York Housing Authority. Harold Loeb and Associates published the results in a book titled THE CHART OF PLENTY, The Viking Press, N.Y., 1935. This study has been totally ignored by most "establishment" scholars and economists but it has never been disproved. It shows that our industrial plant was capable, at that time, of producing and distributing in goods and services an income of about $4,400 a year to every family in the U.S., calculated in 1929 dollars.

This is the nub of our problem. Why is it that with a greatly increased ability to provide a good living for all, and to establish social justice, we cannot do a better job at this than we actually do? Let us see if we can find the answer. Of course, the styles in social injustice have changed over the ages. The injustices of chattel slavery, serfdom and absolute monarchies are no longer in style. Nowadays, the fashions run to wage slavery, economic servitude of many kinds and oligarchies of wealth, politics, business and militarism.

These modern methods of social injustice are far more effective and efficient. After all, in the old days the Master had to feed his slaves rather well and keep them in fair health so they could do a good day's work. The peddlers who run our society have now gotten rid of these handicaps. When the computer says you are too old, weak or sick to produce, out you go to scrounge a miserable and lonely existence outside the economic circle.

Today, many social injustices are considered respectable and are "legalized" and institutionalized. For instance, it is now considered quite proper to extort excessive profits out of any deal, regardless of who or what gets hurt, especially our natural environment. It is considered quite smart to evade, successfully, the spirit of the law while kowtowing to its letter.

It is now common practice to profess on Sunday, while profaning all the rest of the week. Finally, but not the end of a long list, it is considered good policy to praise democracy in public while spitting all over it in private. This attitude and behavior is the code of the peddler, the craft one, who buys and sells the needs of human life for personal profit. This code now rules the roost in our society and dictates most human behavior.

The crimes of war, imperialism, profits and pollution already described are practiced on a worldwide scale in all the so-called "advanced" nations. In addition to the above, we have the crimes of poverty and wealth among others, too numerous to mention here. Within the space we have left let us look at poverty and wealth, those sinister twins of the private ownership system of society. Always With You. With a Gross National Product now approaching $1 trillion a year and a population barely over 200 million there is no physical reason for poverty to exist in this country. Yet it does exist on a considerable scale, estimated by various economists and federal statisticians to range from 1/5th to 1/3rd of the population. To be poor or deprived today means not to have enough money with which to live decently. We all live in this money economy. Everyone has to have cash with which to acquire the necessities and comforts of life.

In 1970, less than five percent of the American people lived on farms (U.S. Statistical Abstract, 1972, p. 572). This small minority might conceivably manage to live off the land without money; however, it would be only on a subsistence basis. Most of today's farmers know little or nothing about the do-it-yourself handicraft methods of living of their ancestors, just a few generations ago. Most of them are outdoor technicians, just as dependant on technology as all the rest of us.

The other 95% of us, who live in urban centers, have to have cash before we can even eat or do much of anything else. This means we have to have a money income. Most of us work for our incomes, one way or another. In addition, a large percentage of us get less income than we have to have, to live decently. Those who do not or cannot work, for various reasons, get even less. The Dept. of Health and Welfare reported in December 1971 that 14.4 million Americans were getting cash relief payments of one kind or another (CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, 12/17/1971).

The 1960 Census Bureau returns showed that about 37% of all American families got less than $5,000 income in 1960 (S.A., 1972, p. 316). In that same year there were about 45 million families in the U.S.A (S.A., 1972, p 37) so evidently, about 16 million families, or about 1/3rd of all American families were in the $5,000 or less class of income that year. That wasn't much income at that time..

To make this a little clearer, in 1960 a four-person family needed an income of $5,148 to maintain a "modest but adequate" standard of living (Dept. of Labor study and Census Bureau returns, as reported in PROGRESS OR POVERTY, 1964, by The Conference for Economic Progress report, p.16, Washington D.C.). That same report shows that a five-person or six-person family needed close to and more than $6,000 a year to live at the same modest standard. By 1970, a four-person urban family needed an income of $6,960 to live at a "low budget" standard of living (S.A, 1972, p. 34). Remember, 95% of all American families live in urban centers.

In 1970, there were about 51 million families in the U.S (S.A, 1972, p. 37). Sixteen percent of them had no liquid assets at all: (Savings and cashable assets). That is about 8 million families out of the 51 million. Of the 84% balance who did have some liquid assets, about 26% had assets of less than $500. That is about 13 million families out of 51 million. Therefore, about YA of all American families in 1970 had liquid assets of less than $500. Add this number to the 8 million families with zero assets and we see there were about 21 million families with no assets or less that $500 to fall back on (S.A., 1972, P. 315.). This adds up to close to half of all the families in the country in 1970.

What if that job terminates, or a serious illness strikes one of those families? How far do zero assets go, or even a paltry $500?

In 1947, there were about 46 million families in the U.S.. (S.A., 1961, p.37). Three fifths of them, or about 21 million families, got only about 34% of the national aggregate income (S.A., 1972, p. 317). In 1969, there were about 50 million families in the U.S (S.A., 1972, p. 36) three fifths of them, or about 30 million families, got only about 35% of the national aggregate income (S.A., 1972, p. 317). In that same year of the 50 million families (black, white and other ethnic families), about 17.7% of white families got less that $5,000 income and 39.7% of black and other families got less than $5,000. Therefore, adding these two together we find that over 57% of all American families got less than $5,000 income in 1969.

The facts seem plain from these official government statistics. There has been no improvement in the equity of income distribution between 1947 and 1969. A heavy load of poverty and deprivation still exists in the "good old U.S.A," right alongside of excessive affluence among the upper middle class, the rich and the super rich.

Prof. Gabriel Kolko of the University of Pennsylvania, wrote in his study titled WEALTH AND POVERTY IN AMERICA, Frederick A. Praegar, NY., 1962, p. 13, that: A radically unequal distribution of income has been characteristic of the American social structure since at least 1910 and despite minor year to year fluctuations in the shares of the income tenths; no significant trend towards income equality has appeared.(Ed. Note: see the table on p.14).

Since in 1969 about 57% of U, S, families, black, white, etc., got less than $5,000 a year (S.S., 1972, p. 316), and since in 1970 a four-person family needed $6,960 to live at a low standard (S.A., 1972, p. 341) (it could not have required much less in 1969), it is clear

Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States had something to say on this point. He wrote as follows, in a letter to Sir Edward Grey on 11/15/1913, as stated in his works, MEMORIAL EDITION. Vol 23, p46: "There is something to be said for government by a great aristocracy that has furnished leaders to the nation in peace and war for generations; even a democrat like myself must admit this, but there is absolutely nothing to be said for government by plutocracy, for government by men very powerful in certain lines and gifted with the 'money touch' but with ideals that in their essence are merely those of glorified pawnbrokers. "...Crown thy Good with Brotherhood..."

President Roosevelt stated the point plainly but there is a great deal in American plutocratic society of beneficence and conducive to the general welfare. It is not because of the plutocrats, but because they cannot prevent it. This is another topic in itself, not the point of this story. It is the subject of the other side of the story - the dirty side. To be accurate, it has to be recognized that society is not totally corrupt. Actually it is a mix of bad and good but with the 'bad' dominating and in control. The good in society grew up over many centuries out of the struggles and sacrifices of many social pioneers and rebels, known and unknown. History tells that these rebels were stamped out times without number. They created for all of us everything that is best in contemporary society. If one stops to think, if there was not so much 'bad' in society there would be no foundation for a new and better society. A good crop cannot be raised in dead soil. The thesis here is that the bad in society must be recognized and pointed out so it can be corrected or eliminated. It is 'bad,' because some men have taken the "right" to exploit all men and natural resources for their own private benefit or via 'corporate profit. If that is not a criminal principle, the thesis falls flat. If that criminal principle was not responsible for our troubles, how else could modern problems have arisen? Where else could they have come from? When society becomes based upon civilized co-operation, coordination, mutual aid, harmonized human relations, and social justice, the problems of health, pollution, poverty and war become history! There is no point in damning the wealthy for being wealthy. Who would not like to be rich? It is a normal reaction to the cutthroat way of life that the present system forces upon us. Insecurity or insufficiencies of one kind or another is a constant presence under present conditions. Need to change political monetary economic philosophy and system, looks us wistfully in the face, to block and reject them, especially when such mechanisms are available and known, is 'bad' negativism beyond comprehension.

Chapter 15

PROGRESS ? "Forward but why and where?

Do we but beat the air With gesture and with word? We who give progress praise,
Do we but mouth a phrase By thoughtless wonder heard?

For life must have its goal,
Must move by planned control
To some high aim-no less-
Of common good; else when
When talk of progress, then
We prate of emptiness."

Author Unknown

Abundance looks us wistfully in the eye. Sufficiency for all is there for distribution. A Greater quantity or up-scale quality is available to whoever deserves, earns, inherits, strives or warrants it, using acceptable, constructive, equitable, fair and honorable ways. There is no need to be short of credit or money for any facility, human need, humane purpose or service.

Neither money nor people are at fault. The private moneymongers, their bankers and their philosophies of debt, are responsible for the political monetary economic conditions that enslave, impoverish and steal away output and prosperity. Change to a philosophy of National money creation and distribution will bring about what is intended, provided for and safeguarded in the Constitution which is constantly being high-jacked, ignored or trashed.

INCREDIBLEHOAX.COM

This book and future updates are available on-line at www.incrediblehoax.com.

Any pages of the web site requiring a password can be accessed with the following login information...

User Name: funny

Password: money

The public section of the web site is a continuation of this book and is updated with new material from time to time. It is recommended that readers who enjoyed this book visit incrediblehoax.com and read up on the continuation material provided free of charge.

If you like this book, please recommend it and the web site to others.